Note 1 - Program Description

The following description of USG SelectBenefits Program (the "Program") provides only general information. Participants should refer to the program agreement for a more complete description of the Program's provisions.

General - USG SelectBenefits Program was established to provide eligible employees of USG Corporation and other domestic subsidiaries (the "Corporation") the opportunity to select from certain taxable and nontaxable welfare and other benefits or receive additional cash compensation, including but not limited to a flexible benefits feature for active eligible employees. The Program covers all eligible salaried and hourly paid employees of the Corporation who work at least 20 hours per week on a regular basis. The Corporation has appointed its human resources department, or its designated representative, as administrator of the Program. The Program is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Under the current Program, the following benefits are provided to eligible participants: healthcare selectaccounts, dependent care selectaccounts, active and retiree medical, dental, vision, long-term disability, short-term disability, employee and dependent life insurance (including accidental death and dismemberment coverage for employees), business travel accident coverage, retiree life insurance, and employee assistance coverage.

Employees are allowed to change their welfare and other benefits elected under the Program annually during the specified enrollment period prior to the start of each program year.

Healthcare and Dependent Care Selectaccounts Benefits - The healthcare selectaccounts is a self-insured medical care reimbursement program under Section 105 of the IRC. Participants may allocate up to $2,550 in each program year for reimbursement of eligible medical expenses incurred during the program year and the first two and one-half months following the program year.

The dependent care selectaccounts is a dependent care assistance program under Section 129 of the IRC, whereby participants may allocate up to $5,000 in a program year for reimbursement of eligible dependent care expenses which the employees' family units incurred during that program year.

The participants must make pretax contributions to the Program by electing to have their compensation reduced by an amount equal to the participants' selectbenefits costs for a program year. Any amounts remaining in a participant's selectaccounts after the allowable reimbursement period will be forfeited.

Retirees are not eligible to participate in the Program's flexible benefit feature.

Benefits - The Program provides medical, life insurance, and short-term disability benefits to eligible active employees and eligible dependents. Retirees who receive benefits paid from the corporation-sponsored retirement plan are eligible to participate with their eligible dependents in the medical benefit program and are enrolled for life insurance. Employees hired on or after January 1, 2002 will not be eligible for medical benefits upon retirement. Employees hired on or after January 1, 2011 will not be eligible for life insurance upon retirement.

Medical - Employees are offered a choice of a high or low deductible consumer directed health plan (CDHP). The CDHP offers the standard features of a preferred provider organization (PPO) medical plan, combined with a corporation-funded health reimbursement account (HRA). Each year the Corporation records an amount to each HRA account to provide for payment of covered expenses up to the account maximum. The benefit received within the HRA depends on if the employee is enrolled in the high deductible (HD) or low deductible (LD) CDHP ($500 (HD) or $750 (LD) for an employee-only account or $1,000 (HD) or $1,500 (LD) for an employee with one or more dependents). The HRA and retirement reimbursement account (RRA) accounts are only funded by the Corporation on a pay-as-you-go basis when claims are received and paid out of the accounts. If the entire HRA account fund is not used during the year, the remaining amount is added to the next year's fund. Any fund amounts over the maximum (two times the annual amount) are transferred to an RRA that can be used to pay for covered medical expenses or healthcare premiums during retirement. The total HRA and RRA balances amounted to approximately $9,100,000 and $8,800,000 at December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

As of January 1, 2015, Medicare-eligible participants began participating in a corporation-funded retiree health reimbursement account (Retiree HRA) instead of receiving medical benefits. Each year the Corporation records an amount to each Retiree HRA account to provide for payment of insurance premiums within a private insurance exchange or covered expenses up to the account maximum. The benefit received within the Retiree HRA depends on the Medicare eligible participants' years of service and marital status upon retirement. The fixed subsidy provided to Medicare eligible retirees will end December 31, 2019. The total Retiree HRA balances amounted to approximately $225,000 at December 31, 2015.

Life Insurance - The Corporation provides group insurance coverage for life and accidental death benefits for its participants. Eligible hourly employees are covered for $25,000 in life and accidental death benefits insurance. Eligible salaried employees receive basic life and accidental death coverage equal to the participant's basic annual salary for each respective type of coverage.

The Corporation pays the entire cost of basic life and basic accidental death coverage. Participants' contributions are used to pay for supplemental life and supplemental accidental death coverage.

Short-term Disability - Hourly employees who are disabled due to injury, sickness, or pregnancy receive short-term disability income benefits weekly. The benefit is 50 percent of the employee's weekly wage up to a maximum benefit of $475, but not less than $50. The benefit will be paid to eligible participants for a maximum of 13 weeks if they have completed less than three years of service and 26 weeks if they have completed more than three years of service.

