Note 1. Plan Description

The following description of the Curran Group, Inc. Flexible Benefits Plan (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General: The Plan was formed on January 1, 1993, and replaced the Curran Group, Inc. Employee Welfare Benefits Plan. The Plan allows related Companies (collectively, "the Companies"), as described in the Plan's literature, to adopt its provisions. It is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Benefits: The Plan provides medical, dental, group life, accidental death and dismemberment and health care reimbursement benefits to all U.S. based active, non-seasonal, non-union employees who have completed one full calendar month of service and work at least 30 hours per week. Certain retired employees are also entitled to these same benefits for the portion of the costs not covered by Medicare. For employees whose employment terminates, under Federal law they are entitled to continuation of health care coverage under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA) generally for a period not exceeding 18 months. The cost of continuation coverage must be paid by the individual choosing such coverage.

Contributions: Participating employees who elect medical and dental benefits, or who maintain coverage upon termination of employment in accordance with the provisions of COBRA, contribute a set amount as determined by their coverage choices. The Companies make discretionary employer contributions to the Plan as determined by the Board of Directors. Participant contributions are deducted from their compensation as Cafeteria Plan Benefit Dollars, as defined, and become available to purchase benefits pursuant to the Plan. An employee may contribute pretax amounts to the health care reimbursement portion of the Plan. The account allows employees to be reimbursed for out-of-pocket medical, dental, and vision expenses by the participant and their dependents.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting: The accompanying financial statements of the Plan are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, benefit obligations, and changes therein, claims incurred but not reported, claims payable and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Estimated health claims incurred but not reported: The liability for health claims incurred but not reported (IBNR) was estimated based on historical claim data provided to the plan sponsor by their third-party administrator, BlueCross BlueShield of Illinois, for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2009.

Postemployment benefit obligations: The postemployment benefit obligation represents the Plan's estimated benefit obligation for terminated employees that elected the COBRA coverage. The obligation was estimated based on the average estimated cost per COBRA participant using an expected increase in health care costs of approximately 8.8%. The average cost per participant was used to estimate the expected costs for the COBRA participants factoring in their months remaining on COBRA. The expected premiums paid by the COBRA participants were determined by their monthly premium cost over the months remaining on COBRA as of December 31, 2010. Cost paid in 2010 for COBRA participants was also considered for the postemployment benefit obligation.

In February 2009, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 was signed into law, which imposed new temporary COBRA rules for employers sponsoring group health plans. This Act reduced the amount to be paid by former employees to 35% of the Plan's average cost, with the remaining 65% of the cost to be covered by the Federal government through a payroll tax credit to be paid to the plan sponsor. In accordance with the Compensation – Nonretirement Postemployment Benefits Topic and the Contingencies Topic of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), both the present value at December 31, 2010 of the expected future contributions from COBRA participants, and the expected future receipts of the COBRA subsidy should be included in the calculation of the postemployment benefit obligation. At December 31, 2010, the present value of the expected future receipts of the COBRA subsidy is approximately $11,500.

Postretirement benefit obligations: The postretirement benefit obligation represents the present value of expected future payments. Postretirement benefits include future benefits expected to be paid to three current retired employees. For measurement purposes at December 31, 2010 and 2009, an 8.8% and 6.0%, respectively, annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care benefits was assumed for 2011 and 2010, the rate was assumed to decrease to 6% the following year, and to remain at that level thereafter. An average annual health care cost in excess of costs covered by Medicare per retiree was used in conjunction with their life expectancy to determine the total obligation for the remainder of their lives. The life expectancies used in the calculation were obtained from Table V of IRS Reg. 1.72-9 for ordinary life annuities-one life. The foregoing assumptions are based on the presumption that the Plan will continue. Were the Plan to terminate, different assumptions and other factors might be applicable in determining the present value of the postretirement benefit obligations.

Subsequent events: The Plan's management has evaluated subsequent events through October 12, 2011, the date on which the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 3. Benefit Obligations

Health costs incurred by participants and their beneficiaries and dependents are covered by the Plan. It is the present intention of the sponsor to continue making contributions to the Plan for coverage of benefits. Retirees are not making contributions toward the cost of these benefits.

The health care cost-trend rate assumption has a significant effect on the amounts reported for postretirement benefits. If the assumed rates increased by one percentage point in each year, that would increase the obligation as of December 31, 2010 and 2009 by approximately $13,600 and $17,500, respectively.

Note 4. Cash

All of the Plan's cash is on deposit at two financial institutions. Deposits with one of these financial institutions were in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation limits or had been at some point during the year.

Note 5. Income Tax Status

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled in a letter dated June 9, 1988, that the Trust qualifies under Section 501(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and is, therefore, not subject to tax under present income tax laws. The Plan has been amended since receiving this letter. The plan sponsor believes that the Trust is currently operating in accordance with applicable provisions of the IRC.

Management evaluated the Plan's tax positions and concluded that the Plan had maintained its tax exempt status and had taken no uncertain tax positions that require adjustment to the financial statements. Therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes has been included in the financial statements. With few exceptions, the Plan is no longer subject to income tax examinations by the U.S. federal, state or local tax authorities for years before 2007.

Note 6. Insurance Coverage

The Plan maintained specific reinsurance on the participants to cover claims in excess of $175,000 per participant for 2010 and 2009. This coverage is capped at a lifetime maximum of $2,000,000 per participant. Recoveries are recorded as a reduction against claims paid and a corresponding receivable until payment is received.

Note 7. Related Party Transactions

Certain employees of the Companies have been appointed as Trustees of the Plan. These employees are also participants in the Plan. The Trustees do not receive any compensation from the Plan for their services as Trustees. Certain administrative functions are performed by the Companies on behalf of the Plan.

Note 8. Plan Termination

Although the Companies have not expressed any intention to do so, under certain conditions the Plan may be terminated. Upon termination, the assets that remain shall be subject to the provisions of the Plan and shall be used until exhausted to pay benefits for participants.
