SULPHUR SPRINGS, TEXAS
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2014

A. DESCRIPTION OF PLAN

The following description of the GSC Enterprises, Inc. (the Company) 401(k) Plan (the Plan), provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

1. General The GSC Enterprises, Inc. 401(k) Plan is a defined contribution plan covering qualifying employees of the Company. The plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) and the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), as amended.

2. Plan Trustee Ascensus, Inc. (Ascensus) is the record keeper and Ascensus Trust Company (Ascensus Trust) is the trustee of the Plan.

3. Eligibility Beginning January 1, 2014, the Plan was amended to allow employees at least age 21 and with 90 days of service to participate in the Plan. Employee eligibility prior to that date was to be at least age 21 with one year of service. Employees may make their participation effective on the first day of the next quarterly enrollment period subsequent to their meeting these eligibility requirements.

   Participation in the Plan shall cease upon termination of the participant's employment.

4. Contributions Participants may contribute up to 10% of their eligible annual compensation to the Plan, subject to the annual Federal limit of $17,500 in 2014. Eligible participants age 50 or over may make additional catch-up contributions up to the statutory limit of $5,500 in 2014. Effective January 1, 2014, all newly eligible participants hired after January 1, 2014 are automatically enrolled at a 3% contribution rate which may be changed at their discretion to 0% if they choose not to contribute to the Plan.

   The Company provides a discretionary annual matching contribution remitted with participant contributions during the plan year. During 2014, the discretionary match was 50% of the first 6% of each participant's deferral contribution to the Plan. These contributions are determined on an annual basis by the Board of Directors.

   Combined Company and participant contributions may not exceed $52,000 in 2014.

5. Vesting Participants are immediately vested in their voluntary and employer contributions plus actual earnings thereon.

6. Participants' Accounts A participant's account is credited with the participant's contributions and allocations of Company matching contributions and Plan earnings. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account balance. Vested accounts of participants who had terminated employment with the Company totaled $3,164,433 at December 31, 2014.

7. Payment of Benefits Upon termination of service due to death, disability, retirement or separation, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum distribution or installment payments under various options. In the event of death of the participant, the beneficiary shall receive a lump sum distribution. Lump sum distributions are allocated on all accounts of terminated participants that are less than $1,000. The participant or designated beneficiary is entitled to receive benefits equal to the vested balance in the participant's account.

8. Forfeited Accounts Forfeited accounts are used to reduce employee matching contributions or Plan expenses. Since participants are immediately vested in contributions to their account, there are no additional forfeited balances related to participant terminations. At December 31, 2014, remaining forfeited nonvested accounts related to prior year Company matching overpayments, including earnings, were $73.

9. Investment Options Upon enrollment in the Plan, a participant can direct their contributions in whole percent increments in any of the available investment options, including 31 mutual funds and one stable value common collective trust fund. Participants that do not make investment selections have their contributions invested in the Plan's default investment option which is a target retirement fund based on the participant's age. Employer matching contributions are invested in the same investment options and ratios as participant contributions.

10. Notes Receivable from Participants Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 and up to a maximum equal to the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of their vested account balance. The maximum loan term is five years for general purpose loans but can be longer for housing loans. The loans are secured by the balance in the participant's account and bear interest at prime plus 2% (at December 31, 2014, interest rates for all outstanding loans were 5.25%). Principal and interest are repaid ratably through periodic payroll deductions. Outstanding loan balances are deemed distributed to the participants 90 days after termination of employment.

11. Hardship Distributions Participants may receive hardship distributions from their elected deferrals, plus earnings thereon, if they meet the Plan's and IRC's definition of having an immediate and serious financial need and have previously obtained all other available distributions.

B. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Basis of Accounting The accompanying financial statements have been prepared under the accrual method of accounting in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in the United States of America (GAAP)

   One of the Plan's investment options is the Wilmington Trust Retirement and Institutional Services ("WTRIS") Company Collective Investment Trust II Galliard Retirement Income Fund, a common collective trust stable value fund ("SVF"), as described in Note E, which holds various investment contracts. Investment contracts are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the plan. The Statements of Net Assets Available for Benefits presents the fair value of the SVF as well as the adjustment of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits is prepared on a contract value basis.