Funding of Benefits - The healthcare and dependent care selectaccounts are funded through the USG Employee Benefit Trust (the "Trust"), an IRC Section 501(c)(9) tax-exempt trust; The Northern Trust Company serves as custodian of the Trust.

The medical benefits are funded by both the Corporation and the participants, with the Corporation paying the major portion of the program costs. The Corporation pays the entire cost of basic life insurance, short-term disability, the business travel accident coverage, and the employee assistance program coverage. Eligible employees may elect to purchase certain welfare benefits on a pretax basis from the medical, dental, vision, and long-term disability coverages. The healthcare and dependent care selectaccounts are funded solely through employee pretax contributions.

Retiree contributions are required for retiree medical coverage. The retiree life insurance coverage is paid by the Corporation. Retiree contribution amounts are set at a minimum 30 percent to a maximum 100 percent of total cost for participants under age 65 and, during 2014, a minimum 50 percent to a maximum 100 percent of total cost for participants over age 65. Retiree contributions for participants over age 65 were terminated as a result of the retiree medical benefits being replaced with a fixed subsidy for Medicare eligible participants as of January 1, 2015. Total costs for under age 65 and over age 65 are calculated separately. Retiree contributions funded approximately 25 percent and 38 percent of total retiree costs for the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

The Corporation may change and impose employee or retiree contribution requirements under any participating program at any time and for any reason.

Effective January 1, 2016 for non-Medicare eligible retirees, retiree medical benefits will be replaced with a fixed subsidy to enable retirees to obtain third-party medical coverage in an exchange or marketplace. The fixed subsidy will be determined based upon years of service at retirement and Medicare eligibility. The effective date for non-Medicare eligible retirees was delayed during 2014 from January 1, 2015 to January 1, 2016. The effect of this amendment has been disclosed in the statement of changes in program benefit obligations for the year ended December 31, 2014.

Administrative Service Contracts - The Program has an agreement with Aetna to provide certain medical coverage administrative services. Generally, Aetna handles the processing of claims, prepares drafts for benefit payments, and provides various data processing services to aid in program administration. Aetna also serves as the claims administrator for the healthcare and dependent care selectaccounts processing. Prescription drug administration is provided by CVS Caremark. Dental, vision, short-term and long-term disability, and life insurance coverage are provided by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Party-in-interest Transactions - The Northern Trust Short-Term Investment Fund is managed by The Northern Trust Company or its affiliates. The Northern Trust Company is the custodian of the Program; therefore, these transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions as defined under ERISA guidelines; however, they are exempt from the prohibited transactions rules under ERISA.

Termination - Presently, there is no intention on the part of the Corporation to terminate the Program. However, the Program may be terminated by the Corporation at any time subject to the provisions set forth in ERISA. Upon termination of the Program, any amounts payable under the Program prior to termination shall be paid in accordance with the terms of the program document.

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting - The financial statements of the Program have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition - The Program's common collective trust fund is stated at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The investment is valued at the net asset value per share (or its equivalent), which is based on the fair market values of the underlying net assets. There were no unfunded commitments and no redemption or notice periods.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Program believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis.

Payment of Benefits and Retiree Subsidies - Benefit and retiree subsidy payments are recorded upon distribution.

Administrative Expenses - The Program pays administrative expenses that consist primarily of fees paid to third-party administrators, the custodian, and actuary. These expenses are reported on the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits as administrative expenses. All other administrative expenses, such as professional fees, are paid by the Corporation on behalf of the Program. During 2015 and 2014, the Corporation paid approximately $900,000 in administrative expenses on behalf of the Program.

Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of additions and deductions during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Postretirement Benefits - The postretirement benefit obligation represents the actuarial present value of those estimated future benefits that are attributed by the terms of the Program to employees' service rendered to the date of the financial statements, reduced by the actuarial present value of contributions expected to be received in the future from current program participants. Postretirement benefits include future benefits expected to be paid to or for (1) currently retired or terminated employees and their beneficiaries and dependents and (2) active employees and their beneficiaries and dependents after retirement from service with participating employers. The postretirement benefit obligation represents the amount that is to be funded by contributions from the Corporation, participants, and from existing program assets.

Prior to an active employee's full eligibility date, the postretirement benefit obligation is the portion of the expected postretirement benefit obligation that is attributed to that employee's service rendered to the valuation date.

