To the Plan Administrator, Board of Directors, members of the Mincom, Inc. 401(k) Fiduciary Committee and management of the Mincom, Inc. 401(k) Plan
Englewood, Colorado

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the Mincom, Inc. 401(k) Plan (the Plan) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2010, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform a DOL limited-scope audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Our audit did not include all of the procedures required by U.S. generally accepted auditing standards and did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the information summarized in Note 5 to those financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we were unable to, and did not, express an opinion on those financial statements.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses and, therefore, there can be no assurance that all such deficiencies have been identified. However, as discussed below, we identified a deficiency in internal control that we consider to be a significant deficiency.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiency in the Mincom, Inc. 401(k) Plan's internal control to be a significant deficiency:

- Management currently does not have in place an internal control system designed to provide for the preparation of the Plan's external financial statements and the accompanying notes to the external financial statements, to be prepared in compliance with generally accepted accounting principles. As auditors, we were requested to draft the external financial statements and accompanying notes to the financial statements. This circumstance is not unusual in an organization of this size. It is the responsibility of management and those charged with governance to make the decision whether to accept the degree of risk associated with this condition because of cost or other considerations. Management should consider the risks associated with not having a system in place to prepare the Plan's external financial statements and accompanying notes on a monthly and annual basis and make the decision whether to accept the degree of risk associated with this condition because of cost or other considerations.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of the members of the Mincom, Inc. 401K Fiduciary Committee and management of Mincom, Inc., and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
