Note 1 – Description of the Plan

The following description of the Wolfram Research, Inc. 401(k) Plan (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan provisions.

General

The Plan is a contributory defined contribution plan covering substantially all employees of Wolfram Research, Inc., Wolfram Alpha LLC, and other companies within the controlled group (collectively, the Company). It is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Participation

Employees are eligible to participate in the Plan on the first day of the month coincident or next following the employees start date.

Administration

The Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company is the trustee and custodian of the Plan. As trustee, the Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company maintains the Plan's records, receives contributions, manages investments, and initiates distributions of benefits to eligible employees pursuant to the provisions of the Plan.

Contributions

Participants may elect to reduce their pretax compensation (or taxable compensation in the case of Roth 401(k) contributions) between 1% and 60% and have this amount contributed to the Plan on their behalf. The maximum dollar amount that you can contribute to the Plan each year is $24,000 (for 2017) and includes contributions you make to other deferral plans (e.g., other 401(k) plans, salary deferral SEP plans, 403(b) tax-sheltered annuity plans, etc.). The amount will increase as the cost of living increases. The Company may further limit the amount that you can contribute to the Plan to help the Plan satisfy certain nondiscrimination requirements. The Company will notify you if you are a Highly Compensated Employee, subject to any additional limits. Participants are not permitted to make additional voluntary contributions to the Plan from after-tax compensation. The Company makes discretionary contributions each plan year, as allowed by the Plan. These discretionary contributions allow the Company to match 50% of participant contributions up to 6% of the participant's earnings, allowing a maximum of 3% of the participant's earnings to be matched by the Company.

Vesting

Participants are fully vested with respect to both their own contributions (and investment earnings thereon) and to employer's discretionary contributions (and investment earnings thereon) immediately upon participation.

Note 1 – Description of the Plan – continued

Payment of Benefits

At age 55, participants are entitled to their vested account balance. Upon termination of employment, participants are entitled to their vested account balance as soon as practical after termination but prior to the anniversary date of termination.

Investment Programs

Participants may elect to have both employee and employer contributions invested in any combination of the following fund options:

- 500 Index Fund Investor Shares

Loans

Participants may borrow up to the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of the current value of their account. Loans must be repaid, including interest at a fixed rate, over a period not to exceed five years.

Loans – Continued

However, if the purpose of the loan is to acquire a principal residence dwelling unit for the participant within a reasonable time of the loan, the loan may be repaid over 30 years. Loan borrowings and repayments (including interest) are withdrawn from/invested in the investment funds according to participant instructions.

Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any interest to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to ERISA requirements. If the Plan is terminated, benefits will be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the Plan.

Tax Status

The IRS has determined and informed the Company by a letter dated May 14, 2003, that the Plan and related trusts are designed in accordance with applicable sections of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). Although the Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter, the Plan administrator and the Plan's tax counsel believe the Plan is designed, and is currently being operated, in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC and, therefore, believe that the Plan is qualified, and the related trust is tax-exempt.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the plan and recognize a tax liability if the plan has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan provides for various investment options in any combination of shares of registered investment companies that invest in stocks, bonds, fixed income securities and other investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities could occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits.

Note 2 – Significant Accounting Policies

The following accounting policies, which conform with generally accepted accounting principles, have been used consistently in the preparation of the Plan's financial statements:

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Plan have been prepared on the accrual method of accounting.

Investments – Registered investment companies

The Plan's investments in registered investment companies are stated at fair value. Shares of registered investment companies are valued at quoted market prices, which represent the net asset value of shares held by the Plan at year-end. Participant loans are valued at cost, which approximates fair value. Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade-date basis. Income is accrued when earned. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Capital gain distributions are included in divided income.

Investments at contract value

One of the plan's investments is the Vanguard Retirement Savings Trust VIII Fund (stable value fund). It is a separately managed account within the plan's trust managed by Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company, whereby the Plan owns the Fund's underlying investments. The plan's investment policy allows the stable value fund to invest in global wraps. Global wrap contracts operate similarly to guaranteed investment contracts, except that the plan purchases government-backed, asset-backed, mortgage-backed, or corporate bonds, which are held in the plan's trust. To enable the plan to realize a specific known value for the assets, if it needs to liquidate them to make benefit payments, global wrap contracts utilize a benefit-responsible "wrapper" contract with a third-party insurance carrier that provides market and cash flow risk protection to the plan. The "wrapper" contract enables the plan to execute participant transaction at contract value without regard to the appreciation or depreciation in the day-to-day value of the underlying assets. These contracts, often referred to as synthetic investment contracts, meet the fully benefit – responsive investment contract criteria and therefore are reported at contract value.

