ALUMINUM PRECISION PRODUCTS, INC.
EMPLOYEE SAVINGS AND PROFIT SHARING PLAN
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1. Description of the Plan:

The following description of the Aluminum Precision Products, Inc. (the "Company") Employee Savings and Profit Sharing Plan (the "Plan") provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General:

The Plan is a defined contribution plan covering substantially all employees of the Company who have completed 1,000 hours of service in a Plan year. It is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Contributions:

Participants are entitled to make contributions by means of payroll deductions in an amount equal to any whole percent of compensation up to 15%. The Company matches 100% of the participant's contributions up to the first 4% of the participant's compensation. The Company may also contribute a discretionary amount as determined by the Board of Directors on an annual basis. For Plan years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009, the Board of Directors authorized profit sharing contributions in the amount of $0 and $1,000,000, respectively.

Participant Accounts:

Each participant's account is credited with the participant's contributions, and allocations of the employer's contributions and Plan earnings, net of certain investment management fees. Participant contributions are based on the participant's deferral election. Employer contributions are credited to the participant's account according to the formula defined in the Plan document and allocated according to the participant's deferral elections. Plan earnings are allocated based on account balances in the investment options selected by the participant.

Vesting:

Participants are immediately vested in their voluntary contributions and employer contributions, plus actual earnings thereon.

Participant Loans:

Participants may borrow a minimum of $500 up to a maximum of the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of their account balance. Each loan is collateralized by the participant's account balance and bears an interest rate commensurate with local prevailing rates as determined by the Administrative Committee. Principal and interest are paid ratably by payroll deductions over a period of up to five years unless the loan is used to purchase a primary residence. Loans used to purchase a primary residence must be repaid within 25 years. Participant loans are carried at the unpaid principal amount of the loan, which approximates fair value.

Payment of Benefits:

Upon termination of service due to death, disability or retirement, a participant may receive an amount equal to the value of his or her account as a lump sum distribution.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

Date of Management's Review:

Subsequent events were evaluated through October 10, 2011, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Basis of Accounting:

The financial statements of the Plan have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Investment contracts held by a defined contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the Plan. The statements of net assets available for benefits presents the fair value of the investment contracts as well as the adjustment of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The statement of changes in net assets available for benefits is prepared on a contract value basis.

Notes Receivable from Participants:

Loans to participants are reported at their unpaid principal balances plus any accrued but unpaid interest.

Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies: (continued)

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition:

The Plan's investments are stated at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note 3 for a discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Payment of Benefits:

Benefits are recorded when paid.

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of the Plan's financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Risks and Uncertainties:

The Plan provides for various investment options in any combination of investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Administrative Expenses:

Administrative expenses assessed by Prudential and paid by the Plan consist primarily of fees charged for loan transactions. The Company has elected to pay substantially all other administrative expenses.

Note 3. Fair Value Measurements:

The Plan's investments are reported at fair value in the accompanying statements of net assets available for benefits. The methods used to measure fair value may produce an amount that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The fair value measurement accounting literature establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described as follows:

Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all the significant inputs are observable, either directly, or indirectly.

Level 3: Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

Note 3. Fair Value Measurements: (continued)

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's investment assets measured at fair value as of December 31, 2010 and 2009:

Total investments at fair value	$30,230,891	$9,431,700	$ 351	$39,662,942

The Plan's investments that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis, such as mutual funds, are generally classified within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. The fair values of these investments are based on quoted market prices in active markets. The Plan also invests in a common collective trust for which the valuation is based on the values of the underlying investments. Based on the nature of the underlying investments in the common collective trust, this investment asset has been classified as Level 2.
