(A) Description of Plan:

The following description of the Wahl Clipper Corporation 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

1) General

The plan is a defined contribution 401(k) safe harbor plan with profit sharing features. It is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended. The Plan's sponsor has engaged a trustee, Amcore Bank, N.A to assist in the management of the Plan.

2) Eligibility

The plan covers all full-time employees who have completed one year of service and are age twenty-one or older.

3) Contributions

Each year, the participants are allowed to make contributions to the Plan as a percentage of their pretax annual compensation, not to exceed the limitations prescribed by law. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined benefit or defined contribution plans. Participants direct the investment of their contributions into various investment options offered by the Plan. During the plan years, at the option of plan participants, distributions from the Company's terminated defined benefit pension plan were contributed to this Plan. For the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008, participant contributions from the Company's terminated pension plan and other qualified plans totaled $9,890 and $539,023, respectively.

The Company contributes 100% of the first 3% of base compensation and 50% of the next 2% of base compensation that a participant contributed to the plan. The matching Company contribution is invested in the same manner as participant's contributions. The Company may contribute to the Plan additional discretionary amounts as its Board of Directors shall annually determine provided certain restrictions are met. Additional profit sharing amounts may also be contributed at the option of the Company's Board of Directors and is invested in a portfolio of investments as directed by the Company. Contributions are subject to certain limitations.

4) Participants Accounts

Participants each have an account which segregates a separate balance for their salary deferrals, the employer's match on their salary deferrals and any profit sharing contributions. Under the Plan, each participant's accounts are credited with their contributions and allocations of (a) the Company's contribution, and (b) Plan earnings or losses, (c) forfeitures of terminated participants' non-vested accounts and charged with an allocation of administrative expenses.

4) Participants Accounts (continued)

Allocations of the matching company contributions are based on participant contributions while allocations of earnings are based on participant account balances. Allocations of earnings are based on beginning of year account balances. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account.

5) Vesting

Participants are fully vested in their salary deferral and employer matching accounts immediately upon entry to the Plan. Participants are vested in their profit sharing accounts based on years of continuous service. A participant is 100 percent vested in profit sharing accounts after 6 years of credited service.

6) Participant Investment Options

A participant may direct contributions to both their salary deferral and employer matching accounts in one of two investment scenarios. The first investment scenario allows participants to direct all contributions in any one of five asset allocation portfolios. These five asset allocation portfolios include shares of various registered investment companies in ratios designed to achieve specific investment objectives. The second investment scenario allows participants to direct contributions in 5% increments in any one of ten registered investment companies. Participants may change their investment options at any time.

7) Payments of Benefits

On termination of service due to death, disability or retirement, a participant may receive a lump-sum amount equal to the value of the vested interest in his or her accounts. For any account balance less than $5,000, the Plan has the right to distribute the participant's balance in a lump sum without his or her consent.

8) Participant Loans

Participants are allowed to borrow from their salary deferral and employer matching accounts up to a maximum amount equal to the lesser of $50,000 or one-half of the participant's vested benefit. Loan terms range from one to five years. The loans are secured by the balance in the participant's account and bear interest at rates that are commensurate with local prevailing rates as determined by the Plan administrator.

9) Forfeited Accounts

At December 31, 2009 and 2008, forfeited non-vested accounts totaled $26,189 and $8,766, respectively. These accounts are used to reduce future employer contributions.

(B) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

1) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Plan are prepared under the accrual method of accounting.

Investment contracts held by a defined contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the plan. The plan invests in a common collective trust fund (CCTF) which partially invests in benefit-responsive investment contracts. The Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits presents the fair value of the CCTF as well as the adjustment for the CCTF assets attributable to the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. Accordingly, the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits is prepared on a contract value basis.

2) Employer's Contributions Receivable

The employer's contributions receivable at year-end consist of a total amount to be contributed by the employer for the plan year pertaining to the profit sharing provisions of the Plan. The amount will be received in subsequent months.

3) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the plan administrator and the trustee to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein, and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates. The fair values of investments are particularly subject to change in the near-term.

4) Payments of Benefits

Benefits are recorded when paid.

5) Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note I for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

(B) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued):

6) Reclassification

Certain amounts in the 2008 financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the 2009 presentation.

7) Administrative Expenses

The Company generally pays for some of the administrative expenses of the plan such as independent auditor expenses. Trustee and custodial fees are paid by participants as a direct charge against their accounts.

8) Adoption of New Accounting Standards

The Plan adopted guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) with respect to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. This current accounting standard prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in tax returns. The amount recognized is measured as the largest amount of benefit that is more likely than not of being realized upon settlement. The Plan does not expect that the adoption of this standard will have a material effect on its financial position, statements of net assets available for benefits, or statements of changes in net assets available for benefits.

In June 2009, the FASB replaced The Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, with the FASB Accounting Standards Codification (The Codification) as the source of authoritative accounting principles recognized by the FASB to be applied by nongovernmental entities in the preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP. The Codification was effective for financial statements issued for periods ending after September 15, 2009.

(C) Plan Termination:

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, participants will become 100 percent vested in their accounts.

(D) Tax Status:

The Plan has adopted a prototype plan document. The Internal Revenue Service has determined and informed the Company by letters that the 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan and related trust accounts were designed in accordance with applicable sections of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). Although the Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letters, the Plan administrator and the Plan's tax counsel believe that the Plan is designed and is currently being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC.

(E) Related-Party Transactions:

Certain Plan investments are shares of registered investment companies managed by Amcore Bank, N.A.. Amcore Bank, N.A. is the trustee as defined by the Plan and, therefore, these transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions. Service fees paid by the Plan to Amcore Bank, N.A. amounted to $189,246 and $170,497 for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

(F) Non-Participant-Directed Investments:

(G) Risks and Uncertainties:

The plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits.

(H) Information Prepared and Certified by the Trustee (Unaudited):

(I) Fair Value Measurements:

Current accounting standards establish a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of fair value hierarchy, as described under current accounting standards, are as follows:

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access.

Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology include: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets; inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; or inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is as description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2009 and 2008.

Corporate debt instruments and U.S. government securities: Valued at the closing price reported on the active market on which the individual securities are traded.

Registered investment companies: Valued at the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Plan at year end based on quoted market prices for identical or similar assets.

Common collective trust fund: The Plan's interest in the common collective investment fund is valued based on information reported by the investment advisor using the audited financial statements of the common collective investment fund at year end.

The proceeding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.
