Report on the Financial Statements

We were engaged to audit the accompanying financial statements of Draper and Kramer Profit Sharing and Incentive Savings Plan (the Plan), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2012, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on conducting the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Because of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, however, we were not able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion.

Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion

As permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the Plan Administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 3, which was certified or provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, FSB, the trustee of the Plan, and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company, a custodian of the Plan, except for comparing this information with the related information included in the financial statements. We have been informed by the Plan Administrator that the trustee and custodian hold the Plan's assets and execute transactions. The Plan Administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee and custodian as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and for the year ended December 31, 2012, that the information provided to the Plan Administrator by the trustee and custodian is complete and accurate.

Disclaimer of Opinion

Because of the significance of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, we have not been able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on these financial statements.

Other Matter

The supplemental schedule, Schedule H, Line 4i - Schedule of Assets (Held at End of Year) as of December 31, 2012 is required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and is presented for the purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. The supplemental schedule is the responsibility of the Plan's management. Because of the significance of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, we do not express an opinion on the supplemental schedule.

Report on Form and Content in Compliance with DOL Rules and Regulations

The form and content of the information included in the financial statements and supplemental schedule, other than that derived from the information certified or provided by the trustee and custodian, have been audited by us in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and, in our opinion, are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

Note 1. Description of Plan

The following description of Draper and Kramer Profit Sharing and Incentive Savings Plan (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General: The Plan is a defined-contribution plan established effective January 1, 1960. Effective January 1, 2009, the Plan was amended and restated for various provisions, including the elimination of the eligibility service requirement of 1,000 hours for part-time employees. Employees of DKH, Incorporated (the Company) become eligible to participate upon employment. Effective January 1, 2012, the Plan was amended to exclude non-union personnel employed at site locations and paid on-site payroll. In addition, the Plan was amended on October 12, 2012, effective September 4, 2012 to allow Roth 401(k) contributions and related Roth 401(k) provisions. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Contributions: Participants may contribute an amount equal to not less than 1 percent up to 100 percent of their pre-tax compensation, up to the maximum amount allowed by the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 402(g), adjusted for the cost of living. This amount was $17,000 for the year ended December 31, 2012. Participants who will attain age 50 before the end of the plan year are eligible to make catch-up contributions. Maximum catch-up contributions allowed by IRC Section 414(v) was $5,500 for the year ended December 31, 2012. The Plan provides for automatic enrollment, whereby participants are treated as having elected to contribute 3 percent of their pre-tax compensation, unless a different amount or an election not to contribute has been submitted. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined benefit or defined contribution plans. Participants direct the investment of their contributions in 1 percent increments into various investment options offered by the Plan. The Plan currently offers a guaranteed income fund, mutual funds and various pooled separate accounts offered by Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company (PRIAC). Participant contributions are recorded in the period during which the Company makes payroll deductions from the participant's earnings.

The Company may make discretionary matching contributions in amounts determined by its Board of Directors. The Company may also make a qualified nonelective or a profit sharing contribution to be determined by its Board of Directors. The Company contributions are invested directly in the guaranteed income fund, mutual funds or pooled separate account investments as directed by the participant. Contributions received awaiting investment in the appropriate investment options are invested in the guaranteed income fund. Discretionary matching contributions, if any, are made monthly. Additional qualified nonelective or profit sharing contributions, if any, are recorded annually. There were no matching or profit sharing contributions made for 2012. During 2012, a qualified nonelective contributions in the amount of $124,079 was approved by the Company in order to correct an operational error. This amount was remitted to the Plan in January 2013. See Note 12.

Participant accounts: Each participant's account is credited with the participant's contribution and an allocation of the Company's contributions and plan earnings, and charged with an allocation of investment expenses. Earnings are allocated by fund based on the ratio of a participant's account invested in a particular fund to all participants' investments in that fund. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account.

Vesting: Participants are immediately vested in their own contributions and Company qualified nonelective contributions plus actual earnings thereon. Vesting in the Company's matching and profit sharing contribution portions of their account is based on years of service in accordance with the following schedule:

Years of Service	Vesting Percentage
Less than 2	0%
2, but less than 3	20%
3, but less than 4	40%
4, but less than 5	60%
5, but less than 6	80%
6 or more	100%

If an active participant reaches the normal retirement age or becomes disabled or deceased prior to attaining the normal retirement age, the participant's account becomes 100 percent vested.

Benefit payments: On termination of service due to death, disability, retirement or other reasons, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum amount equal to the value of the vested portion of the participant's account, a distribution in the form of installment payments or a combination of these payment options. If a participant's vested benefit is more than $1,000 but not more than $5,000 upon termination of service, the Plan Administrator is required to distribute the benefit into an Individual Retirement Account without consent from the participant if the participant does not make a distribution election after receiving the required notification. If a participant's vested benefit is less than $1,000 upon termination of service, the Plan Administrator is required to distribute the benefit directly to the participant without consent. In-service and hardship withdrawals are allowed by the Plan.

Notes receivable from participants: Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 up to a maximum of $50,000 or 50 percent of the vested portion of their account balance, whichever is less. The terms of notes receivable range from a period of one year to a period not to exceed five years, except for those used to purchase a primary residence where the repayment period may be as long as 10 years. A note receivable from a participant is collateralized by the balance in the participant's account and bears interest at rates that range from 4.25 percent to 9.25 percent, which are commensurate with market rates for similar loans, as defined. Principal and interest are paid ratably through payroll deductions made not less frequently than quarterly. All terminated notes receivable from participants are treated as a taxable distribution.

Forfeitures: As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, forfeited nonvested amounts totaled $546 and $4,824, respectively. These forfeitures will be used to reduce future employer contributions or pay Plan expenses as determined by the Plan Administrator. During 2012, forfeitures of $10,121 were used to pay for Plan expenses.

Administrative expenses: The Plan is responsible for payment of custodian and recordkeeping fees; however, the Company may pay the Plan's expenses directly. Transaction charges (for loan and benefit payment transactions) are paid by the Plan by reducing the balances of those participants initiating the transactions.

Other income: Pursuant to an agreement to provide elective and professional and administrative services between the Company and PRIAC, the latter agrees to make payments to or on behalf of the Plan to pay its reasonable and actually incurred Plan administrative expenses. This amount is equal to 0.20 percent of the average eligible Plan assets in each plan year, which will be paid in quarterly installments. For the year ended December 31, 2012, $56,240 was paid to the Plan under this agreement.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting: The financial statements of the Plan are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Investment contracts held by a defined-contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined-contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the Plan. The statement of net assets available for benefits presents the fair value of the investment contracts as well as the adjustment, if required, of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The statement of changes in net assets available for benefits is prepared using the contract value basis for fully benefit-responsive investment contracts. As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, contract value approximated fair value.

Investment valuation and income recognition: Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The Plan's Investment Committee determines the Plan's valuation policies utilizing information provided by the investment custodian and insurance company. See Note 5 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Payment of benefits: Benefits are recorded when paid.

Notes receivable from participants: Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent participant loans are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the plan document.