2. Management Estimates Preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Contributions and Contribution Receivables Contributions are recorded on the accrual method of accounting. Contribution receivables are obligations arising from amounts owed to the Plan from participants or the Company.

4. Payment of Benefits Benefits are recorded when paid. Material excess 401(k) contributions unpaid at year-end are recorded as a payable. Excess contributions arise to comply with discrimination testing in accordance with IRC requirements.

5. Loans to Participants Notes receivable from participants are reported at their unpaid principal balance, plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Interest is recognized based on the underlying interest rate and outstanding balance of the note receivable.

6. Expenses of the Plan The Trustee is responsible for both the management and record keeping of the Plan's assets. Trustee administrative expenses, fees for the administration of distributions and participant loans, and investment advisory service fees are allocated or charged to specific participants' accounts and are included as a component of the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits.

7. Risks and Uncertainties The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits.

8. Investment Valuation and Income Recognition Investments held by the Plan are stated at fair value, except for the SVF which is recorded at fair value and adjusted to contract value. Fair value of a financial instrument is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded as earned. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

9. Accounting Standards Codification Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 820, Fair Value Measurement and Disclosures, ("ASC 820"), as amended, established a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

   Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3 Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable

The fair value measurement level for an asset or liability within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The Plan's policy is to transfer investments between the levels of the fair value hierarchy at the beginning of the year based upon changes to observable inputs that are significant to the overall fair value measurements.

C. INVESTMENTS

The Plan's investments are held by a management trust company. The following table presents the fair value of investments and investment income which is included in the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedule, and was obtained from data that has been prepared and certified to as complete and accurate by the trustee. Investments that represent 5% or more of the Plan's net assets are separately identified.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2014.

Mutual funds held by the Plan are open-ended mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, actively traded and valued at the daily closing net asset value ("NAV") as reported by the investment manager. All of the Plan's mutual fund investments are classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

The investment in the SVF is valued at NAV as a practical expedient as determined by the trustee based on the fair value of the respective underlying securities held less any liabilities. The Plan's investment in the SVF is classified with Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Participants can readily redeem mutual fund shares and, generally, units of the SVF without notice. Retirement plans are required to provide 12 months advance notice prior to redemption of SVF units, other than for permitted participant withdrawals. The notice period may be shortened or waived by the SVF trustee in its sole discretion.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

There were no transfers between the fair value hierarchy levels during 2014.

E. INVESTMENT IN SVF

The SVF is deemed to be fully benefit-responsive. The investment objective of the SVF is to maximize current long term growth and to maintain principal stability for participant initiated transactions and withdrawals allowed under the Plan. However, the SVF does not guarantee that it will achieve its investment objective. The SVF invests principally in an underlying stable value fund whose underlying investments include a diversified portfolio of guaranteed, structured, synthetic and other investment contracts issued by insurance companies, banks and other issuers, as well as the securities supporting such contracts, separate accounts and other similar financial instruments. SVF investments are valued at fair value and adjusted to contract value to the extent such investments and related contracts are deemed to be fully benefit responsive. Contract value is determined at the close of each trading day based on the underlying assets owned by the SVF.

The beneficial interest of each participant in the net assets of the SVF is represented by units. Units are issued and redeemed at the net asset value determined daily based upon the value of the underlying investments. Net investment income of the SVF is credited to participant accounts through an investment yield (crediting rate) determined by the trustee and reset quarterly based on the performance of the underlying investments.

Participant initiated transactions allowed by the Plan typically include withdrawals for benefits, loans or transfers to noncompeting investments within the Plan. All other are paid at the lower of contract value or market value of the underlying investments. Such events primarily include the following:

- Failure of the Plan or related trust to qualify for exemption from federal income taxes or any required prohibited transaction under ERISA
- Failure to provide proper notice by the Plan sponsor of withdrawal from the SVF
- Failure to meet a 90 day requirement for participant withdrawals out of the SVF for the purpose of investment into a competing fund

The Plan administrator does not believe the occurrence of any such event, which would limit the ability of the SVF or Plan to transact at contract value with participants, is probable.

