Communication of Significant Deficiencies and Material Weaknesses

To the Plan Administrator of
the CS&P Technologies 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the CS&P Technologies 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan, (the Plan), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2009, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered The Plan's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform a DOL limited-scope audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Our audit did not include all of the procedures required by auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the information summarized in Note 8 to those financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we were unable to, and did not, express an opinion on those financial statements.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses and, therefore, there can be no assurance that all such deficiencies have been identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses and other deficiencies that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency or combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We did not identify any material weaknesses during the audit.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

PLAN DOCUMENTATION

Finding

We noted during the audit that, in some cases, the employee's written authorization of the elected deferral contribution amount or percentage did not match the actual amount of the deferral contribution being withheld from the participant's salary and contributed to the Plan.

Recommendation

The Plan should obtain a copy of the participant's deferral election and agree the amount or percentage to be deferred with the participant's payroll records. The Plan should request updated contribution documentation for any discrepancies. Documentation should be maintained in the participant's personnel file.

Finding

Participant files did not have copies of withdrawals requests and the related check or wire transfer.

Recommendation

The Plan should also obtain copies for all the withdrawal requests, along with copies of the cancelled checks or wire transfers. These copies should be maintained in the participant's personnel files.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the board of directors, and others within the plan, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Communication with Those Charged with Governance under SAS No. 114

September 1, 2010

To the Plan Administrator of
the CS&P Technologies 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan

We have conducted a DOL limited-scope audit of the financial statements of the CS&P Technologies 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan, (the Plan), for the year ended December 31, 2009, and have issued our report thereon dated September 1, 2010. As permitted by 29 CR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the plan administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 8 to those financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we are unable to, and have not, expressed an opinion on those financial statements and schedules taken as a whole. Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information to you in our letter dated May 13, 2010. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 1 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted and the application of existing policies was not changed during the year ended December 31, 2009. We noted no transactions entered into by the organization during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. No estimates were used in the preparation of your financial statements.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. No material misstatements, either individually or in the aggregate, were detected as a result of audit procedures.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated September 1, 2010.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Society's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as the Organization's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

1. We recommend that the plan increases its fidelity bond to ensure it is in compliance with ERISA guidelines. ERISA guidelines require that the fidelity bond covers 10% of the plan's assets at the beginning of the year. The Plan's assets were valued at $2,374,919 at year end and the plan's fidelity bond was for $200,000.

This information is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors and management of CS & P Technologies 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Very truly yours,

Bentley, Bratcher & Associates, P.C.

The investment options of the Plan include various portfolios within an AUL separate account. The separate account in turn invests in investment portfolios of certain open-end management investment companies. AUL receives indirect compensation from these investment companies for the services provided by AUL.

The compensation received by AUL is computed by each investment company by multiplying the daily account balance of the AUL separate account's interest in a particular portfolio by a predetermined percentage rate negotiated with the investment company. This indirect compensation is not charged to the plan or participants accounts but is paid directly by the investment company.

The investment company, the underlying investment portfolio, and the annual compensation percentages are shown below.