Recent accounting pronouncements: In May 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2011-04, Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurements and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs, (ASU 2011-04). ASU 2011-04 amended Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820, Fair Value Measurements. This Update changes certain fair value measurement principles and enhances the disclosure requirements particularly for Level 3 fair value measurements. The amendments are to be applied prospectively and are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011. See Note 5 for impact of adoption.

In October 2012, the FASB issued ASU 2012-04, Technical Corrections and Improvements. The amendments in this Update cover a wide range of Topics in the ASC, including plan accounting. These amendments include technical corrections and improvements to the ASC and conforming amendments related to fair value measurements. The amendments in this Update will generally be effective for fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2013, except for amendments in this Update where there was no transition guidance which were immediately effective upon issuance. The adoption of immediately effective amendments was not significant to these financial statements. The adoption of ASU 2012-04 is not expected to have a material impact on subsequent periods.

The Plan has evaluated subsequent events for potential recognition and/or disclosure through October 9, 2013, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 3. Information Certified and Provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B. and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company

The following is a summary of the Plan's asset and income information as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and for the year ended December 31, 2012 included throughout the Plan's financial statements and supplemental schedule, that was prepared by or derived from information provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B., the trustee, and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company (PRIAC), a custodian, and furnished to the Plan Administrator. The Plan Administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee and custodian that information provided to the Plan Administrator by the trustee and custodian related to the following assets and income is complete and accurate. Accordingly, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, the Plan Administrator instructed the Plan's independent auditors not to perform any auditing procedures with respect to information which appears throughout the financial statements and supplemental schedule related to the following assets and income:

	2012		2011
Investments, at fair value:
Pooled separate accounts	$ 13,023,603	*	$ 12,244,389	*

Mutual funds	8,268,952		6,087,369	**
Notes receivable from participants	729,058		726,842	**
Net appreciation in fair value of pooled separate accounts	1,689,450	*
Net appreciation in fair value of mutual funds	850,343	**
Interest income	113,458	*
Dividend income	101,577	**
Interest income on notes receivable from participants	33,408	**

* The above information has been certified by PRIAC, a Plan custodian, as complete and accurate.
 The above information has been certified by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B., the Plan trustee, as complete and accurate.

Note 4. Investments

The following table presents those investments that represent 5 percent or more of the Plan's net assets at December 31, 2012 and 2011:

	2012	2011
Guaranteed Income Fund	$ 5,375,966	$ 5,088,682
Prudential Fidelity Advisor Equity Growth Fund	1,713,397	1,352,865
Prudential Dryden S&P 500 Index Fund	2,804,341	1,841,897
Prudential Balanced I/Wellington Management Fund	1,835,495	1,538,829
Prudential Templeton Foreign Strategy	2,254,119	1,232,259
Prudential Mid Cap Growth/Artisan Partners	1,615,273	1,381,092
Eaton Vance Large Cap Value A	1,909,258	*

* Less than 5 percent of net assets at year end.

During 2012, the Plan’s investments (including gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year) appreciated in value as follows:

Pooled separate accounts	$ 1,689,450
Mutual funds	850,343
	$ 2,539,793

Note 5. Fair Value Measurements

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access.

Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair market value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2012 and 2011.

Pooled separate accounts: Valued at net asset value (NAV) of the units of the pooled separate accounts. The NAV, as provided by the insurance company, is used as a practical expedient to estimate fair value. The NAV is based upon the fair value of the underlying investments comprising the pooled separate accounts. This practical expedient is not used when it is determined to be probable that the fund will sell for an amount different than the reported NAV.

Guaranteed income fund: The Plan's investment in the insurance company general account of PRIAC is valued at contract value which equals fair value as a fair value adjustment does not apply upon discontinuance. Contract value represents deposits made to the contract, plus earnings at guaranteed credit rates, less withdrawals and fees. See Note 6 – Investment Contract with Insurance Company.

Mutual funds: Valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held by the Plan are open-end mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily NAV and to transact at that price. The mutual funds held by the Plan are deemed to be actively traded.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's assets measured at fair value as of December 31, 2012 and 2011.

(a) This category offers a chance to share in the profits or losses of corporations by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of companies with market capitalizations of between $2 billion and $10 billion. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(b) This category offers a chance to share in the profits or losses of corporations by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of companies with market capitalizations over $10 billion. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(c) This category invests in growth, value and blended funds, which are invested in foreign countries. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(d) This category invests in corporate and government bonds. They can go up or down in value each day, so they carry more risk than stable-value investments, but also offer an opportunity for a larger return. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(e) This category invests in both fixed-income and stock components to offer the stability of fixed-income investments and the growth potential of stock investments. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

Changes in Fair Value Levels

To assess the appropriate classification of investments within the fair value hierarchy, the availability of market data is monitored. Changes in economic conditions or valuation techniques may require the transfer of investments from one fair value level to another. In such instances, the transfer is reported at the end of the reporting period.

Plan management evaluates the significance of transfers between levels based upon the nature of the investment and size of the transfer relative to total net assets available for benefits. For the year ended December 31, 2012, there were no significant transfers in or out of Level 3.

The table below sets forth a summary of changes in the fair value of the Plan's Level 3 assets for the year ended December 31, 2012.

	Guaranteed Income Fund
Balance, beginning of year	$ 5,088,682
Purchases	1,219,858
Sales	(932,574)
Balance, end of year	$ 5,375,966

Quantitative Information about Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Level 3 Fair Value Measurements

The following table represents the Plan's Level 3 financial instruments, the valuation techniques used to measure the fair value of those financial instruments, and the significant unobservable inputs and the ranges of values for those inputs.

Investments	Fair Value	Principal Valuation Technique	Unobservable Inputs	Range of Significant Input Value	Weighted Average
Insurance Company General Account - Guaranteed Income Fund	$ 5,375,966	See Note 6	See Note 6	See Note 6	See Note 6

In estimating fair value of these investments in Level 3, the Plan's Investment Committee uses the insurance company to provide the value. In substantiating the reasonableness of the pricing data provided by the insurance company, the Plan Investment Committee evaluates a variety of factors including review existing contracts, economic conditions, industry and market developments, and overall credit ratings. The Plan's Investment Committee monitors and reviews the results of the insurance company to ensure the fair values are reasonable and in line with market experience in similar asset classes. While the input amounts used by the insurance company in determining the fair value are not provided, and therefore unavailable for review, the Plan's Investment Committee performs the following procedures to validate the prices received:

- Validate the contributions remitted to the insurance company which are used in the pricing;
- Validate the distributions that have been paid which are used in the pricing; and
- Corroboration of earnings by reference to other independent market data such as market transaction and relevant benchmarks.

