Attention Plan Administrator:
Enclosed you will find information that may assist in completion of your ERISA Form 5500 Schedule A and Schedule C. Note that the information for both Schedule A and Schedule C is now combined into a single report.

On November 16, 2007, the U.S. Department of Labor, the Department of the Treasury and the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation implemented significant changes to the reporting obligations of Plan Administrators. These changes are effective for Plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2009. As a result, we have updated our systems and procedures to capture the additional information required under the expanded reporting obligations and where practical, we have adopted an automated approach to compiling the information you need to complete Form 5500. We have also changed the format of the information and the report in order to provide you with the additional detail required.

We will be providing this information based on the policy period of all insurance policies and/or service agreements.

If this document has reached you in error, please forward to the attention of your Plan Administrator or person or department responsible for completing your company's tax reporting obligations.

If you have any questions, please contact your Broker or Account Manager.

Dear Employer:

Enclosed is the information you may need to complete and file Form 5500 with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Plans that are required to file the 5500 series forms must do so within a specified time period following the end of the plan year.

The Form 5500 series filing requirements are highly technical and have been amended in recent years. It is your responsibility as plan sponsor to determine with your tax or legal advisor whether and when your plan is required to file a Form 5500 and any of the attendant schedules.

The information we provide for your use in preparing Schedule A and Schedule C of Form 5500 reflects premiums received and posted during the timeframes noted and may be adjusted in the future.

The premiums or commissions reported for these purposes may not reconcile with your accounting as premiums may have been received or commissions paid outside of the timeframes noted.

Incentive compensation payments made to producers are reflected on Schedule C reporting but were not directly paid to the producer by the Plan. Please note that even though these additional payments are associated with your plan for reporting purposes, the expenses associated with the Platinum Compensation Program or other compensation programs do not impact your specific case level rates and premiums.

If you have any questions regarding the information provided, please contact Cigna at 1-800-753-9150. For questions regarding the preparation of the Form 5500 consult your tax or legal advisor.

Sincerely,
Cigna
