NOTE 1 – THE PLAN AND ITS SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

General

The following description of the Teltec Corporation dba Gorilla Circuits 401(k) (the "Plan") provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan document for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

The Plan is a defined contribution plan that was established in 2005 by Teltec Corporation dba Gorilla Circuits (the "Company") to provide benefits to eligible employees, as defined in the Plan document. The Plan is currently designed to be qualified under the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), as amended, and the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended.

Administration

The Company has appointed a Plan Administrator to manage the operation and administration of the Plan. The Company has contracted with Transamerica Life Insurance Services ("Transamerica") to act as the custodian and a third-party administrator affiliated with Incentive Benefits to process and maintain the records of participant data.

Administrative expenses

Certain investment expenses are absorbed by participants and netted from their individual accounts. The Company absorbs all of the Plan's remaining administrative costs.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of net assets available for benefits and changes therein. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Basis of accounting

The financial statements of the Plan are prepared on the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Investment valuation and income recognition

The Plan's investments are stated at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note 2 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation or depreciation includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought or sold as well as held during the year.

In 2005, the plan entered into a benefit-responsive investment contract, the Stable Value Advantage Return Option (Stable Value), with Transamerica. The Stable Value is invested in the general account of Transamerica with no stated maturity. The account is credited with earnings on the underlying investments and charged for participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. The insurance company general account issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the Plan.

Because the insurance company general account is fully benefit-responsive, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for the portion of the net assets available for benefits attributable to the insurance company general account. Contract value, as reported to the Plan by Transamerica, represents contributions made under the contract, plus earnings, less participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. The fair value of the Plan's investment contract account approximates the contract value at December 31, 2011 and 2010. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their investment at contract value.

There is no guaranteed minimum or maximum interest rate in relation this general account.

The insurance company general account does not permit the insurance company to terminate the agreement prior to the scheduled maturity date.

Since contract value is fair value, the average yield earned by the Plan is equal to the average yield earned by the Plan adjusted to reflect the actual interest rate credited to Plan participants. The average yields for 2011 and 2010 were 2.7% and 2.98%, respectively.

Notes receivable from participants
Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent notes are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the Plan document.

Income taxes
On April 30, 2010, the Plan was amended and restated effective January 1, 2010 to adopt a non-standardized form of a volume submitter plan sponsored by Incentive Benefits. The volume submitter plan has received an opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service as to the volume submitter plan's qualified status. The volume submitter plan opinion letter has been relied upon by this Plan. The Plan Administrator believes the Plan is designed and is being operated in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

Risks and uncertainties

The Plan provides for various investment options in any combination of investment securities offered by the Plan. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market fluctuations and credit risks. Due to the risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in market values, interest rates or other factors in the near term would materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits and the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits.

Subsequent events

The Plan has evaluated subsequent events through October XX, 2012, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

NOTE 2 – FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

The fair value measurements standard establishes a framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under the standard are described below:

Level 1 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access.

Level 2 – Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- Quoted market prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value.

Pooled separate accounts – Valued at fair value as determined by observable Level 1 quoted pricing inputs or by quoted prices for similar assets in active or non-active markets. While some pooled separate accounts may have publically quoted pricing inputs (Level 1), the account values of separate accounts are not publically quoted and are therefore classified as Level 2 investments.

Insurance company general account – Valued at cost (the sum of deposits) plus credited interest, less withdrawals and expenses, which approximates fair value.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's investments at fair value as of December 31, 2011 and 2010:

	Investments at fair value as of December 31, 2011

The JPMorgan Government Securities Return Option seeks total return with a high level of current income and a moderate degree of share-price fluctuation. It is best suited for long-term investors who want higher income than shorter-term securities generally provide. The separate account will invest at least 90% of its assets in US government securities, with the balance being invested in other investment-grade debt obligations. It is anticipated that the normal average portfolio maturity will be between five and ten years.

The American Century Inflation-Adjusted Bond Investment Option seeks total return and inflation protection consistent with investment inflation-indexed securities. The fund invests at least 80% of assets in inflation-adjusted securities including inflation-indexed securities issued by the U.S. Treasury, by other U.S. non-U.S. government entities such as corporations. It may invest up to 20% of assets in traditional U.S. Treasury, U.S. government agency or other non-U.S. government securities that are not inflation-indexed.