Note 6. Investment Contract with Insurance Company

The Plan entered into a fully benefit-responsive investment contract with PRIAC. PRIAC maintains the contributions in a general account. This contract is an evergreen product as it has no maturity date. It does not operate like a mutual fund, variable annuity product, or conventional fixed rate individual annuity product. This product is not a traditional Guaranteed Investment Contract ("GIC"), and therefore there are no known cash flows that could be discounted. This annuity contract is not backed by specific securities of the issuer's general account, and therefore it would be inappropriate to look to the market value of the securities within the insurer's general account to determine a fair value. The concept of a value other than contract value does not apply to this insurance company issued evergreen group annuity product. This contract's operation is different than many other evergreen group annuity products as a market value (fair value) adjustment does not apply upon a discontinuance. Even upon a discontinuance of the contract, the contract value would be paid no later than 30 days from the date the sponsor provides notice to discontinue and 90 days after all information and expenses are received by PRIAC.

The Plan owns a promise to receive interest at crediting rates which are announced in advance and guaranteed for a specified period of time as outlined in the group annuity contract. The contract is backed by the full faith and creditworthiness of the issuer. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of the issuer and not on the value of the securities within the insurer's general account. The credit rating of the issuer at December 31, 2012 was A as reported by Moody's Investors Service. Deposits are made to the insurer's general account. Payment obligations represent an insurance claim supported by all general account assets. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their investment at contract value. The issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the plan. There are no reserves against contract value for credit risk of the contract issuer or otherwise. As a result, the fair value amount shown in Note 5 is equal to and approximates the contract value as there is no fair value adjustment upon discontinuance. Contract value represents deposits made to the contract, plus earnings at guaranteed crediting rates, less withdrawals and fees.

Interest is credited based on a formula in the contract. The interest crediting rate is reset semi-annually at the discretion of the insurer. The minimum crediting rate under the contract is 1.5 percent. When establishing interest crediting rates for this product, the issuer considers many factors, including current economic and market conditions, the general interest rate environment and both the expected and actual experience of a reference portfolio within the general account. Past interest rates are not indicative of future interest rates. Key factors that could influence future interest crediting rates are changes in economic and market conditions, interest rates, and default or credit failures of the securities in the insurer's general assets.

Average yields are as follows:

	2012	2011
Based on actual earnings	2.15%	2.55%
Based on interest rate credited to participants	2.15%	2.55%

There are not any events that allow the issuer to terminate the contract and which require the Company Sponsor to settle at an amount different than contract value. Events that limit the ability to transact at contract value with the issuer include the following: (a) amendments to the plan documents (including complete or partial plan termination or merger with another plan), (b) changes to the Plan's prohibition on competing investment options or deletion of equity wash provisions, (c) bankruptcy of the Company sponsor or other company sponsor events (for example, divestitures or spin-offs of a subsidiary) that cause a significant withdrawal from the Plan, or (d) the failure of the trust to qualify for exemption from federal income taxes or any required prohibited transaction exemption under ERISA. The Plan Administrator does not believe that any events which would limit the Plan's ability to transact at contract value with participants are probable of occurring.

Note 7. Party-In-Interest Transactions

Plan assets include investments in funds managed by PRIAC, the custodian. These transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions under ERISA. Fees paid by the Plan to PRIAC amounted to $20,447 for the year ended December 31, 2012.

The Company, the Plan Sponsor, may pay certain plan expenses directly. In addition, certain employees of the Company are responsible for the administration of the Plan. Personnel of the Company are compensated by the Company and do not receive any compensation from the Plan.

Note 8. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of plan termination, participants would become 100 percent vested in their employer contributions.

Note 9. Tax Status

The Plan obtained its determination letter on June 4, 2004, in which the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stated that the Plan, as then designed and amended, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. The Plan Administrator believes that the Plan is designed and is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan applied for a new determination letter in 2010, and has not yet received the new letter. Plan management will make any changes deemed necessary to ensure that the Plan maintains its tax-exempt status.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by local, state or federal taxing authorities. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan Administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examination prior to 2009.

Note 10. Reconciliation of Financial Statements to Form 5500

The following is a reconciliation of net assets available for benefits per the financial statements to the Form 5500:

	2012	2011
Net assets available for benefits per the financial statements	$ 27,521,658	$ 24,147,282
Notes receivable from participants	(729,058)	(726,842)
Participant loans	729,058	726,842
Net asset available for benefits per Form 5500	$ 27,521,658	$ 24,147,282

Note 11. Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits.

Note 12. Voluntary Correction Program

Prior to January 1, 2003, non-union personnel employed at site locations and paid on-site payroll (Excluded Employees) were not considered eligible to participate in the Plan. When the Plan was amended and restated on January 1, 2003, it did not retain the exclusion provision that existed prior to this amendment and restatement. The Company did not intend to eliminate the exclusion provision and was not aware that the Excluded Employees became eligible beginning January 1, 2003 due to this scrivener's error.

In January 2012, the Plan filed for a Voluntary Correction Program (VCP) application with the IRS in order to correct this operational failure, which occurred from January 1, 2003 through December 31, 2011, and affected 121 current and former employees. Under the VCP, the Company proposed to make a qualified nonelective contribution (QNEC) to the Plan on behalf of each Excluded Employee that replaced the missed deferral opportunity, plus earnings in the amount of $104,116. The Company also proposed to make a profit sharing contribution to Excluded Employees who met the eligibility requirements for profit sharing contribution at the time of such profit sharing contribution for Plan years 2003 through 2007 in the amount of $12,253. The Company received a compliance statement from the IRS and in January 2013 remitted to the Plan $124,079 for the QNEC and profit sharing contributions and lost earnings.

Plan management believes that the operational failure did not have a material effect on the Plan's qualified tax status.

Report on the Financial Statements

We were engaged to audit the accompanying financial statements of Draper and Kramer Profit Sharing and Incentive Savings Plan (the Plan), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2012, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on conducting the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Because of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, however, we were not able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion.

Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion

As permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the Plan Administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 3, which was certified or provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, FSB, the trustee of the Plan, and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company, a custodian of the Plan, except for comparing this information with the related information included in the financial statements. We have been informed by the Plan Administrator that the trustee and custodian hold the Plan's assets and execute transactions. The Plan Administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee and custodian as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and for the year ended December 31, 2012, that the information provided to the Plan Administrator by the trustee and custodian is complete and accurate.

Disclaimer of Opinion

Because of the significance of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, we have not been able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on these financial statements.

Note 1. Description of Plan

The following description of Draper and Kramer Profit Sharing and Incentive Savings Plan (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General: The Plan is a defined-contribution plan established effective January 1, 1960. Effective January 1, 2009, the Plan was amended and restated for various provisions, including the elimination of the eligibility service requirement of 1,000 hours for part-time employees. Employees of DKH, Incorporated (the Company) become eligible to participate upon employment. Effective January 1, 2012, the Plan was amended to exclude non-union personnel employed at site locations and paid on-site payroll. In addition, the Plan was amended on October 12, 2012, effective September 4, 2012 to allow Roth 401(k) contributions and related Roth 401(k) provisions. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Contributions: Participants may contribute an amount equal to not less than 1 percent up to 100 percent of their pre-tax compensation, up to the maximum amount allowed by the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 402(g), adjusted for the cost of living. This amount was $17,000 for the year ended December 31, 2012. Participants who will attain age 50 before the end of the plan year are eligible to make catch-up contributions. Maximum catch-up contributions allowed by IRC Section 414(v) was $5,500 for the year ended December 31, 2012. The Plan provides for automatic enrollment, whereby participants are treated as having elected to contribute 3 percent of their pre-tax compensation, unless a different amount or an election not to contribute has been submitted. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined benefit or defined contribution plans. Participants direct the investment of their contributions in 1 percent increments into various investment options offered by the Plan. The Plan currently offers a guaranteed income fund, mutual funds and various pooled separate accounts offered by Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company (PRIAC). Participant contributions are recorded in the period during which the Company makes payroll deductions from the participant's earnings.