The effective yields on these contracts represent the crediting rate, less the "wrapper" fee paid to the insurance carrier. Global wraps do not expire as assets are sold, or mature; instead, the wrap remains intact and the maturity of the contract is open-ended. The underlying investments are valued at quoted redemption values on the last business day of the plan's year-end. Contract value represents the contributions made under the contract, plus earnings, less participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. At December 31, 2017, the contract value of the stable value fund's global wrap contracts was $1,328,119.

Wrap contracts accrue interest using a formula called the "crediting rate." Wrap contracts use the crediting rate formula to convert market value changes in the covered assets into income distributions in order to minimize the difference between the market and contract value of the covered assets over time. Using the crediting rate formula, an estimated future market value is calculated by compounding the fund's current market value at the fund's current yield maturity for a period equal to the fund's duration. The crediting rate is the discount rate that equates the estimated future market value with the fund's current contract value. Crediting rates are reset quarterly. The wrap contracts provide a guarantee that the crediting rate will not fall below 0%.

The crediting rate, and hence the fund's return, may be affected by many factors, including purchases and redemptions by participants. The precise impact on the fund depends on whether the market value of the covered assets is higher or lower than the contract value of those assets. If the market value of the covered assets is higher than their contract value, the crediting rate will ordinarily be higher than the yield of the covered assets. Under these circumstances, cash from new investors will tend to lower the crediting rate and the fund's return, and redemptions by participants will tend to increase the crediting rate and the fund's return.

If the fund experiences significant redemptions when the market value is below the contract value, the fund's yield may be reduced significantly, to a level that is not competitive with other investments options. This may result in additional redemptions, which would tend to lower the credit rate further. If redemptions continued, the fund's yield could be reduced to zero. If redemptions continued thereafter, the fund might have insufficient assets to meet redemption requests, at which point the fund would require payments from the wrap issuer to pay further shareholder redemptions.

The stable value fund and the wrap contracts purchased by the fund are designed to pay all participant-initiated transactions at contract value. Participant-initiated transactions are those transactions allowed by the plan (typically, this would include withdrawals for benefits, loans, or transfers to non-competing funds within the plan).

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of additions and deductions during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Payment of Benefits

Benefits are recorded when paid.

Note 2 – Significant Accounting Policies – continued

Administrative Expenses

Each year the Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company releases data on the administrative costs paid out during a fiscal year ending on June 30. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2018, Plan administrative expenses of $121,899 were paid, of which $91,659 was investment expense offset against Plan income, $6,360 was service fees paid directly out of the Plan, and $23,880 was service fees paid by the Company.

Note 3 – Related Party Transactions

The Plan invests in shares of mutual funds managed by an affiliate of the Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company (VFTC). VFTC acts as trustee for only those investments as defined by the Plan. Transactions in such investments qualify as party-in-interest transactions, which are exempt from the prohibited transaction rules.

Note 4 – Date of Management's Review

Management has reviewed events for inclusion in the financial statements through September 17, 2018, the date that the statements were available to be issued.

Note 6 – Fair Value Disclosure

Effective January 1, 2008, the Plan adopted Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820 (formerly SFAS No. 157) which requires, among other things, the disclosure of estimated fair market values and the changes in fair market value for all assets and liabilities expected to be converted to cash. ASC 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Plan. Unobservable inputs reflect the Plan's assumptions about the inputs market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. The fair value hierarchy prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

Level 1 Inputs	Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities at the reporting date.
Level 2 Inputs	Other than quoted prices included with Level 1 that are observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. Level 2 assets include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities that are not active; and inputs other than quoted prices that are observable, such as models or other valuation methodologies.
Level 3 Inputs	Unobservable inputs for the valuation of the asset or liability. Level 3 assets include investments for which there is little, if any, market activity. These inputs require significant management judgment or estimation.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, ASC 820 establishes that an asset or liability's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment, and considers factors specific to the asset or liability.

All of the Plan's investments in the registered investment companies have been categorized as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.
