Statement by Enrolled Actuary

To the best of my knowledge, the information supplied in this schedule and accompanying schedules, statements and attachments, if any, is complete and accurate. Each prescribed assumption was applied in accordance with applicable law and regulations. In my opinion, each other assumption is reasonable (taking into account the experience of the plan and reasonable expectations) and such other assumptions, in combination, offer my best estimate of anticipated experience under the plan.

Statement by Enrolled Actuary

To the best of my knowledge, the information supplied in this schedule and accompanying schedules, statements and attachments, if any, is complete and accurate. Each prescribed assumption was applied in accordance with applicable law and regulations. In my opinion, each other assumption is reasonable (taking into account the experience of the plan and reasonable expectations) and such other assumptions, in combination, offer my best estimate of anticipated experience under the plan.

Line 25 - Changes in Actuarial Methods

Aspect of the Valuation	Old	New
Valuation Interest Rate	IRS prescribed yield curve based on bond yields through the November preceding the valuation date (i.e., using October "applicable month")	IRS prescribed yield curve based on bond yields through the August preceding the valuation date (i.e., using September "applicable month")

NOTE: Under section 430 and regulatory guidance to date, some aspects of a valuation that have not previously been viewed as funding methods are now treated as funding methods by the IRS. An example is the valuation interest rate: the plan sponsor's selection among the various prescribed interest-rate approaches is now treated as a funding method. Note also that it is not yet always clear which aspects of the valuation are now viewed as funding methods under section 430 and regulatory guidance to date. For example, it is not clear if the sponsor's choice among prescribed mortality tables is viewed as a funding method or not. Pending further guidance from the IRS, the summary above takes a comprehensive approach and describes key changes that have been made, whether they are clearly funding methods or not (other than changes in non-prescribed assumptions, which are covered in the attachment for line 24). To the degree that the items above are funding methods, the changes are not inconsistent with the requirements of Code Section 430, and thus do not need IRS approval.

The valuation software used to produce the actuarial information submitted on this schedule has been refined to reflect evolving understanding of PPA requirements, and such modifications may be considered to be a method change. The percentage changes in funding target, target normal cost and plan assets due to the refinements in the software are each less than 2% (disregarding the effects of any changes that are automatically approved under final IRC 430 regulations), and the modifications to the software were designed to produce results no less accurate than the results produced by the software prior to the change. Therefore the change in funding method due to a change in valuation software receives automatic approval under IRS Announcement 2010-3.