In addition to the limitations noted above, issuers of investment contracts have certain rights to terminate a contract and settle at an amount which differs from contract value. For example, certain breaches by the SVF of its obligations, representations or warranties under the terms of an investment contract can result in its termination at market value, which may differ from contract value. Investment contracts may also provide for termination with no payment obligation from the issuer if the performance of the contract constitutes a prohibited transaction under ERISA or other applicable law. Guaranteed investment contracts ("GIC") may also provide issuers with the right to reduce contract value in the event an underlying security suffers a credit event or the right to terminate the contract in the event certain investment guidelines are materially breached and not cured.

There is no guarantee that the SVF will always be able to have GICs in place with respect to its fixed income securities. For example, a GIC issuer may suffer a bankruptcy or other significant credit event that causes the SVF to no longer be permitted to utilize contract value for such GIC. In the event a replacement GIC from another issuer cannot be secured, the SVF will have to recognize currently the fair value of certain assets. These values may be less than contract value and could result in a loss of principal and/or reduction in earnings with respect to unit holders' investment in the SVF. The SVF mitigates these risks by investing only in high quality assets and focusing on very broad diversification of the underlying securities.

Average Yields, December 31,	2014	2013
SVF total return	1.15%	1.51%
Yield credited to participants	1.16%	1.44%

F. RELATED PARTIES

The Plan sponsor, GSC Enterprises, Inc., absorbs certain general and administrative expenses for the Plan.

G. PLAN TERMINATION

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provision of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, participants will receive 100% of their account balance.

H. TAX STATUS

The Plan obtained its latest determination letter on January 13, 2004, in which the Internal Revenue Service stated that the Plan, as then designed, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. However, the Plan administrator and the Plan's tax counsel believe that the Plan is currently designed and being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the Plan's financial statements.

The Plan's management has analyzed the tax position taken by the Plan and has concluded that as of December 31, 2014, there were no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to audit by taxing jurisdictions. However, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan's management believes the Plan is no longer subject to audit for plan years prior to the 2011 plan year.

6. Participants' Accounts A participant's account is credited with the participant's contributions and allocations of Company matching contributions and Plan earnings. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account balance. Vested accounts of participants who had terminated employment with the Company totaled $3,164,433 at December 31, 2014.

7. Payment of Benefits Upon termination of service due to death, disability, retirement or separation, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum distribution or installment payments under various options. In the event of death of the participant, the beneficiary shall receive a lump sum distribution. Lump sum distributions are allocated on all accounts of terminated participants that are less than $1,000. The participant or designated beneficiary is entitled to receive benefits equal to the vested balance in the participant's account.

8. Forfeited Accounts Forfeited accounts are used to reduce employee matching contributions or Plan expenses. Since participants are immediately vested in contributions to their account, there are no additional forfeited balances related to participant terminations. At December 31, 2014, remaining forfeited nonvested accounts related to prior year Company matching overpayments, including earnings, were $73.

9. Investment Options Upon enrollment in the Plan, a participant can direct their contributions in whole percent increments in any of the available investment options, including 31 mutual funds and one stable value common collective trust fund. Participants that do not make investment selections have their contributions invested in the Plan's default investment option which is a target retirement fund based on the participant's age. Employer matching contributions are invested in the same investment options and ratios as participant contributions.

10. Notes Receivable from Participants Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 and up to a maximum equal to the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of their vested account balance. The maximum loan term is five years for general purpose loans but can be longer for housing loans. The loans are secured by the balance in the participant's account and bear interest at prime plus 2% (at December 31, 2014, interest rates for all outstanding loans were 5.25%). Principal and interest are repaid ratably through periodic payroll deductions. Outstanding loan balances are deemed distributed to the participants 90 days after termination of employment.