The Company may make discretionary matching contributions in amounts determined by its Board of Directors. The Company may also make a qualified nonelective or a profit sharing contribution to be determined by its Board of Directors. The Company contributions are invested directly in the guaranteed income fund, mutual funds or pooled separate account investments as directed by the participant. Contributions received awaiting investment in the appropriate investment options are invested in the guaranteed income fund. Discretionary matching contributions, if any, are made monthly. Additional qualified nonelective or profit sharing contributions, if any, are recorded annually. There were no matching or profit sharing contributions made for 2012. During 2012, a qualified nonelective contributions in the amount of $124,079 was approved by the Company in order to correct an operational error. This amount was remitted to the Plan in January 2013. See Note 12.

Participant accounts: Each participant's account is credited with the participant's contribution and an allocation of the Company's contributions and plan earnings, and charged with an allocation of investment expenses. Earnings are allocated by fund based on the ratio of a participant's account invested in a particular fund to all participants' investments in that fund. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account.

Vesting: Participants are immediately vested in their own contributions and Company qualified nonelective contributions plus actual earnings thereon. Vesting in the Company's matching and profit sharing contribution portions of their account is based on years of service in accordance with the following schedule:

Years of Service	Vesting Percentage
Less than 2	0%
2, but less than 3	20%
3, but less than 4	40%
4, but less than 5	60%
5, but less than 6	80%
6 or more	100%

If an active participant reaches the normal retirement age or becomes disabled or deceased prior to attaining the normal retirement age, the participant's account becomes 100 percent vested.

Benefit payments: On termination of service due to death, disability, retirement or other reasons, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum amount equal to the value of the vested portion of the participant's account, a distribution in the form of installment payments or a combination of these payment options. If a participant's vested benefit is more than $1,000 but not more than $5,000 upon termination of service, the Plan Administrator is required to distribute the benefit into an Individual Retirement Account without consent from the participant if the participant does not make a distribution election after receiving the required notification. If a participant's vested benefit is less than $1,000 upon termination of service, the Plan Administrator is required to distribute the benefit directly to the participant without consent. In-service and hardship withdrawals are allowed by the Plan.

Notes receivable from participants: Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 up to a maximum of $50,000 or 50 percent of the vested portion of their account balance, whichever is less. The terms of notes receivable range from a period of one year to a period not to exceed five years, except for those used to purchase a primary residence where the repayment period may be as long as 10 years. A note receivable from a participant is collateralized by the balance in the participant's account and bears interest at rates that range from 4.25 percent to 9.25 percent, which are commensurate with market rates for similar loans, as defined. Principal and interest are paid ratably through payroll deductions made not less frequently than quarterly. All terminated notes receivable from participants are treated as a taxable distribution.

Forfeitures: As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, forfeited nonvested amounts totaled $546 and $4,824, respectively. These forfeitures will be used to reduce future employer contributions or pay Plan expenses as determined by the Plan Administrator. During 2012, forfeitures of $10,121 were used to pay for Plan expenses.

Administrative expenses: The Plan is responsible for payment of custodian and recordkeeping fees; however, the Company may pay the Plan's expenses directly. Transaction charges (for loan and benefit payment transactions) are paid by the Plan by reducing the balances of those participants initiating the transactions.

Other income: Pursuant to an agreement to provide elective and professional and administrative services between the Company and PRIAC, the latter agrees to make payments to or on behalf of the Plan to pay its reasonable and actually incurred Plan administrative expenses. This amount is equal to 0.20 percent of the average eligible Plan assets in each plan year, which will be paid in quarterly installments. For the year ended December 31, 2012, $56,240 was paid to the Plan under this agreement.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting: The financial statements of the Plan are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Investment contracts held by a defined-contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined-contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the Plan. The statement of net assets available for benefits presents the fair value of the investment contracts as well as the adjustment, if required, of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The statement of changes in net assets available for benefits is prepared using the contract value basis for fully benefit-responsive investment contracts. As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, contract value approximated fair value.

Investment valuation and income recognition: Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The Plan's Investment Committee determines the Plan's valuation policies utilizing information provided by the investment custodian and insurance company. See Note 5 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Payment of benefits: Benefits are recorded when paid.

Notes receivable from participants: Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent participant loans are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the plan document.

Recent accounting pronouncements: In May 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2011-04, Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurements and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs, (ASU 2011-04). ASU 2011-04 amended Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820, Fair Value Measurements. This Update changes certain fair value measurement principles and enhances the disclosure requirements particularly for Level 3 fair value measurements. The amendments are to be applied prospectively and are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011. See Note 5 for impact of adoption.

In October 2012, the FASB issued ASU 2012-04, Technical Corrections and Improvements. The amendments in this Update cover a wide range of Topics in the ASC, including plan accounting. These amendments include technical corrections and improvements to the ASC and conforming amendments related to fair value measurements. The amendments in this Update will generally be effective for fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2013, except for amendments in this Update where there was no transition guidance which were immediately effective upon issuance. The adoption of immediately effective amendments was not significant to these financial statements. The adoption of ASU 2012-04 is not expected to have a material impact on subsequent periods.

The Plan has evaluated subsequent events for potential recognition and/or disclosure through October 9, 2013, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 3. Information Certified and Provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B. and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company

The following is a summary of the Plan's asset and income information as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and for the year ended December 31, 2012 included throughout the Plan's financial statements and supplemental schedule, that was prepared by or derived from information provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B., the trustee, and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company (PRIAC), a custodian, and furnished to the Plan Administrator. The Plan Administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee and custodian that information provided to the Plan Administrator by the trustee and custodian related to the following assets and income is complete and accurate. Accordingly, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, the Plan Administrator instructed the Plan's independent auditors not to perform any auditing procedures with respect to information which appears throughout the financial statements and supplemental schedule related to the following assets and income:

During 2012, the Plan’s investments (including gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year) appreciated in value as follows:

Pooled separate accounts	$ 1,689,450
Mutual funds	850,343
	$ 2,539,793

Note 5. Fair Value Measurements

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access.

Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair market value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2012 and 2011.

Pooled separate accounts: Valued at net asset value (NAV) of the units of the pooled separate accounts. The NAV, as provided by the insurance company, is used as a practical expedient to estimate fair value. The NAV is based upon the fair value of the underlying investments comprising the pooled separate accounts. This practical expedient is not used when it is determined to be probable that the fund will sell for an amount different than the reported NAV.

