1. DESCRIPTION OF PLAN

The following brief description of Arnold Oil Company of Austin, Inc. Profit Sharing and 401(k) Plan (the "Plan") is provided for general information purposes only. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for complete information.

General - The Plan is a defined contribution plan covering substantially all employees of Arnold Oil Company of Austin, Inc. (the "Company"). It is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"). Principal Life Insurance Company (the "Custodian") is the Plan's custodian. The Plan is administered by the Company and certain officers of the Company act as trustees (the "Trustees") of the Plan.

Eligibility - Employees are eligible to participate in the Plan once they have reached twenty-one years of age and completed twelve consecutive months in which they have at least 1,000 hours of service. Employees eligible to participate in the Plan may enroll beginning the first of the quarter coinciding with or following the date the eligibility requirements are met. To be eligible for the discretionary employer contribution, a participant must have completed at least 1,000 hours of service during the Plan year.

Contributions - A participant may authorize the Company to withhold pre-tax contributions up to the annual limit established by the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). Participants who have attained age fifty before the end of the Plan year are eligible to make catch-up contributions. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined benefit or contribution plans, subject to certain restrictions.

The Company may make a discretionary contribution to be shared on a pro rata basis among all eligible employees based on each participant's eligible compensation compared to total eligible compensation. The Company did not elect to make a discretionary contribution for the Plan year ended September 30, 2010.

Participants direct the investment of contributions into various investment options offered by the Plan.

Participant Accounts - Each participant's account is credited with the participant's contribution and an allocation of the Company's contribution and Plan earnings and may be charged with an allocation of Plan expenses. Allocations are based on participant earnings or account balances, as defined. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account balance.

Vesting - Participants are immediately vested in their voluntary contributions plus actual earnings thereon. Vesting in the Company's contributions plus actual earnings thereon is based on years of credited service. A participant is 100% vested after six years of credited service, which is earned in 20% increments annually beginning after two years of service.

Payment of Benefits - Upon death, disability, attainment of age 59.5, retirement or termination of employment, a participant may elect to receive a lump-sum or installment payments equal to the participant's vested account balance. In addition, a participant may qualify for early retirement upon attainment of age 55 and six years of credited service. Hardship distributions are also permitted from a participant's account and will result in a six-month suspension during which no contributions may be made to the participant's account. The Plan administrator may elect to distribute terminated participants' vested account balances, without the individual participant's consent, which total less than certain maximum thresholds as defined by the Plan.

Forfeitures - Forfeitures of unvested participant account balances are first used to pay administrative expenses and may then be shared on a pro rata basis among all eligible participants based on each participant's eligible compensation compared to total eligible compensation. Forfeitures were not utilized during the year ended September 30, 2010 and there was no forfeiture balance as of September 30, 2010 or 2009.

Notes Receivable from Participants - Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 and up to a maximum of $50,000 reduced by the highest oustanding loan balance over the prior twelve months or 50% of their vested account balance reduced by any outstanding loan balance, whichever is less. Participant notes receivable are secured by the vested balance in the participant's account and bear interest at a reasonable interest rate as determined by the Company. Participants may have only one loan outstanding at a time. Principal and interest are paid ratably through payroll deductions over a period generally not to exceed five years.

Administrative Expenses - The Company may pay certain administrative and operating costs of the Plan at no obligation to the Plan.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting - The Plan's financial statements are reported on the accrual basis of accounting.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition - Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note 3 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Net appreciation includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Notes Receivable from Participants - Notes receivable from participants are measured at the unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but upaid interest. Delinquent notes receivable from participants are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the Plan document.

Benefits Paid to Participants - Benefits are recorded when paid.

Risks and Uncertainties - Financial instruments which potentially subject the Plan to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of investment securities in which the Plan invests. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Accounting Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Plan Termination - Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, participants will become 100% vested in their accounts and distributions will be made as soon as administratively practicable after the Plan terminates.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncement - On September 16, 2010, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") approved for issuance the FASB Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") on Reporting Loans to Participants by Defined Contribution Pension Plans, which is effective for Plan years ending after December 15, 2010, although the FASB ASU allows for early adoption. The standard requires that participant loans be classified as notes receivable for GAAP purposes and measured at the unpaid principal balance plus accrued but unpaid interest. Prior to adoption, participant loans were classified as Plan investments and were subject to the fair value measurement and disclosure requirements of FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures. Adopting this standard eliminates the need to calculate fair values and present disclosures for the participant loans in accordance with FASB ASC 820. The Plan's early adoption of the FASB ASU resulted in a reclassification of the participant loans in the statement of net assets available for benefits as of September 30, 2009 but it had no effect on the Plan's overall financial position or results of operations.