11. Hardship Distributions Participants may receive hardship distributions from their elected deferrals, plus earnings thereon, if they meet the Plan's and IRC's definition of having an immediate and serious financial need and have previously obtained all other available distributions.

B. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Basis of Accounting The accompanying financial statements have been prepared under the accrual method of accounting in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in the United States of America (GAAP)

   One of the Plan's investment options is the Wilmington Trust Retirement and Institutional Services ("WTRIS") Company Collective Investment Trust II Galliard Retirement Income Fund, a common collective trust stable value fund ("SVF"), as described in Note E, which holds various investment contracts. Investment contracts are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the plan. The Statements of Net Assets Available for Benefits presents the fair value of the SVF as well as the adjustment of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits is prepared on a contract value basis.

2. Management Estimates Preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Contributions and Contribution Receivables Contributions are recorded on the accrual method of accounting. Contribution receivables are obligations arising from amounts owed to the Plan from participants or the Company.

4. Payment of Benefits Benefits are recorded when paid. Material excess 401(k) contributions unpaid at year-end are recorded as a payable. Excess contributions arise to comply with discrimination testing in accordance with IRC requirements.

5. Loans to Participants Notes receivable from participants are reported at their unpaid principal balance, plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Interest is recognized based on the underlying interest rate and outstanding balance of the note receivable.

6. Expenses of the Plan The Trustee is responsible for both the management and record keeping of the Plan's assets. Trustee administrative expenses, fees for the administration of distributions and participant loans, and investment advisory service fees are allocated or charged to specific participants' accounts and are included as a component of the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits.

7. Risks and Uncertainties The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits.

8. Investment Valuation and Income Recognition Investments held by the Plan are stated at fair value, except for the SVF which is recorded at fair value and adjusted to contract value. Fair value of a financial instrument is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded as earned. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

9. Accounting Standards Codification Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 820, Fair Value Measurement and Disclosures, ("ASC 820"), as amended, established a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

   Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3 Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable

The fair value measurement level for an asset or liability within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The Plan's policy is to transfer investments between the levels of the fair value hierarchy at the beginning of the year based upon changes to observable inputs that are significant to the overall fair value measurements.

C. INVESTMENTS

The Plan's investments are held by a management trust company. The following table presents the fair value of investments and investment income which is included in the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedule, and was obtained from data that has been prepared and certified to as complete and accurate by the trustee. Investments that represent 5% or more of the Plan's net assets are separately identified.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2014.

Mutual funds held by the Plan are open-ended mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, actively traded and valued at the daily closing net asset value ("NAV") as reported by the investment manager. All of the Plan's mutual fund investments are classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

The investment in the SVF is valued at NAV as a practical expedient as determined by the trustee based on the fair value of the respective underlying securities held less any liabilities. The Plan's investment in the SVF is classified with Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Participants can readily redeem mutual fund shares and, generally, units of the SVF without notice. Retirement plans are required to provide 12 months advance notice prior to redemption of SVF units, other than for permitted participant withdrawals. The notice period may be shortened or waived by the SVF trustee in its sole discretion.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

There were no transfers between the fair value hierarchy levels during 2014.

E. INVESTMENT IN SVF

The SVF is deemed to be fully benefit-responsive. The investment objective of the SVF is to maximize current long term growth and to maintain principal stability for participant initiated transactions and withdrawals allowed under the Plan. However, the SVF does not guarantee that it will achieve its investment objective. The SVF invests principally in an underlying stable value fund whose underlying investments include a diversified portfolio of guaranteed, structured, synthetic and other investment contracts issued by insurance companies, banks and other issuers, as well as the securities supporting such contracts, separate accounts and other similar financial instruments. SVF investments are valued at fair value and adjusted to contract value to the extent such investments and related contracts are deemed to be fully benefit responsive. Contract value is determined at the close of each trading day based on the underlying assets owned by the SVF.

The beneficial interest of each participant in the net assets of the SVF is represented by units. Units are issued and redeemed at the net asset value determined daily based upon the value of the underlying investments. Net investment income of the SVF is credited to participant accounts through an investment yield (crediting rate) determined by the trustee and reset quarterly based on the performance of the underlying investments.

