Thank you for using Baker Tilly Virchow Krause, LLP as your auditor.

We have completed a DOL limited-scope audit of WH Companies, Inc. and Subsidiaries and Affiliated Companies 401(k) Savings Plan ("the Plan") for the year ended December 31, 2010, and have issued our report thereon dated October 4, 2011. As permitted by 29 CR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, the plan administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 3 to those financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we are unable to, and have not, expressed an opinion on those financial statements and schedules taken as a whole. This letter presents communications required by our professional standards.

Our Responsibility under Auditing Standards Generally Accepted in the United States of America

As permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the DOL's rules and regulations for reporting and disclosure under ERISA, you instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the statements and information relating to the Plan's investments certified by the custodian, except for comparing such information with the related information included in the Plan's financial statements and supplemental information. The form and content of the information included in the Plan's financial statements, other than that derived from the information certified by the custodian, was audited by us in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. These standards require that we plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about whether the financial statements prepared by management with your oversight are free of material misstatement, whether caused by error or fraud. Our audit included examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. Our audit does not relieve management or the Plan's administrative committee of their fiduciary responsibilities.

As part of the audit we obtained an understanding of the entity and its environment, including internal control, sufficient to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements and to design the nature, timing and extent of further audit procedures. The audit was not designed to provide assurance on internal control or to identify deficiencies in internal control.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of WH Companies, Inc. and Subsidiaries and Affiliated Companies 401(k) Savings Plan (the "Plan's") as of December 31, 2010 and for the year then ending, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform a DOL limited-scope audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (ERISA). Our audit did not include all of the procedures required by auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the information summarized in Note 3 to those financial statements. because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we were unable to, and did not, express an opinion on those financial statements.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses and, therefore, there can be no assurance that all such deficiencies have been identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be a significant deficiency and an other deficiency that we consider to be a material weakness..

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We consider the following deficiency in the company's internal control to be material weaknesses:

- > Audit standards consider preparation of financial statements and related footnote disclosures in proper accordance with GAAP a critical objective of a company's accounting/finance department. During the course of our audit, we maintained the primary role of drafting the Plan's external financial statements and assisting management with their understanding of GAAP. The process of drafting the financial statements included recording journal entries for plan activity based on information provided by the plan custodian. While many companies that are similar to you often use their auditors to manage this process, this is considered a material weakness under current audit standards.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the company's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

- > Under ideal conditions, procedures and controls are put in place to limit the access of any one individual from all phases of a transaction. Most companies the size of Wausau Homes do not have large administrative staffs to facilitate adequate segregation of various accounting procedures from any one individual. While it may not be practical to add staff to improve the segregation of duties, it is important for the organization to continue working to implement mitigating controls surrounding any areas where lack of segregation of duties exists. Specifically, we recommend that oversight and review procedures related to benefit claims approval and maintenance of participant records be considered to help ensure the proper recording and authorization of distributions.
- > During our audit, we noted certain contributions to the Plan labeled "Other Contributions" on the trust statements for which Plan management had not evaluated the nature of the contributions to ensure proper allocation within the Plan. Further, we also noted immaterial variances between Plan contributions on the trust statements when compared to contributions (both company contributions and salary deferrals) as shown on payroll records. We recommend that the company reconcile all Plan contributions on a quarterly basis to ensure that these amounts are properly allocated and agree with amounts remitted to the Plan.

OTHER MATTERS

- > During our audit procedures, it was noted that minutes were not maintained for meetings of the Plan's investment committee. We recommend maintaining some form of documentation of these meetings, however brief, to evidence the occurrence of these meetings and the resulting plan oversight provided.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We performed the audit according to the planned scope and timing previously communicated to you in our letter dated June 21, 2011.

Significant Findings

Qualitative Aspect of Accounting Policies

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. In accordance with the terms of our engagement letter, we will advise management about the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. As described in Note 2, the plan changed accounting policies related to Notes Receivable from Participants by adopting Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2010-25, Reporting Loans to Participants by Defined Contribution Pension Plans in 2010. Accordingly, the accounting change has been retrospectively applied to the prior period presented.

We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year that were both significant and unusual, and of which, under professional standards, we are required to inform you, or transactions for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected.

The disclosures in the financial statements are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a significant audit adjustment as a proposed correction of the financial statements that, in our judgment, may not have been detected except through our auditing procedures. There were no significant audit adjustments or other uncorrected financial statement misstatements identified.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditors' report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan's financial statements, or a determination of the type of auditors' opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter. This letter has been provided to you.

Independence

We are not aware of any relationships between Baker Tilly Virchow Krause, LLP and the Plan that, in our professional judgment, may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence.

Relating to our audit of the financial statements of WH Companies, Inc. and Subsidiaries and Affiliated Companies 401(k) Savings Plan for the year ended December 31, 2010, Baker Tilly Virchow Krause, LLP hereby confirms in accordance with the Code of Professional Conduct issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants that we are, in our professional judgment, independent with respect to the Plan and provided no services to the Plan other than audit services provided in connection with the audit of the current year's financial statements.

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Plan's administrative committee and others within the organization and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
