Dear Employer,

Enclosed is the information you may need to complete and file Form 5500 with the Internal Revenue Services (IRS). Plans that are required to file the 5500 series forms must do so within a specified time following the end of the year plan.

The Form 5500 Annual Return/Report is the primary source of information about the operation, funding, assets, and investments of those pension and other employee benefit plans. In addition to disclosing important information to plan participants and beneficiaries, the Form 5500 Annual Return/Report is an essential compliance and research tool for the DOL, IRS, and PBGC. Other federal agencies, Congress, and the private sector also rely on the Form 5500 as an important source of information for assessing employee benefit, tax, and economic trends and policies. Accordingly, it is important that the Form 5500 keep pace with changes in the legal requirements governing employee benefit plans and market development.

The information we provide for your use in preparing Schedule A and/or Schedule C of Form 5500 reflects premiums, fees, and or claims received and posted during the timeframes noted and may be adjusted in the future. These premiums, fees and or claims may not reconcile with your accounting since they could have been paid outside the timeframes noted.

What is the filing deadline?

The filling deadline is the last day of the seventh month following the close of your plan year. For calendar year plans, the deadline is July 31.

Where can I get Form 5500 and related publications?

The forms and schedules are included in packages that are mailed each spring by the IRS to filers of record. However, if you did not receive a package from the IRS, you can also order them by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676), or by visiting your local IRS office.

In addition, you can view forms, instructions, and publications by accessing the IRS website at www.irs.gov or the EFAST website at www.efast.dol.gov.

If you have any questions regarding the information provided, please contact ASi at 559.256.1320. For questions regarding the preparation of the Form 5500 consult your tax or legal advisor. ASi works closely with ERISA Compliance Services (ECS), who can also assist with the 5500 preparation and questions. They can be contacted at (559) 385-7360.