Participant initiated transactions allowed by the Plan typically include withdrawals for benefits, loans or transfers to noncompeting investments within the Plan. All other are paid at the lower of contract value or market value of the underlying investments. Such events primarily include the following:

- Failure of the Plan or related trust to qualify for exemption from federal income taxes or any required prohibited transaction under ERISA
- Failure to provide proper notice by the Plan sponsor of withdrawal from the SVF
- Failure to meet a 90 day requirement for participant withdrawals out of the SVF for the purpose of investment into a competing fund

The Plan administrator does not believe the occurrence of any such event, which would limit the ability of the SVF or Plan to transact at contract value with participants, is probable.

In addition to the limitations noted above, issuers of investment contracts have certain rights to terminate a contract and settle at an amount which differs from contract value. For example, certain breaches by the SVF of its obligations, representations or warranties under the terms of an investment contract can result in its termination at market value, which may differ from contract value. Investment contracts may also provide for termination with no payment obligation from the issuer if the performance of the contract constitutes a prohibited transaction under ERISA or other applicable law. Guaranteed investment contracts ("GIC") may also provide issuers with the right to reduce contract value in the event an underlying security suffers a credit event or the right to terminate the contract in the event certain investment guidelines are materially breached and not cured.

There is no guarantee that the SVF will always be able to have GICs in place with respect to its fixed income securities. For example, a GIC issuer may suffer a bankruptcy or other significant credit event that causes the SVF to no longer be permitted to utilize contract value for such GIC. In the event a replacement GIC from another issuer cannot be secured, the SVF will have to recognize currently the fair value of certain assets. These values may be less than contract value and could result in a loss of principal and/or reduction in earnings with respect to unit holders' investment in the SVF. The SVF mitigates these risks by investing only in high quality assets and focusing on very broad diversification of the underlying securities.

Average Yields, December 31,	2014	2013
SVF total return	1.15%	1.51%
Yield credited to participants	1.16%	1.44%

F. RELATED PARTIES

The Plan sponsor, GSC Enterprises, Inc., absorbs certain general and administrative expenses for the Plan.

G. PLAN TERMINATION

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provision of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, participants will receive 100% of their account balance.

H. TAX STATUS

The Plan obtained its latest determination letter on January 13, 2004, in which the Internal Revenue Service stated that the Plan, as then designed, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. However, the Plan administrator and the Plan's tax counsel believe that the Plan is currently designed and being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the Plan's financial statements.

The Plan's management has analyzed the tax position taken by the Plan and has concluded that as of December 31, 2014, there were no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to audit by taxing jurisdictions. However, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan's management believes the Plan is no longer subject to audit for plan years prior to the 2011 plan year.

4. Contributions Participants may contribute up to 10% of their eligible annual compensation to the Plan, subject to the annual Federal limit of $17,500 in 2014. Eligible participants age 50 or over may make additional catch-up contributions up to the statutory limit of $5,500 in 2014. Effective January 1, 2014, all newly eligible participants hired after January 1, 2014 are automatically enrolled at a 3% contribution rate which may be changed at their discretion to 0% if they choose not to contribute to the Plan.

   The Company provides a discretionary annual matching contribution remitted with participant contributions during the plan year. During 2014, the discretionary match was 50% of the first 6% of each participant's deferral contribution to the Plan. These contributions are determined on an annual basis by the Board of Directors.

   Combined Company and participant contributions may not exceed $52,000 in 2014.

5. Vesting Participants are immediately vested in their voluntary and employer contributions plus actual earnings thereon.

6. Participants' Accounts A participant's account is credited with the participant's contributions and allocations of Company matching contributions and Plan earnings. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account balance. Vested accounts of participants who had terminated employment with the Company totaled $3,164,433 at December 31, 2014.

7. Payment of Benefits Upon termination of service due to death, disability, retirement or separation, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum distribution or installment payments under various options. In the event of death of the participant, the beneficiary shall receive a lump sum distribution. Lump sum distributions are allocated on all accounts of terminated participants that are less than $1,000. The participant or designated beneficiary is entitled to receive benefits equal to the vested balance in the participant's account.