Guaranteed income fund: The Plan's investment in the insurance company general account of PRIAC is valued at contract value which equals fair value as a fair value adjustment does not apply upon discontinuance. Contract value represents deposits made to the contract, plus earnings at guaranteed credit rates, less withdrawals and fees. See Note 6 – Investment Contract with Insurance Company.

Mutual funds: Valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held by the Plan are open-end mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily NAV and to transact at that price. The mutual funds held by the Plan are deemed to be actively traded.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's assets measured at fair value as of December 31, 2012 and 2011.

(a) This category offers a chance to share in the profits or losses of corporations by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of companies with market capitalizations of between $2 billion and $10 billion. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(b) This category offers a chance to share in the profits or losses of corporations by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of companies with market capitalizations over $10 billion. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(c) This category invests in growth, value and blended funds, which are invested in foreign countries. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(d) This category invests in corporate and government bonds. They can go up or down in value each day, so they carry more risk than stable-value investments, but also offer an opportunity for a larger return. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(e) This category invests in both fixed-income and stock components to offer the stability of fixed-income investments and the growth potential of stock investments. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

Changes in Fair Value Levels

To assess the appropriate classification of investments within the fair value hierarchy, the availability of market data is monitored. Changes in economic conditions or valuation techniques may require the transfer of investments from one fair value level to another. In such instances, the transfer is reported at the end of the reporting period.

Plan management evaluates the significance of transfers between levels based upon the nature of the investment and size of the transfer relative to total net assets available for benefits. For the year ended December 31, 2012, there were no significant transfers in or out of Level 3.

The table below sets forth a summary of changes in the fair value of the Plan's Level 3 assets for the year ended December 31, 2012.

	Guaranteed Income Fund
Balance, beginning of year	$ 5,088,682
Purchases	1,219,858
Sales	(932,574)
Balance, end of year	$ 5,375,966

Quantitative Information about Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Level 3 Fair Value Measurements

The following table represents the Plan's Level 3 financial instruments, the valuation techniques used to measure the fair value of those financial instruments, and the significant unobservable inputs and the ranges of values for those inputs.

Investments	Fair Value	Principal Valuation Technique	Unobservable Inputs	Range of Significant Input Value	Weighted Average
Insurance Company General Account - Guaranteed Income Fund	$ 5,375,966	See Note 6	See Note 6	See Note 6	See Note 6

In estimating fair value of these investments in Level 3, the Plan's Investment Committee uses the insurance company to provide the value. In substantiating the reasonableness of the pricing data provided by the insurance company, the Plan Investment Committee evaluates a variety of factors including review existing contracts, economic conditions, industry and market developments, and overall credit ratings. The Plan's Investment Committee monitors and reviews the results of the insurance company to ensure the fair values are reasonable and in line with market experience in similar asset classes. While the input amounts used by the insurance company in determining the fair value are not provided, and therefore unavailable for review, the Plan's Investment Committee performs the following procedures to validate the prices received:

- Validate the contributions remitted to the insurance company which are used in the pricing;
- Validate the distributions that have been paid which are used in the pricing; and
- Corroboration of earnings by reference to other independent market data such as market transaction and relevant benchmarks.

Note 6. Investment Contract with Insurance Company

The Plan entered into a fully benefit-responsive investment contract with PRIAC. PRIAC maintains the contributions in a general account. This contract is an evergreen product as it has no maturity date. It does not operate like a mutual fund, variable annuity product, or conventional fixed rate individual annuity product. This product is not a traditional Guaranteed Investment Contract ("GIC"), and therefore there are no known cash flows that could be discounted. This annuity contract is not backed by specific securities of the issuer's general account, and therefore it would be inappropriate to look to the market value of the securities within the insurer's general account to determine a fair value. The concept of a value other than contract value does not apply to this insurance company issued evergreen group annuity product. This contract's operation is different than many other evergreen group annuity products as a market value (fair value) adjustment does not apply upon a discontinuance. Even upon a discontinuance of the contract, the contract value would be paid no later than 30 days from the date the sponsor provides notice to discontinue and 90 days after all information and expenses are received by PRIAC.

The Plan owns a promise to receive interest at crediting rates which are announced in advance and guaranteed for a specified period of time as outlined in the group annuity contract. The contract is backed by the full faith and creditworthiness of the issuer. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of the issuer and not on the value of the securities within the insurer's general account. The credit rating of the issuer at December 31, 2012 was A as reported by Moody's Investors Service. Deposits are made to the insurer's general account. Payment obligations represent an insurance claim supported by all general account assets. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their investment at contract value. The issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the plan. There are no reserves against contract value for credit risk of the contract issuer or otherwise. As a result, the fair value amount shown in Note 5 is equal to and approximates the contract value as there is no fair value adjustment upon discontinuance. Contract value represents deposits made to the contract, plus earnings at guaranteed crediting rates, less withdrawals and fees.

Interest is credited based on a formula in the contract. The interest crediting rate is reset semi-annually at the discretion of the insurer. The minimum crediting rate under the contract is 1.5 percent. When establishing interest crediting rates for this product, the issuer considers many factors, including current economic and market conditions, the general interest rate environment and both the expected and actual experience of a reference portfolio within the general account. Past interest rates are not indicative of future interest rates. Key factors that could influence future interest crediting rates are changes in economic and market conditions, interest rates, and default or credit failures of the securities in the insurer's general assets.

Average yields are as follows:

	2012	2011
Based on actual earnings	2.15%	2.55%
Based on interest rate credited to participants	2.15%	2.55%

There are not any events that allow the issuer to terminate the contract and which require the Company Sponsor to settle at an amount different than contract value. Events that limit the ability to transact at contract value with the issuer include the following: (a) amendments to the plan documents (including complete or partial plan termination or merger with another plan), (b) changes to the Plan's prohibition on competing investment options or deletion of equity wash provisions, (c) bankruptcy of the Company sponsor or other company sponsor events (for example, divestitures or spin-offs of a subsidiary) that cause a significant withdrawal from the Plan, or (d) the failure of the trust to qualify for exemption from federal income taxes or any required prohibited transaction exemption under ERISA. The Plan Administrator does not believe that any events which would limit the Plan's ability to transact at contract value with participants are probable of occurring.

Note 7. Party-In-Interest Transactions

Plan assets include investments in funds managed by PRIAC, the custodian. These transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions under ERISA. Fees paid by the Plan to PRIAC amounted to $20,447 for the year ended December 31, 2012.

The Company, the Plan Sponsor, may pay certain plan expenses directly. In addition, certain employees of the Company are responsible for the administration of the Plan. Personnel of the Company are compensated by the Company and do not receive any compensation from the Plan.

Note 8. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of plan termination, participants would become 100 percent vested in their employer contributions.

Note 9. Tax Status

The Plan obtained its determination letter on June 4, 2004, in which the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stated that the Plan, as then designed and amended, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. The Plan Administrator believes that the Plan is designed and is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan applied for a new determination letter in 2010, and has not yet received the new letter. Plan management will make any changes deemed necessary to ensure that the Plan maintains its tax-exempt status.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by local, state or federal taxing authorities. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan Administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examination prior to 2009.

