NOTE 6 - Newly Adopted Accounting Principles:

FASB No. 162. In May 2008, the FASB issued Statement No 162, The Hierachy of Generally Accepted Accouting Principles ("FASB No. 162"). FASB No. 162 identifies the sources of accounting principles and the framework for selecting the principles to be used in the preparation of financial statements of non-governmental entities that are presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. FASB 162 did not materially change the financial statements of the Maxim Group LLC 401 (k) Plan.

FASB No. 157. The Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements" ("SFAS 157"), during the year ended December 31, 2008. In accordance with SFAS 157, fair value is defined as the price that the Company would receive to sell and investment or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction with an independent counter-party in the principal market or in the absence of a principal market, the most advantageous market for the investment of liability. SFAS 167 establishes a three-tier hierarchy to distinguish between (1) inputs that reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity (observable inputs); and (2) inputs that reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances (unobservable inputs); and to establish classification of fair value measurements of disclosure purposes.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Company's investments. The inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below.

Level 1- quoted prices in active markets for identical investments

Level 2- other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3- significant unobservable inputs (including the Company's own assumptions in determining the fair value investments)

In applying the provisions of FAS 157 to the Company's portfolio activities during the year, the following valuation techniques have been employed:

Municipal Bonds and Certificates of Deposit. The fair value of municipal bonds and certificates of deposit is estimated using recently executed transactions, market price quotations and pricing models that factor in, where applicable, interest rates, bond or credit default swap spreads and volatility. These bonds and certificates of deposit are generally categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Corporate Bonds. The fair value of corporate bonds is estimated using recently executed transactions, market price quotations (where observable), bond spreads or credit default swap spreads. The spread data used are for the same maturity as the bond. If the spread data does not reference the issuer, then the data that references a comparable issuer is used. When observable price quotations are not available, fair value is determined based on cash flow models with yield curves, bond, or single-name credit default swap spreads and recovery rates based on collateral values as key inputs. Corporate bonds are generally categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.
