Your group policy anniversary was July 1, 2010. Most insured welfare benefit plans of 100 or more plan participants are required to file Form 5500 with the Department of Labor. The filing of the form satisfies a portion of ERISA reporting and disclosure requirements.

In order to complete the filing, Schedule A (Form 5500) is needed. We've enclosed your Schedule A Insurance Information worksheet for the period July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010 to assist you with the filing. Please review your plan for filing implications.

Further information on Form 5500 can be viewed at www.dol.gov/ebsa. As of January 1, 2010, the Department of Labor requires most filings to be submitted electronically. To electronically file your Form 5500, see www.efast.dol.gov. Additional help with EFAST can be obtained by calling the EFAST help line at 1-866-GO-EFAST (1-866-463-3278).

Thank you for selecting Principal Life Insurance Company for your insurance needs. If you have questions about the enclosed information, please contact me at the number listed below.

Dear Valued Customer:

The enclosed report provides some important information regarding your group insurance policy for the recently completed policy year. This information includes, among other things, total premiums paid, as well as compensation paid to agents or brokers in connection with your policy.

If your policy is issued in connection with an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), then you will find this information useful in preparing the ERISA annual report (Form 5500). Please contact your attorney or benefits consultant if you have questions regarding the applicability of ERISA to your plan, Form 5500, or other requirements.

If your policy is not subject to ERISA, then we are providing this information as a service, for your use in the management of your benefit plan. Our goal is to provide the highest degree of service to our customers, and we are committed to providing this important information to you.

This information may include an entry which shows other compensation received by your broker from CIGNA Group Insurance, in addition to commissions. CIGNA Group Insurance companies offer programs under which agents and brokers can qualify for additional compensation, based on meeting new sales and persistency goals, for providing our insurance companies with market intelligence, product and service feedback, and other services that enable us to conduct our business more effectively. For plans subject to ERISA and required to file Form 5500, the U.S. Department of Labor has advised that such payments must be reported on Schedule A of Form 5500. Thus, if your broker received a payment during the policy year under that program, a portion (equal to the amount, which was based on premiums or commissions, that the program generated with respect to the policy) has been allocated and is included with the Schedule A information that is enclosed. While this compensation has been, for this purpose, allocated to specific policies, it is funded from our general overhead for all policies, regardless of whether a broker participates in these agreements. Note: these payments, where applicable, are labeled as overrides. If a zero dollar figure is shown, it means that no such payment was paid to your broker during the policy year.

Your agent or broker may also have participated, at the insurance company's expense, in producer events sponsored by our insurance companies during which information concerning our products and services was exchanged. Please contact your agent or broker if you would like specific information about their participation in these programs.

CIGNA Group Insurance has a longstanding commitment to our customers to deliver the highest levels of quality service. Millions of individuals continue to rely on CIGNA Group Insurance for the insurance protection they need. We value the trust our customers place in us, and unwaveringly pledge to adhere to ethical business standards.