Note 10. Reconciliation of Financial Statements to Form 5500

The following is a reconciliation of net assets available for benefits per the financial statements to the Form 5500:

	2012	2011
Net assets available for benefits per the financial statements	$ 27,521,658	$ 24,147,282
Notes receivable from participants	(729,058)	(726,842)
Participant loans	729,058	726,842
Net asset available for benefits per Form 5500	$ 27,521,658	$ 24,147,282

Note 11. Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits.

Note 12. Voluntary Correction Program

Prior to January 1, 2003, non-union personnel employed at site locations and paid on-site payroll (Excluded Employees) were not considered eligible to participate in the Plan. When the Plan was amended and restated on January 1, 2003, it did not retain the exclusion provision that existed prior to this amendment and restatement. The Company did not intend to eliminate the exclusion provision and was not aware that the Excluded Employees became eligible beginning January 1, 2003 due to this scrivener's error.

In January 2012, the Plan filed for a Voluntary Correction Program (VCP) application with the IRS in order to correct this operational failure, which occurred from January 1, 2003 through December 31, 2011, and affected 121 current and former employees. Under the VCP, the Company proposed to make a qualified nonelective contribution (QNEC) to the Plan on behalf of each Excluded Employee that replaced the missed deferral opportunity, plus earnings in the amount of $104,116. The Company also proposed to make a profit sharing contribution to Excluded Employees who met the eligibility requirements for profit sharing contribution at the time of such profit sharing contribution for Plan years 2003 through 2007 in the amount of $12,253. The Company received a compliance statement from the IRS and in January 2013 remitted to the Plan $124,079 for the QNEC and profit sharing contributions and lost earnings.

Plan management believes that the operational failure did not have a material effect on the Plan's qualified tax status.

Report on the Financial Statements

We were engaged to audit the accompanying financial statements of Draper and Kramer Profit Sharing and Incentive Savings Plan (the Plan), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2012, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on conducting the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Because of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, however, we were not able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion.

Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion

As permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the Plan Administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 3, which was certified or provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, FSB, the trustee of the Plan, and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company, a custodian of the Plan, except for comparing this information with the related information included in the financial statements. We have been informed by the Plan Administrator that the trustee and custodian hold the Plan's assets and execute transactions. The Plan Administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee and custodian as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and for the year ended December 31, 2012, that the information provided to the Plan Administrator by the trustee and custodian is complete and accurate.

Disclaimer of Opinion

Because of the significance of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, we have not been able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on these financial statements.

Note 1. Description of Plan

The following description of Draper and Kramer Profit Sharing and Incentive Savings Plan (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General: The Plan is a defined-contribution plan established effective January 1, 1960. Effective January 1, 2009, the Plan was amended and restated for various provisions, including the elimination of the eligibility service requirement of 1,000 hours for part-time employees. Employees of DKH, Incorporated (the Company) become eligible to participate upon employment. Effective January 1, 2012, the Plan was amended to exclude non-union personnel employed at site locations and paid on-site payroll. In addition, the Plan was amended on October 12, 2012, effective September 4, 2012 to allow Roth 401(k) contributions and related Roth 401(k) provisions. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Contributions: Participants may contribute an amount equal to not less than 1 percent up to 100 percent of their pre-tax compensation, up to the maximum amount allowed by the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 402(g), adjusted for the cost of living. This amount was $17,000 for the year ended December 31, 2012. Participants who will attain age 50 before the end of the plan year are eligible to make catch-up contributions. Maximum catch-up contributions allowed by IRC Section 414(v) was $5,500 for the year ended December 31, 2012. The Plan provides for automatic enrollment, whereby participants are treated as having elected to contribute 3 percent of their pre-tax compensation, unless a different amount or an election not to contribute has been submitted. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined benefit or defined contribution plans. Participants direct the investment of their contributions in 1 percent increments into various investment options offered by the Plan. The Plan currently offers a guaranteed income fund, mutual funds and various pooled separate accounts offered by Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company (PRIAC). Participant contributions are recorded in the period during which the Company makes payroll deductions from the participant's earnings.

The Company may make discretionary matching contributions in amounts determined by its Board of Directors. The Company may also make a qualified nonelective or a profit sharing contribution to be determined by its Board of Directors. The Company contributions are invested directly in the guaranteed income fund, mutual funds or pooled separate account investments as directed by the participant. Contributions received awaiting investment in the appropriate investment options are invested in the guaranteed income fund. Discretionary matching contributions, if any, are made monthly. Additional qualified nonelective or profit sharing contributions, if any, are recorded annually. There were no matching or profit sharing contributions made for 2012. During 2012, a qualified nonelective contributions in the amount of $124,079 was approved by the Company in order to correct an operational error. This amount was remitted to the Plan in January 2013. See Note 12.

Participant accounts: Each participant's account is credited with the participant's contribution and an allocation of the Company's contributions and plan earnings, and charged with an allocation of investment expenses. Earnings are allocated by fund based on the ratio of a participant's account invested in a particular fund to all participants' investments in that fund. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account.

Vesting: Participants are immediately vested in their own contributions and Company qualified nonelective contributions plus actual earnings thereon. Vesting in the Company's matching and profit sharing contribution portions of their account is based on years of service in accordance with the following schedule:

Years of Service	Vesting Percentage
Less than 2	0%
2, but less than 3	20%
3, but less than 4	40%
4, but less than 5	60%
5, but less than 6	80%
6 or more	100%

If an active participant reaches the normal retirement age or becomes disabled or deceased prior to attaining the normal retirement age, the participant's account becomes 100 percent vested.

Benefit payments: On termination of service due to death, disability, retirement or other reasons, a participant may elect to receive either a lump-sum amount equal to the value of the vested portion of the participant's account, a distribution in the form of installment payments or a combination of these payment options. If a participant's vested benefit is more than $1,000 but not more than $5,000 upon termination of service, the Plan Administrator is required to distribute the benefit into an Individual Retirement Account without consent from the participant if the participant does not make a distribution election after receiving the required notification. If a participant's vested benefit is less than $1,000 upon termination of service, the Plan Administrator is required to distribute the benefit directly to the participant without consent. In-service and hardship withdrawals are allowed by the Plan.

Notes receivable from participants: Participants may borrow from their accounts a minimum of $1,000 up to a maximum of $50,000 or 50 percent of the vested portion of their account balance, whichever is less. The terms of notes receivable range from a period of one year to a period not to exceed five years, except for those used to purchase a primary residence where the repayment period may be as long as 10 years. A note receivable from a participant is collateralized by the balance in the participant's account and bears interest at rates that range from 4.25 percent to 9.25 percent, which are commensurate with market rates for similar loans, as defined. Principal and interest are paid ratably through payroll deductions made not less frequently than quarterly. All terminated notes receivable from participants are treated as a taxable distribution.

Forfeitures: As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, forfeited nonvested amounts totaled $546 and $4,824, respectively. These forfeitures will be used to reduce future employer contributions or pay Plan expenses as determined by the Plan Administrator. During 2012, forfeitures of $10,121 were used to pay for Plan expenses.