8. Forfeited Accounts Forfeited accounts are used to reduce employee matching contributions or Plan expenses. Since participants are immediately vested in contributions to their account, there are no additional forfeited balances related to participant terminations. At December 31, 2014, remaining forfeited nonvested accounts related to prior year Company matching overpayments, including earnings, were $73.

9. Investment Options Upon enrollment in the Plan, a participant can direct their contributions in whole percent increments in any of the available investment options, including 31 mutual funds and one stable value common collective trust fund. Participants that do not make investment selections have their contributions invested in the Plan's default investment option which is a target retirement fund based on the participant's age. Employer matching contributions are invested in the same investment options and ratios as participant contributions.

10. Notes Receivable from Participants Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 and up to a maximum equal to the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of their vested account balance. The maximum loan term is five years for general purpose loans but can be longer for housing loans. The loans are secured by the balance in the participant's account and bear interest at prime plus 2% (at December 31, 2014, interest rates for all outstanding loans were 5.25%). Principal and interest are repaid ratably through periodic payroll deductions. Outstanding loan balances are deemed distributed to the participants 90 days after termination of employment.

11. Hardship Distributions Participants may receive hardship distributions from their elected deferrals, plus earnings thereon, if they meet the Plan's and IRC's definition of having an immediate and serious financial need and have previously obtained all other available distributions.

B. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Basis of Accounting The accompanying financial statements have been prepared under the accrual method of accounting in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in the United States of America (GAAP)

   One of the Plan's investment options is the Wilmington Trust Retirement and Institutional Services ("WTRIS") Company Collective Investment Trust II Galliard Retirement Income Fund, a common collective trust stable value fund ("SVF"), as described in Note E, which holds various investment contracts. Investment contracts are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the plan. The Statements of Net Assets Available for Benefits presents the fair value of the SVF as well as the adjustment of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits is prepared on a contract value basis.

2. Management Estimates Preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Contributions and Contribution Receivables Contributions are recorded on the accrual method of accounting. Contribution receivables are obligations arising from amounts owed to the Plan from participants or the Company.

4. Payment of Benefits Benefits are recorded when paid. Material excess 401(k) contributions unpaid at year-end are recorded as a payable. Excess contributions arise to comply with discrimination testing in accordance with IRC requirements.

5. Loans to Participants Notes receivable from participants are reported at their unpaid principal balance, plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Interest is recognized based on the underlying interest rate and outstanding balance of the note receivable.

6. Expenses of the Plan The Trustee is responsible for both the management and record keeping of the Plan's assets. Trustee administrative expenses, fees for the administration of distributions and participant loans, and investment advisory service fees are allocated or charged to specific participants' accounts and are included as a component of the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits.

7. Risks and Uncertainties The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits.

8. Investment Valuation and Income Recognition Investments held by the Plan are stated at fair value, except for the SVF which is recorded at fair value and adjusted to contract value. Fair value of a financial instrument is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded as earned. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

9. Accounting Standards Codification Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 820, Fair Value Measurement and Disclosures, ("ASC 820"), as amended, established a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

   Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3 Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable

The fair value measurement level for an asset or liability within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The Plan's policy is to transfer investments between the levels of the fair value hierarchy at the beginning of the year based upon changes to observable inputs that are significant to the overall fair value measurements.

C. INVESTMENTS

The Plan's investments are held by a management trust company. The following table presents the fair value of investments and investment income which is included in the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedule, and was obtained from data that has been prepared and certified to as complete and accurate by the trustee. Investments that represent 5% or more of the Plan's net assets are separately identified.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2014.

Mutual funds held by the Plan are open-ended mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, actively traded and valued at the daily closing net asset value ("NAV") as reported by the investment manager. All of the Plan's mutual fund investments are classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

The investment in the SVF is valued at NAV as a practical expedient as determined by the trustee based on the fair value of the respective underlying securities held less any liabilities. The Plan's investment in the SVF is classified with Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Participants can readily redeem mutual fund shares and, generally, units of the SVF without notice. Retirement plans are required to provide 12 months advance notice prior to redemption of SVF units, other than for permitted participant withdrawals. The notice period may be shortened or waived by the SVF trustee in its sole discretion.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

There were no transfers between the fair value hierarchy levels during 2014.