Subsequent Events - The Company has evaluated subsequent events through July 15, 2011, the date the financial statements were available to be issued, and no events have occurred through that date that would impact the financial statements other than the early adoption of the FASB ASU.

3. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Plan follows a framework for measuring fair value, which provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements).

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets; inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; and inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. There are three general valuation techniques that may be used to measure fair value: i) market approach - uses prices generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities; ii) cost approach - uses the amount that currently would be required to replace the service capacity of an asset (replacement cost); and iii) income approach - uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts to present amounts based on current market expectations.

The fair values of investments in pooled separate accounts are determined using the net asset value ("NAV") provided by the administrator of the individual fund. Level 2 pooled separate account assets are valued based on quoted market values of the underlying investments. Level 3 pooled separate account assets (Principal U.S. Property Sep Acct) invest primarily in real estate holdings, which are valued annually by independent appraisers or internally prepared valuations giving consideration to income, cost and sales comparison approaches of estimating property value, and the underlying mortgage loans. Generally, the income approach carries the most weight in the value reconciliation.

The guaranteed interest account is valued at fair value, which is the amount participants would receive currently if they were to withdraw or transfer funds within the Plan prior to their maturity. This fair value represents contract value adjusted to reflect current market interest rates only to the extent such market rates exceed crediting rates.

The Level 2 pooled separate account assets are valued using the market approach and the Level 3 pooled separate account assets and the guaranteed interest account are valued primarily using the income approach. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at September 30, 2010 or 2009. None of the investments have unfunded commitments and certain investments are subject to transfer restrictions whereby only one transfer out is allowed every 30 days. There are no other redemption restrictions at September 30, 2010 except that the Principal U.S. Property Sep Acct was subject to a temporary withdrawal limitation that lifted in March 2011.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although Plan management believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The following table sets forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's investment assets at fair value as of September 30, 2010:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Fair Value

4. INFORMATION CERTIFIED BY THE CUSTODIAN

Unaudited information regarding the Plan's investment assets and notes receivable from participants at September 30, 2010 and 2009, and the related net investment and interest income for the year ended September 30, 2010, was summarized from information prepared by the Custodian of the Plan. The Plan administrator has obtained a certification from the Custodian that such information is complete and accurate. The following table presents the fair values of investments and the notes receivable from participants at September 30, 2010 and 2009. Individual investment funds that represent 5% or more of the Plan's net assets at September 30, 2010 and 2009 are separately identified.

*This investment represented less than 5% of the Plan's net assets at September 30, 2009.

During the year ended September 30, 2010, the Plan earned interest income from its investments totaling $4,602. Interest income earned from notes receivable from participants totaled $4,860 during the year ended September 30, 2010. The net appreciation in fair value of pooled separate accounts (including gains and losses on investments bought, sold, and held during the year) was $153,206 for the year ended September 30, 2010.

5. TAX STATUS

The Company has not applied for a determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") to determine if the Plan is designed in accordance with applicable sections of the IRC. The Plan document is based upon a prototype plan instrument from Principal Life Insurance Company which received an IRS prototype letter dated July 22, 2003. The prototype plan instrument has been updated for legislative and regulatory changes.

The Plan failed the nondiscrimination testing for the Plan years ended September 30, 2001 and 2002. Had the Plan refunded the excess contributions on a timely basis, it would be in compliance with the applicable provisions of the IRC for each year then ended. However, through the date of this report, the excess contributions remain in the Plan's net assets, allocated to the affected participants' accounts. The generally accepted correction method requires the Company to make a qualified non-elective contribution ("QNC") to the non-highly compensated employees for each Plan year in which the Plan failed testing and did not refund the excess contributions on a timely basis. The Company intends to make a QNC for the Plan year ended September 30, 2001 but is presently evaluating whether a QNC will cause undue hardship to the Company for the Plan year ended September 30, 2002 as the QNC could potentially be significant. As a result, the Plan administrator has consulted with an attorney and believes that the IRS would approve a nontraditional correction method whereby the excess contributions are refunded after the initial deadline. Once the Company concludes its analysis, the Plan administrator will either petition the IRS to approve the nontraditional correction method or make a QNC for the Plan year ended September 30, 2002.

The Plan administrator believes that the Plan is designed and is currently being operated in compliance with the applicable provisions of the IRC, except for the treatment of the excess contributions. However, the Plan administrator and Plan attorney believe that the IRS will ultimately approve the proposed correction method. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the Plan's financial statements.

GAAP requires Plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability or asset if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan and has concluded that as of September 30, 2010, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or asset or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2007.

6. PARTY-IN-INTEREST TRANSACTIONS

Certain investments are in pooled separate and general accounts held by the Custodian. Transactions such as these qualify as party-in-interest transactions. The Plan pays both direct and indirect fees to the Custodian for investment management services.