Administrative expenses: The Plan is responsible for payment of custodian and recordkeeping fees; however, the Company may pay the Plan's expenses directly. Transaction charges (for loan and benefit payment transactions) are paid by the Plan by reducing the balances of those participants initiating the transactions.

Other income: Pursuant to an agreement to provide elective and professional and administrative services between the Company and PRIAC, the latter agrees to make payments to or on behalf of the Plan to pay its reasonable and actually incurred Plan administrative expenses. This amount is equal to 0.20 percent of the average eligible Plan assets in each plan year, which will be paid in quarterly installments. For the year ended December 31, 2012, $56,240 was paid to the Plan under this agreement.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting: The financial statements of the Plan are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Investment contracts held by a defined-contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined-contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the Plan. The statement of net assets available for benefits presents the fair value of the investment contracts as well as the adjustment, if required, of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The statement of changes in net assets available for benefits is prepared using the contract value basis for fully benefit-responsive investment contracts. As of December 31, 2012 and 2011, contract value approximated fair value.

Investment valuation and income recognition: Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The Plan's Investment Committee determines the Plan's valuation policies utilizing information provided by the investment custodian and insurance company. See Note 5 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and changes therein and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Payment of benefits: Benefits are recorded when paid.

Notes receivable from participants: Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent participant loans are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the plan document.

Recent accounting pronouncements: In May 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2011-04, Amendments to Achieve Common Fair Value Measurements and Disclosure Requirements in U.S. GAAP and IFRSs, (ASU 2011-04). ASU 2011-04 amended Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820, Fair Value Measurements. This Update changes certain fair value measurement principles and enhances the disclosure requirements particularly for Level 3 fair value measurements. The amendments are to be applied prospectively and are effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2011. See Note 5 for impact of adoption.

In October 2012, the FASB issued ASU 2012-04, Technical Corrections and Improvements. The amendments in this Update cover a wide range of Topics in the ASC, including plan accounting. These amendments include technical corrections and improvements to the ASC and conforming amendments related to fair value measurements. The amendments in this Update will generally be effective for fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2013, except for amendments in this Update where there was no transition guidance which were immediately effective upon issuance. The adoption of immediately effective amendments was not significant to these financial statements. The adoption of ASU 2012-04 is not expected to have a material impact on subsequent periods.

The Plan has evaluated subsequent events for potential recognition and/or disclosure through October 9, 2013, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 3. Information Certified and Provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B. and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company

The following is a summary of the Plan's asset and income information as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and for the year ended December 31, 2012 included throughout the Plan's financial statements and supplemental schedule, that was prepared by or derived from information provided by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B., the trustee, and Prudential Retirement Insurance and Annuity Company (PRIAC), a custodian, and furnished to the Plan Administrator. The Plan Administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee and custodian that information provided to the Plan Administrator by the trustee and custodian related to the following assets and income is complete and accurate. Accordingly, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, the Plan Administrator instructed the Plan's independent auditors not to perform any auditing procedures with respect to information which appears throughout the financial statements and supplemental schedule related to the following assets and income:

	2012		2011
Investments, at fair value:
Pooled separate accounts	$ 13,023,603	*	$ 12,244,389	*
Guaranteed income fund (contract value approximates fair value)	5,375,966	*	5,088,682	*
Mutual funds	8,268,952		6,087,369	**
Notes receivable from participants	729,058		726,842	**
Net appreciation in fair value of pooled separate accounts	1,689,450	*
Net appreciation in fair value of mutual funds	850,343	**
Interest income	113,458	*
Dividend income	101,577	**
Interest income on notes receivable from participants	33,408	**

* The above information has been certified by PRIAC, a Plan custodian, as complete and accurate.
 The above information has been certified by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B., the Plan trustee, as complete and accurate.

Note 4. Investments

The following table presents those investments that represent 5 percent or more of the Plan's net assets at December 31, 2012 and 2011:

	2012	2011
Guaranteed Income Fund	$ 5,375,966	$ 5,088,682
Prudential Fidelity Advisor Equity Growth Fund	1,713,397	1,352,865
Prudential Dryden S&P 500 Index Fund	2,804,341	1,841,897
Prudential Balanced I/Wellington Management Fund	1,835,495	1,538,829
Prudential Templeton Foreign Strategy	2,254,119	1,232,259
Prudential Mid Cap Growth/Artisan Partners	1,615,273	1,381,092
Eaton Vance Large Cap Value A	1,909,258	*

* Less than 5 percent of net assets at year end.

During 2012, the Plan’s investments (including gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year) appreciated in value as follows:

Pooled separate accounts	$ 1,689,450
Mutual funds	850,343
	$ 2,539,793

Note 5. Fair Value Measurements

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access.

Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair market value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2012 and 2011.

Pooled separate accounts: Valued at net asset value (NAV) of the units of the pooled separate accounts. The NAV, as provided by the insurance company, is used as a practical expedient to estimate fair value. The NAV is based upon the fair value of the underlying investments comprising the pooled separate accounts. This practical expedient is not used when it is determined to be probable that the fund will sell for an amount different than the reported NAV.

Guaranteed income fund: The Plan's investment in the insurance company general account of PRIAC is valued at contract value which equals fair value as a fair value adjustment does not apply upon discontinuance. Contract value represents deposits made to the contract, plus earnings at guaranteed credit rates, less withdrawals and fees. See Note 6 – Investment Contract with Insurance Company.

Mutual funds: Valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held by the Plan are open-end mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily NAV and to transact at that price. The mutual funds held by the Plan are deemed to be actively traded.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's assets measured at fair value as of December 31, 2012 and 2011.

(a) This category offers a chance to share in the profits or losses of corporations by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of companies with market capitalizations of between $2 billion and $10 billion. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(b) This category offers a chance to share in the profits or losses of corporations by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of companies with market capitalizations over $10 billion. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(c) This category invests in growth, value and blended funds, which are invested in foreign countries. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(d) This category invests in corporate and government bonds. They can go up or down in value each day, so they carry more risk than stable-value investments, but also offer an opportunity for a larger return. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

(e) This category invests in both fixed-income and stock components to offer the stability of fixed-income investments and the growth potential of stock investments. Redemption of investments in this category can be delayed for up to 30 days if there is negative cash flow or if the redemption of the shares would negatively affect remaining investors. The redemption value is the current NAV per share based on the fair value of the underlying assets.

Changes in Fair Value Levels

To assess the appropriate classification of investments within the fair value hierarchy, the availability of market data is monitored. Changes in economic conditions or valuation techniques may require the transfer of investments from one fair value level to another. In such instances, the transfer is reported at the end of the reporting period.

Plan management evaluates the significance of transfers between levels based upon the nature of the investment and size of the transfer relative to total net assets available for benefits. For the year ended December 31, 2012, there were no significant transfers in or out of Level 3.

The table below sets forth a summary of changes in the fair value of the Plan's Level 3 assets for the year ended December 31, 2012.

