INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To The Trustees of the Cold Spring
Construction Company Employees'
Profit Sharing Plan and Trust
Akron, NY

We have audited the statements of net assets available for benefits of the Cold Spring Construction Company Employees' Profit Sharing Plan and Trust as of December 31, 2009 and December 31, 2008, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits as well as the statements of receipts and disbursements for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conduct our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits of the Cold Spring Construction Company Employees' Profit Sharing Plan and Trust as of December 31, 2009 and December 31, 2008 and the changes in net assets available for benefits as well as the statements of receipts and disbursements for the years then ended in conformity with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplemental schedules of assets held for investment purposes and of reportable transactions, together referred to as "supplemental information," are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements but are supplementary information required by the U. S. Department of Labor Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement and Income Security Act of 1974. This supplementary information is the responsibility of the Plan's management. The supplementary schedules have been subject to the auditing procedures applied in the examination of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Respectfully submitted,

COLD SPRING CONSTRUCTION COMPANY
EMPLOYEES' PROFIT SHARING PLAN AND TRUST

Notes To Financial Statements

1. Significant Accounting Policies:

Basis of Accounting:

The books and records are kept on the accrual basis of accounting.

Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the plan administrator to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition:

Investments are stated at estimated fair value as of the reporting date, thus recognizing the net appreciation or depreciation in the assets during the period. See Note 4 for discussion of fair value measurements. Investments purchased and sold are recorded on a trade-date basis. In determining the gain or loss for each sale, the cost is offset against the sale proceeds, using the average cost of the shares on hand before the sale occurred.

Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Payment of Benefits:

Benefits are recorded when paid.

Date of Management's Review:

Subsequents events were evaluated through September 14, 2010, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

2. Description of the Plan:

The following is a brief description of the Cold Spring Construction Company Employees' Profit Sharing Plan and Trust. Participants should refer to the plan agreement for more complete information.

Eligibility Requirements – Any employee who is not excluded, according to Article III of the plan agreement, shall be eligible to participate (unless the employee specifically waives participation) as of the date on which the employee is first credited with one hour of service.

Contributions – The employer shall make a nondiscretionary contribution on a cents-per-hour rate basis for each public works participant. The amount of such nondiscretionary contribution required for each public works participant shall be such amount as required for him under the

2. Description of the Plan (Continued):

Contributions (Continued) – applicable prevailing wage law, after taking into account all other amounts contributed by the employer to other employee pension benefit and welfare benefit plans on the participant's behalf and properly credited toward the employer's obligation under such prevailing wage law. In addition to the contributions made for public works participants, the employer may make a discretionary contribution on behalf of participants who are not public works participants. This contribution shall be allocated to each participant who is not a public works participant based on a fraction, the numerator of which is such participant's compensation for the plan year and the denominator of which is the total compensation for the plan year of all such participants entitled to share in such allocation. In addition, the computation of the contribution for a non-public works participant uses an integrated formula with the Social Security Wage base. Any participant, with the employer's written consent, may contribute cash or other property to the trust if the contribution is a "rollover contribution" provided the Internal Revenue Code permits an employee to transfer either directly or indirectly from one qualified plan to another qualified plan.

General Investment Fund – All contributions are to be placed by the trustees of the plan in the general investment fund. The trustees shall be responsible for the receipt and deposit of contributions, investment of plan assets pursuant to the expressed intent of the plan and the investment policy, payment of benefits, and furnishing the administrator with the trust accounting report. The trustees operate the plan solely on behalf of the participants and their beneficiaries and are limited to the duties or responsibilities stated in the plan agreement. All expenses and reasonable costs incurred by the trustees in connection with their administration of the plan shall be paid from the trust fund, unless the employer pays the expense. A participant's share of investment earnings and any increase or decrease in fair value of the trust fund which is common to all participant accounts shall be credited to or charged against each participant's account in the ratio that the balance in the account as of the first day of such evaluation period minus the amount distributed to such participant during such evaluation period bears to the balance of all such participant accounts as of the first day of such evaluation period minus the total amounts distributed to all participants during such evaluation period. Voluntary employee contributions are not permitted.

Vesting – Each participant in the plan has a one hundred percent non-forfeitable (vested) right to his/her account balance.

Retirement and Benefit Options – Normal retirement age is 55. The normal form of benefit is an annuity. Other optional forms of benefit are available.

Death Benefits – Each participant shall have the right and option to designate his/her beneficiary at any time. If a participant is married, the trustees must obtain the written consent of the participant's spouse in order to designate a primary beneficiary who is other than the spouse. Upon the death of a participant, the participant's beneficiary shall be entitled to receive 100% of the participant's account balance. If the participant is married at the time of death, the

2. Description of the Plan (Continued):

Death Benefits (Continued) – benefit will normally be paid in the form of a survivor annuity to the participant's spouse or previously designated beneficiary. If the participant is not married, the benefit will be paid in the form of a lump sum to the participant's designated beneficiary. At any time prior to death, whether married or not, the participant may elect another optional form of benefit.

Termination of Employment – In the event a participant terminates employment prior to normal retirement age, such participant shall have a fully vested right to the amounts credited to his/her rollover or employer contribution account. The participant's termination benefit will be distributed to him/her as soon as administratively feasible following the end of the plan year in which normal retirement, death or total and permanent disability occurs. However, if the participant incurs a break in service and his/her account balance does not exceed $5,000.00; the administrator shall direct the trustees to distribute immediately the participant's entire vested account balance in a lump sum in accordance with the provisions of the plan. After a participant incurs 5 consecutive breaks in service, regardless of the participant's account balance, the participant may request immediate full distribution of his vested account balance in accordance with the provisions of the plan. A break in service shall occur if during any plan year an employee fails to complete more than 200 hours of service with the employer.

3. Determination With Respect To Tax Exemption:

The plan obtained its latest determination letter on February 12, 2010 in which the Internal Revenue Service stated that the plan, as then designed, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. The plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. However, the plan administrator and the plan's tax counsel believe that the plan is currently designed and being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the plan's financial statements.

4. Fair Value Measurements:

The Plan's investments are reported at fair value in the accompanying statement of net assets available for benfits. The methods used to measure fair value may produce an amount that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The fair value accounting literature establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. This hierarchy consists of three broad levels: Level 1 inputs consist of unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and have the highest priority, and Level 3 inputs have the lowest priority. The Plan uses appropriate valuation techniques based on the available inputs to measure the fair value of its investments. When available, the Plan measures fair value using Level 1 inputs because they generally provide the most reliable evidence of fair value. No Level 2 or Level 3 inputs were used by the Plan.

Level 1 Fair Value Measurements:

The fair value of mutual and exchange traded funds is based on quoted net asset values of the shares held by the Plan at year-end. The fair values of common stocks, preferred stocks, corporate bonds, and U.S. Government and agency obligations are based on the closing price reported on the active market where the individual securities are traded.

7. Risk and Uncertainties:

The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market, and credit risk. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statement of net assets available for benefits.

8. Plan Termination:

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. Participants are 100% vested in their employer contributions.