The actuarial present value of the expected postretirement benefit obligation is determined by an actuary and is the amount that results from applying actuarial assumptions to historical claims-cost data to estimate future annual claim costs per participant and to adjust such estimates for the time value of money (through discounts for interest) and the probability of payment (by means of decrements such as those for death, disability, withdrawal, or retirement) between the valuation date and the expected date of payment.

For measurement purposes, an 7.30 percent annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered healthcare benefits was assumed for 2014; the rate was assumed to decrease gradually to 4.50 percent in 2022. Since all retiree participants will have transitioned to the fixed subsidy (HRA) plan design by January 1, 2016, an assumption for per capita USG subsidy amount is no longer applicable in the retiree medical actuarial valuation.

The following were other significant assumptions used in the valuations as of December 31, 2015, 2014, and 2013:

Weighted-average discount rate:	3.87 percent and 4.75 percent for medical and life, respectively - 2015 3.50 percent and 4.30 percent for medical and life, respectively - 2014 4.10 percent and 5.10 percent for medical and life, respectively - 2013
Average retirement age:	63 - 2015 63 - 2014 61 - 2013
Mortality:	RP-2014 mortality table adjusted to 2006 and projected fully generational with MP-2015 mortality improvement projection scale - 2015 RP-2014 mortality table fully generational with MP-2014 mortality improvement projection scale - 2014 RP-2000 Blended Annuitant/Nonannuitant Mortality Table projected to 2021 for annuitants and projected to 2029 for non-annuitants - 2013

The foregoing assumptions are based on the presumption that the Program will continue. If the Program were to terminate, different actuarial assumptions and other factors might be applicable in determining the actuarial present value of the postretirement benefit obligation.

The healthcare cost-trend rate assumption does not have a significant effect on the amounts reported. As of December 31, 2015 and 2014, an increase or decrease in the healthcare cost-trend rate assumption would not have an impact on the amounts reported due to the retiree medical benefits being replaced with a fixed subsidy as of January 1, 2016 and 2015 for non-Medicare eligible and Medicare eligible retiree participants, respectively.

The Program's deficiency of net assets over benefit obligations at December 31, 2015 and 2014 primarily relates to the postretirement benefit obligations. It is expected that the deficiency will be funded by the Corporation as the benefits become due and through future increase in retiree contributions. Funding for benefit obligations is not required under ERISA.

Accounting for Medicare Subsidy - In December 2003, the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003 (the "Act") for employers sponsoring postretirement healthcare plans that provide prescription drug benefits was signed into law. The Act introduced a prescription drug benefit under Medicare as well as a federal subsidy to sponsors of retiree healthcare benefit plans providing a benefit that is at least actuarially equivalent to Medicare Part D. During 2014 and 2015, the Corporation received the Medicare Part D subsidy through an employer group waiver plan (EGWP). Under the EGWP, the subsidy amount is received directly by the Program as a direct reimbursement on prescription drug claims. The Program's postretirement benefit obligation as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 does not differ from that disclosed by the Corporation as of December 31, 2015 and 2014.

Other Program Benefits - Program obligations at December 31 include health claims incurred and reported but not paid and health claims incurred by active participants but not reported, which are estimated by the Program's administration based on claims lag reports from insurance companies.

Risks and Uncertainties - Contributions to the Program and the program benefit obligations are reported based on certain assumptions pertaining to interest rates, inflation rates, and employee demographics. Due to the changing nature of these assumptions, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in these assumptions will occur in the near term and, due to the uncertainties inherent in setting assumptions, that the effect of such changes could be material to the financial statements. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. It is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the statement of net assets available for benefits and the benefit obligations.

Subsequent Events - The financial statements and related disclosures include evaluation of events up through and including September 30, 2016, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

New Accounting Pronouncements - During 2015, the Program adopted Accounting Standards Update (ASU) Nos. 2015-07, Disclosures for Investments in Certain Entities that Calculate Net Asset Value per Share (or its Equivalent), and 2015-12, Plan Accounting: Defined Benefit Pension Plans (Topic 960), Defined Contribution Pension Plans (Topic 962), and Health and Welfare Benefit Plans (Topic 965) - I. Fully Benefit-Responsive Investment Contracts, II. Plan Investment Disclosures, and III. Measurement Date Practical Expedient. ASU No. 2015-07 amended ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements, and removed the requirement to categorize within the fair value hierarchy all investments for which fair value is measured using the net asset value per share as a practical expedient. Part II of ASU No. 2015-12 was applicable to the Program and modified the investment disclosures under ASC 820 and 965. The standards were adopted retrospectively and had no impact on the Program's net assets or changes in net assets.
