Independent Auditor's Report

To the Administrative Committee of
Toyota of Escondido Employee Benefit Trust Employee Welfare Plan

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Toyota of Escondido Employee Benefit Trust Employee Welfare Plan, which comprise the statements of benefit obligations and net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related statements of changes in benefit obligations and net assets available for benefits for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Plan management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Plan's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the statements of benefit obligations and net assets available for benefits of Toyota of Escondido Employee Benefit Trust Employee Welfare Plan as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the changes in its benefit obligations and net assets available for benefits for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Supplementary Information

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The supplementary schedule of assets held for investment purposes at December 31, 2012 is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplementary information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Such information is the responsibility of the Plan's management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

TOYOTA OF ESCONDIDO
EMPLOYEE BENEFIT TRUST EMPLOYEE WELFARE PLAN
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2012 AND 2011

Note 1 - Description of Plan and Significant Accounting Policies:

Description of Plan

The following description of Toyota of Escondido Employee Benefit Trust Employee Welfare Plan (the "Plan") provides only general information. Participants should refer to the summary plan description for a complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General

The Plan is a self-insured health and welfare benefit plan established by Toyota of Escondido (the "Company") on January 1, 2007, to provide health, disability and death benefits to full-time employees and to their beneficiaries and covered dependents. The Company self-insures these benefits from the general assets of the Company as well as through insurance contracts to pay certain benefits to employees whose claims exceed certain amounts during any plan year. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended.

Eligibility

Those employees who are employed a minimum of thirty-two (32) hours a week are eligible to participate after ninety days of service. An employee will become a participant in the Plan on the first day of the month immediately following the date the employee satisfies the eligibility conditions.

Benefits

The Plan provides health benefits (medical, dental, vision and Rx) for eligible employees of the Company and their dependents. All covered employees also receive $10,000 of life insurance coverage. The life insurance benefit is funded by a life insurance contract purchased by the Plan.

The Plan provides for continuation of benefits for certain terminated employees up to eighteen (18) months and certain dependents for a period of up to thirty-six (36) months depending upon eligibility. The cost of these benefits is paid by the terminated employees or their dependents.

The Plan includes a cafeteria arrangement maintained pursuant to Section 125 of the Internal Revenue Code in which employees can elect to reduce their taxable salary in favor of purchasing non-taxable benefits including reimbursements of medical expenses and dependent child care expenses. The Plan also provides the sponsorship of voluntary and supplemental benefits.

Contributions

The Company makes contributions to the plan administrator to fund the health claims payable, insurance premiums, commissions, administrative fees, prepaid legal and other voluntary supplemental benefits. Additional contributions are received from terminated employees to continue their benefits under the COBRA provisions. The Company receives reimbursements from stop loss carriers when claims exceed predetermined deductible thresholds, which are used to reduce the Company's losses.

The Plan receives contributions from the employer based on withholdings taken from employees per salary reduction elections as provided by Section 125 of the Internal Revenue Code. These contributions are used to fund employees' medical reimbursement accounts, dependent child care, pre-paid legal and supplemental voluntary policies.

Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Plan have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting which is in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). Employee and employer contributions were recognized in the period that contributions are due.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the plan administrator to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, benefit obligations and changes therein, IBNR, claims payable, liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value Measurements

Fair value accounting standards define fair value, establish a framework for measuring fair value, outline a fair value hierarchy based on inputs used to measure fair value and enhance disclosure requirements for fair value measurements. The fair value hierarchy distinguishes between market participant assumptions based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity (observable inputs that are classified within Level 1 or 2 of the hierarchy) and the reporting entity's own assumptions about market participant assumptions (unobservable inputs classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy). The Plan had no financial instruments at December 31, 2012 and 2011.

Employer Contributions Receivable

Employer contributions receivable represent the total of the health claims payable and estimated claims incurred but not reported, net of any cash held in the Plan. Employer contributions receivable totaled $49,943 and $24,001 at December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

Benefit Obligations

Plan liabilities for estimated health claims incurred but not reported is calculated using a "lag matrix formula", which calculates the average lag time between when a medical claim is incurred and when it is actually submitted to the Plan for payment. This lag time is then applied to the claims submitted to the Plan for payment during the year and the result is the estimated health claims incurred during the plan year that will be submitted for payment following the end of the plan year and when it is actually paid by the Plan. Health claims payable and claims incurred but not reported totaled $59,536 and $32,339 at December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

Subsequent Events

In preparing these financial statements, the Plan has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through August 5, 2013, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 2 - Income Taxes:

The Plan received a favorable determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service stating that the Plan meets the requirements for qualification under Section 501(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code and, as such, is exempt from taxation. The Plan has also received a determination letter from the Franchise Tax Board and is exempt under Section 23701(i).

The Plan believes that it has appropriate support for any tax positions taken, and as such, does not have any uncertain tax positions that are material to the financial statements. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing authorities; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examination for years prior to 2009.
