Occupational Injury Plan (the "Plan"), which comprise the statements of benefit obligations and net assets available for benefits as of August 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related statements of changes in benefit obligations and net assets available for benefits for the year ended August 31, 2013, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of the Plan as of August 31, 2013 and 2012, and the changes in its financial status for the year ended August 31, 2013, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Occupational Injury Plan

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Description of Plan

The following description of Beldon Roofing & Remodeling Co. Occupational Injury Plan (the "Plan") provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General

The Plan provides benefits covering employees of participating corporations who are members of the company's controlled group of corporations (collectively, the "Company"). Covered employees are those who have signed an Election of Benefits, Release, Waiver, and Indemnity Arbitration Agreement. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"). Employees are eligible on the first day of employment.

Plan Amendment

Effective July 1, 2013, the Plan became fully insured for workers' compensation injuries. Before this date, the Plan was self-insured.

Plan Benefits

The Plan provides for the payment of health, short- and long-term disability, accidental death and dismemberment, and life insurance premiums for covered employees. If a work-related injury occurred before June 30, 2013, the Plan provides for the reimbursement of any insurance co-pays, premiums, or other expenses incurred by the employee to treat the injury. In addition, the injured worker is guaranteed future weekly wages based on provisions in the Plan document. Employees may elect optional coverage for dependents. Employees are responsible for the premiums related to this coverage.

Short- and Long-Term Disability

An employee who is disabled as the result of an on-the-job injury that occurred before June 30, 2013 will receive short-term disability benefits equal to 80% of current weekly wages, based on 40 hours, up to a maximum of $750 per week for a period up to 52 weeks. If an employee is not able to work for greater than 365 days, the Plan will pay the employee a monthly benefit until such time the employee turns 65 years old or has returned to work. The monthly benefit shall be 75% of the employee's wages, up to a maximum of $5,000 per month. Effective July 1, 2013, the Plan became fully insured for short- and long-term disability.

1. Description of Plan (continued)

Self-insured Benefits

Health benefits are self-insured. The claims for self-insured benefits (other than short-term disability) are processed by the Plan's third-party claims processors under administrative services only arrangements. The claims processors pay claims directly to or on behalf of participants and are then reimbursed by either the Plan's VEBA trust or the general assets of the Company. Despite the Plan's utilization of third-party claim's processors, ultimate responsibility for payments to providers and participants is retained by the Plan.

Death and Dismemberment

If an employee is killed in an on-the-job accident, the Plan will pay the employee's beneficiaries $300,000. The payments will be made in two equal installments. The first $150,000 will be paid within a reasonable time after the employee's death. The second installment of $150,000 will be paid on the first anniversary of the death. In addition, a life insurance benefit of $65,000 will be paid. A portion of this payment is made in the event of dismemberment.

Contributions

The Plan agreement provides that the participating corporations make contributions on behalf of their covered employees in amounts sufficient to permit the Plan to remit premium payments to independent disability and life insurers. Payments from the Plan consist of the payment of benefits to eligible employees by the insurers, at such time and in such manner as set forth in the insurance policies, in accordance with the terms of the Plan. In addition to the above corporate employer contributions, the participating corporate employers pay from their general assets amounts sufficient to cover health claims and an eligible employee's initial 52-week short-term disability and for amounts not paid by the Plan's insurers. Employee contributions are required for optional medical coverage elected for dependents.

Expenses of the Plan

Plan fees and expenses, including fees and expenses connected with providing administrative services by external service providers, are paid from Plan assets.

Subsequent Events

The Plan has evaluated subsequent events through June 6, 2014, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Plan administrator to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets; liabilities; benefit obligations and changes therein; claims incurred, but not reported; claims payable; and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Plan are prepared under the accrual method of accounting.

Plan Liabilities

Claims incurred, but not reported represent future benefits that are attributed to employee service rendered or to health and work related injuries that occurred before August 31 of each year. The liability is estimated using historical data supplied by the Plan's administrator. The liability for short- and long-term disability payments is estimated based on the employee's salary at the time of injury, the number of years the employee has before reaching age 65, and the estimated amount of disability insurance to be collected by the Plan administrator. These amounts are discounted over the estimated time period the payments will occur. The Plan's trustees believe the liability for claims incurred, but not reported is adequate to cover the ultimate claims, but there can be no assurance the ultimate liabilities will not exceed such estimates. Any liabilities in excess of assets will be covered by future employer contributions from participating companies. These amounts have been recorded as a receivable in the accompanying financial statements.

The significant assumptions used in the long-term disability estimate as of August 31, 2013 and 2012 were a) assumed retirement age was 65 and b) a 3.25% discount rate.

Payment of Benefits

Benefits are recorded when paid.

Stop-Loss Policy

The Plan is covered under an aggregate and specific excess reinsurance policy. This policy pays 100% of the claims in excess of $100,000 per person, per year, up to a maximum amount of $1,000,000 per person, per lifetime and an aggregate annual deductible, which is equal to the sum of the number of covered billing units each month times an applicable factor.

3. Tax Status

The VEBA trust that funds certain benefits of the Plan received an exemption letter from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") dated June 28, 1994, stating that the trust is tax-exempt under the provisions of Section 501(c)9 of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). However, as a result of the Plan's funding policy, from time-to-time, the trust may be subject to income taxes. No federal or state income taxes have been recorded in 2013 for taxable unrelated business income.

In addition, the Plan and the trust are required to operate in conformity with the IRC to maintain the tax-exempt status of the trust. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC and, therefore, believes the related trust is tax-exempt.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require Plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if it has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2009.

4. Benefit Obligations

The Plan sponsor funds the Plan with monthly employer contributions, plus employee contributions for optional coverage elected and expense reimbursements. In the event of a Plan deficit, the Plan sponsor intends to make sufficient contributions to fund benefits as they become payable.

The following tables present the components of the Plan's benefit obligations and the related changes in the Plan's benefit obligations as of and for the years ended August 31, 2013 and 2012.

Benefit Obligations

	August 31,
	2013	2012
Total benefit obligations	$ 513,255	$ 392,535

4. Benefit Obligations (continued)

Claims and insurance premiums paid	(1,875,156)	(2,371,638)
Benefit obligations at end of year	$ 513,255	$ 392,535

5. Risks and Uncertainties

The benefit obligations are reported based on certain assumptions, which are subject to change. Due to uncertainties inherent in the estimations and assumptions process, it is at least reasonably possible changes in estimates and assumptions in the near term would be material to the financial statements.

6. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contribution at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. Upon termination, the assets then remaining shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the Plan then in effect and shall be used, until exhausted, to pay benefits to employees in order of their entitlement.

7. Transactions with Parties-in-Interest

The Plan sponsor provides certain accounting and administrative services to the Plan for which no fees are charged.

8. Plan Administration

The Plan sponsor has responsibilities for administering the Plan and for the management and control of the assets in the trust.