The BlackRock Equity Dividend Investment Option seeks long-term total return and current income. The fund invests primarily in a portfolio of equity securities. It normally invests at least 80% of assets in equity securities and at least 80% of assets in dividend paying securities. The fund may invest in securities of companies with any market capitalization, but will generally focus on large cap securities. It may invest up to 25% of total assets in securities of foreign issuers. The fund may invest in securities denominated in both U.S. dollars and non-U.S. dollar currencies. It may also invest in convertible securities and non-convertible preferred stock.

The Transamerica Stable Value Advantage Option is best suited for investors seeking a stable return and safety of principal. The investment seeks to protect against any loss of principal while providing returns in excess of money market funds and one-year treasury bills. The investment has a portfolio investment rate design in which all deposits are credited with the same interest rate, credited on a daily basis, and there is no set maturity. The effective credited interest rate is set monthly and effective on the first day of the month. Contract charges may reduce this return.

The Vanguard Target Retirement Return Option funds seek to provide capital appreciation and current income consistent with its current asset allocation. The fund primarily invests in other Vanguard mutual funds according to an asset allocation strategy designed for investors planning to retire and leave the work force in or within a few years of the target year. Its asset allocation will become more conservative over time, meaning that the percentage of assets allocated to stocks will decrease while the percentage of assets allocated to bonds and other fixed income investments will increase.

NOTE 3 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Certain Plan investments are managed by an affiliate of Transamerica, the trustee and custodian of the Plan. Any purchases and sales of these funds are performed in the open market at fair value. Such transactions, while considered party-in-interest transactions under ERISA regulations, are permitted under the provisions of the Plan and are specifically exempt from the prohibition of party-in-interest transactions under ERISA.

NOTE 4 – PARTICIPANT AND BENEFITS

Participant contributions

Participants may elect to have the Company contribute their eligible pre-tax or Roth after-tax compensation to the Plan up to the amount allowable under the Plan document and current income tax regulations. Participants who have the Company contribute a portion of their compensation to the Plan agree to accept an equivalent reduction in taxable compensation. Contributions withheld are invested in accordance with the participant's direction.

New participants are automatically enrolled into the Plan on his or her eligibility date with salary reduction contributions equal to 6% of their eligible compensation each pay period, of which 4% is allocated to pre-tax elective contributions and 2% is allocated to Roth contributions. Each participant may elect to change their deferral rate and investment allocation between pre-tax elective contributions and Roth contributions.

Participants are also allowed to make rollover contributions of amounts received from other tax-qualified employer-sponsored retirement plans. Such contributions are deposited in the appropriate investment funds in accordance with the participant's direction and the Plan's provisions.

Employer contributions
The Company is allowed to make discretionary matching contributions to the Plan as defined in the Plan and as approved by the Board of Directors. No such contributions have been made for the year ended December 31, 2011.

Vesting
Participants are immediately vested in their contributions. Participants are fully vested in the employer's discretionary matching allocated to their account after two years of credited service, or upon death or disability. Participants with less than two years of credited service are not vested in any of the Company's matching or non-elective contributions.

Participant accounts
Each participant's account is credited with the participant's contribution, Plan earnings or losses and an allocation of the Company's contribution, if any.

Payment of benefits
On termination of service due to death, disability, or retirement or if a participant vested balance, including rollover contributions, exceeds $5,000, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum amount equal to the value of the vested portion of his or her account, or value of the vested portion of his or her account payable in installments over a fixed reasonable period of time not exceeding the life expectancy of the participant or the joint life and last survivor expectancy of the participant and his/her designated beneficiary. For the termination of service for other reasons or if a participant's balance is less than $5,000, a participant may receive the value of the vested interest in his or her account as a lump-sum distribution.

Notes receivable from participants
The Plan allows participants to borrow up to the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of their account balance. The notes are secured by the participant's balance. Such notes bear interest at the available market financing rates and must be repaid to the Plan within a five year period, unless the note is used for the purchase of a principal residence in which case the maximum repayment period may be longer. A participant may not have more than three loans outstanding at a time. The specific terms and conditions of such notes are established by the Company. Outstanding notes receivable at December 31, 2011 carry interest rates ranging from 5.25% to 10.25%.

Forfeited accounts
Available forfeitures of the non-vested portion of terminated participants' accounts may be used to pay administrative expenses of the Plan and then to reduce employer match contributions. There were no forfeitures available at December 31, 2011.
