We have completed a United States Department of Labor ("DOL") limited-scope audit of the financial statements of the Thos. S. Byrne, Ltd. 401(k) Savings and Investment Plan (the "Plan") as of and for the year ended December 31, 2009 and have issued our report thereon dated October 12, 2010. As permitted by 29 CR 2520.103-8 of the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"), the plan administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 3 to those financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we are unable to, and have not, expressed an opinion on those financial statements and schedules taken as a whole.

Our Responsibility under Auditing Standards Generally Accepted in the United States of America

As stated in our engagement letter dated July 7, 2010, our responsibility, as described by professional standards and except as discussed in the first paragraph, is to express an opinion about whether the financial statements prepared by management with your oversight are presented in compliance with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or management of your responsibilities.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We performed the audit according to the planned scope and timing previously communicated to you in our engagement letter dated July 7, 2010.

Significant Audit Findings

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practice

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. In accordance with the terms of our engagement letter, we will advise management about the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. We noted no new accounting policies were adopted and the application of existing policies was not changed during the year. We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimates affecting the financial statements was management's estimates of the investment valuation and the fair value disclosures related to investments, income recognition, and net appreciation in the fair value of investment are based on the accrual basis of account in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the these accounting estimates in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Certain financial statement disclosures are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosures affecting the financial statements was those related to fair value measurements included in Note 4 to the financial statements.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. Management has corrected all such misstatements. Such misstatements are listed below.

To record excess contributions payable
Corrective distributions	21,637
Excess contributions payable	(21,637)

In addition, none of the misstatements detected as a result of audit procedures and corrected by management were material, either individually or in the aggregate, to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated October 12, 2010.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issue

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

During the course of our audit, we identified some opportunities for management of the Plan to improve operative efficiency and effectiveness. Those opportunities are summarized below. While we do not feel that these issues rise to the level of material weaknesses or significant deficiencies, they do represent breaks in controls surrounding the operations of the Plan.

Investment Committee Oversight

Observation
While we noted that the Investment Committee meets with financial advisors to discuss the health of the Plan, there are no minutes to indicate the nature of the discussion and recommended courses of action.

Recommendation
Minutes of all proceedings of the Investment Committee should be maintained in order to have documentation that management is discharging its fiduciary duty of oversight.

Non-Participant Data Testing

Observation
We noted that the Company does not maintain enrollment forms signed by employees that meet eligibility requirements of the Plan but elect not to participate. Insufficient documentation surrounding eligibility and participation, or lack thereof, potentially open the Company up to claims of discrimination.

Recommendation
We recommend that the Company adds a form in all employee files that clearly states if an employee elects to participate or not participate in the Plan.

Contribution Remittances

Observation
We noted during review of contributions that remittances for employees of the Art Station are not being made timely. Discussions with the TPA indicate that the remittances were made as soon as they were "administratively feasible", but some contributions were made six months later than when they were withheld.

Recommendation
Although the TPA has determined that the funds were remitted when "Administratively feasible," there is the risk that this term could be interpreted by the Department of Labor in a number of ways of which could result in the plan sponsor having to pay additional funds into the plan for lost earnings on participants whose deferrals were not timely remitted. We recommend that management require the necessary reporting information from the Art Station to be submitted in a more timely manner so that the Company can ensure that remittances are made as close to the date that they are withheld as possible.