E. INVESTMENT IN SVF

The SVF is deemed to be fully benefit-responsive. The investment objective of the SVF is to maximize current long term growth and to maintain principal stability for participant initiated transactions and withdrawals allowed under the Plan. However, the SVF does not guarantee that it will achieve its investment objective. The SVF invests principally in an underlying stable value fund whose underlying investments include a diversified portfolio of guaranteed, structured, synthetic and other investment contracts issued by insurance companies, banks and other issuers, as well as the securities supporting such contracts, separate accounts and other similar financial instruments. SVF investments are valued at fair value and adjusted to contract value to the extent such investments and related contracts are deemed to be fully benefit responsive. Contract value is determined at the close of each trading day based on the underlying assets owned by the SVF.

The beneficial interest of each participant in the net assets of the SVF is represented by units. Units are issued and redeemed at the net asset value determined daily based upon the value of the underlying investments. Net investment income of the SVF is credited to participant accounts through an investment yield (crediting rate) determined by the trustee and reset quarterly based on the performance of the underlying investments.

Participant initiated transactions allowed by the Plan typically include withdrawals for benefits, loans or transfers to noncompeting investments within the Plan. All other are paid at the lower of contract value or market value of the underlying investments. Such events primarily include the following:

- Failure of the Plan or related trust to qualify for exemption from federal income taxes or any required prohibited transaction under ERISA
- Failure to provide proper notice by the Plan sponsor of withdrawal from the SVF
- Failure to meet a 90 day requirement for participant withdrawals out of the SVF for the purpose of investment into a competing fund

The Plan administrator does not believe the occurrence of any such event, which would limit the ability of the SVF or Plan to transact at contract value with participants, is probable.

In addition to the limitations noted above, issuers of investment contracts have certain rights to terminate a contract and settle at an amount which differs from contract value. For example, certain breaches by the SVF of its obligations, representations or warranties under the terms of an investment contract can result in its termination at market value, which may differ from contract value. Investment contracts may also provide for termination with no payment obligation from the issuer if the performance of the contract constitutes a prohibited transaction under ERISA or other applicable law. Guaranteed investment contracts ("GIC") may also provide issuers with the right to reduce contract value in the event an underlying security suffers a credit event or the right to terminate the contract in the event certain investment guidelines are materially breached and not cured.

There is no guarantee that the SVF will always be able to have GICs in place with respect to its fixed income securities. For example, a GIC issuer may suffer a bankruptcy or other significant credit event that causes the SVF to no longer be permitted to utilize contract value for such GIC. In the event a replacement GIC from another issuer cannot be secured, the SVF will have to recognize currently the fair value of certain assets. These values may be less than contract value and could result in a loss of principal and/or reduction in earnings with respect to unit holders' investment in the SVF. The SVF mitigates these risks by investing only in high quality assets and focusing on very broad diversification of the underlying securities.

Average Yields, December 31,	2014	2013
SVF total return	1.15%	1.51%
Yield credited to participants	1.16%	1.44%

F. RELATED PARTIES

The Plan sponsor, GSC Enterprises, Inc., absorbs certain general and administrative expenses for the Plan.

G. PLAN TERMINATION

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provision of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, participants will receive 100% of their account balance.

H. TAX STATUS

The Plan obtained its latest determination letter on January 13, 2004, in which the Internal Revenue Service stated that the Plan, as then designed, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. However, the Plan administrator and the Plan's tax counsel believe that the Plan is currently designed and being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the Plan's financial statements.

The Plan's management has analyzed the tax position taken by the Plan and has concluded that as of December 31, 2014, there were no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to audit by taxing jurisdictions. However, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan's management believes the Plan is no longer subject to audit for plan years prior to the 2011 plan year.