	Guaranteed Income Fund
Balance, beginning of year	$ 5,088,682
Purchases	1,219,858
Sales	(932,574)
Balance, end of year	$ 5,375,966

Quantitative Information about Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Level 3 Fair Value Measurements

The following table represents the Plan's Level 3 financial instruments, the valuation techniques used to measure the fair value of those financial instruments, and the significant unobservable inputs and the ranges of values for those inputs.

Investments	Fair Value	Principal Valuation Technique	Unobservable Inputs	Range of Significant Input Value	Weighted Average
Insurance Company General Account - Guaranteed Income Fund	$ 5,375,966	See Note 6	See Note 6	See Note 6	See Note 6

In estimating fair value of these investments in Level 3, the Plan's Investment Committee uses the insurance company to provide the value. In substantiating the reasonableness of the pricing data provided by the insurance company, the Plan Investment Committee evaluates a variety of factors including review existing contracts, economic conditions, industry and market developments, and overall credit ratings. The Plan's Investment Committee monitors and reviews the results of the insurance company to ensure the fair values are reasonable and in line with market experience in similar asset classes. While the input amounts used by the insurance company in determining the fair value are not provided, and therefore unavailable for review, the Plan's Investment Committee performs the following procedures to validate the prices received:

- Validate the contributions remitted to the insurance company which are used in the pricing;
- Validate the distributions that have been paid which are used in the pricing; and
- Corroboration of earnings by reference to other independent market data such as market transaction and relevant benchmarks.

Note 6. Investment Contract with Insurance Company

The Plan entered into a fully benefit-responsive investment contract with PRIAC. PRIAC maintains the contributions in a general account. This contract is an evergreen product as it has no maturity date. It does not operate like a mutual fund, variable annuity product, or conventional fixed rate individual annuity product. This product is not a traditional Guaranteed Investment Contract ("GIC"), and therefore there are no known cash flows that could be discounted. This annuity contract is not backed by specific securities of the issuer's general account, and therefore it would be inappropriate to look to the market value of the securities within the insurer's general account to determine a fair value. The concept of a value other than contract value does not apply to this insurance company issued evergreen group annuity product. This contract's operation is different than many other evergreen group annuity products as a market value (fair value) adjustment does not apply upon a discontinuance. Even upon a discontinuance of the contract, the contract value would be paid no later than 30 days from the date the sponsor provides notice to discontinue and 90 days after all information and expenses are received by PRIAC.

The Plan owns a promise to receive interest at crediting rates which are announced in advance and guaranteed for a specified period of time as outlined in the group annuity contract. The contract is backed by the full faith and creditworthiness of the issuer. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of the issuer and not on the value of the securities within the insurer's general account. The credit rating of the issuer at December 31, 2012 was A as reported by Moody's Investors Service. Deposits are made to the insurer's general account. Payment obligations represent an insurance claim supported by all general account assets. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their investment at contract value. The issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the plan. There are no reserves against contract value for credit risk of the contract issuer or otherwise. As a result, the fair value amount shown in Note 5 is equal to and approximates the contract value as there is no fair value adjustment upon discontinuance. Contract value represents deposits made to the contract, plus earnings at guaranteed crediting rates, less withdrawals and fees.

Interest is credited based on a formula in the contract. The interest crediting rate is reset semi-annually at the discretion of the insurer. The minimum crediting rate under the contract is 1.5 percent. When establishing interest crediting rates for this product, the issuer considers many factors, including current economic and market conditions, the general interest rate environment and both the expected and actual experience of a reference portfolio within the general account. Past interest rates are not indicative of future interest rates. Key factors that could influence future interest crediting rates are changes in economic and market conditions, interest rates, and default or credit failures of the securities in the insurer's general assets.

Average yields are as follows:

	2012	2011
Based on actual earnings	2.15%	2.55%
Based on interest rate credited to participants	2.15%	2.55%

There are not any events that allow the issuer to terminate the contract and which require the Company Sponsor to settle at an amount different than contract value. Events that limit the ability to transact at contract value with the issuer include the following: (a) amendments to the plan documents (including complete or partial plan termination or merger with another plan), (b) changes to the Plan's prohibition on competing investment options or deletion of equity wash provisions, (c) bankruptcy of the Company sponsor or other company sponsor events (for example, divestitures or spin-offs of a subsidiary) that cause a significant withdrawal from the Plan, or (d) the failure of the trust to qualify for exemption from federal income taxes or any required prohibited transaction exemption under ERISA. The Plan Administrator does not believe that any events which would limit the Plan's ability to transact at contract value with participants are probable of occurring.

Note 7. Party-In-Interest Transactions

Plan assets include investments in funds managed by PRIAC, the custodian. These transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions under ERISA. Fees paid by the Plan to PRIAC amounted to $20,447 for the year ended December 31, 2012.

The Company, the Plan Sponsor, may pay certain plan expenses directly. In addition, certain employees of the Company are responsible for the administration of the Plan. Personnel of the Company are compensated by the Company and do not receive any compensation from the Plan.

Note 8. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of plan termination, participants would become 100 percent vested in their employer contributions.

Note 9. Tax Status

The Plan obtained its determination letter on June 4, 2004, in which the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stated that the Plan, as then designed and amended, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. The Plan Administrator believes that the Plan is designed and is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan applied for a new determination letter in 2010, and has not yet received the new letter. Plan management will make any changes deemed necessary to ensure that the Plan maintains its tax-exempt status.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by local, state or federal taxing authorities. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan Administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examination prior to 2009.

Note 10. Reconciliation of Financial Statements to Form 5500

The following is a reconciliation of net assets available for benefits per the financial statements to the Form 5500:

	2012	2011
Net assets available for benefits per the financial statements	$ 27,521,658	$ 24,147,282
Notes receivable from participants	(729,058)	(726,842)
Participant loans	729,058	726,842
Net asset available for benefits per Form 5500	$ 27,521,658	$ 24,147,282

Note 11. Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits.

Note 12. Voluntary Correction Program

Prior to January 1, 2003, non-union personnel employed at site locations and paid on-site payroll (Excluded Employees) were not considered eligible to participate in the Plan. When the Plan was amended and restated on January 1, 2003, it did not retain the exclusion provision that existed prior to this amendment and restatement. The Company did not intend to eliminate the exclusion provision and was not aware that the Excluded Employees became eligible beginning January 1, 2003 due to this scrivener's error.

In January 2012, the Plan filed for a Voluntary Correction Program (VCP) application with the IRS in order to correct this operational failure, which occurred from January 1, 2003 through December 31, 2011, and affected 121 current and former employees. Under the VCP, the Company proposed to make a qualified nonelective contribution (QNEC) to the Plan on behalf of each Excluded Employee that replaced the missed deferral opportunity, plus earnings in the amount of $104,116. The Company also proposed to make a profit sharing contribution to Excluded Employees who met the eligibility requirements for profit sharing contribution at the time of such profit sharing contribution for Plan years 2003 through 2007 in the amount of $12,253. The Company received a compliance statement from the IRS and in January 2013 remitted to the Plan $124,079 for the QNEC and profit sharing contributions and lost earnings.

Plan management believes that the operational failure did not have a material effect on the Plan's qualified tax status.
