Mr. Nghi Pham Plan Administrator

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Cathy Home Care Ltd. Safe Harbor 401(k) Plan (the "Plan"), which comprise the statement of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2013, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the plan's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the plan's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits of Cathy Home Care Ltd. Safe Harbor 401(k) Plan (the "Plan"), as of December 31, 2013, and the changes in net assets available for benefits for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matter

The 2012 financial statements were compiled by us and our report thereon, dated October 10, 2014, stated that we did not audit or review those financial statements and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or provide any assurance about whether they are in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As part of our audit of the December 31, 2013 financial statements, we also audited the adjustments described in Note G that were applied to restate the 2012 financial statements. In our opinion, such adjustments are appropriate and have been properly applied. We were not engaged to audit or review the 2012 financial statements of the plan other than with respect to the adjustments and, accordingly, we do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on the 2012 financial statements as a whole.

Report on Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The supplemental schedule of assets held at Plan year end December 31, 2013 is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required as part of the financial statements, but are supplementary information required by the Department of Labor's (DOL) Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Such information is the responsibility of the plan's management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

A participant who attains the Plan's normal retirement age of 59-1/2 and who has not separated from service may receive a distribution of his or her vested account balance or delay it until retirement. Upon termination including death, disability, or retirement, a participant or beneficiary can elect to retain the benefits in the Plan or receive a distribution of benefits.

Distributions may be made in a lump-sum payment or in installments. If the value of the participant's account balance is less than $1,000, the payment will be made in cash in a single lump-sum. If the participant's account balance is between $1,000 and $5,000 and the participant does not affirmatively consent to receive a distribution, the balance will be rolled into an individual retirement account established on behalf of the participant. Any taxable distribution paid by the Trustee directly to the participant, will be subject to mandatory federal income tax withholding of 20% of the requested distribution.

Note B - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting. The financial statements of the Plan are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP required management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of changes in net assets during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition. The Plan's investments are stated at fair value, Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note E for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded as earned. Dividend income is recorded as of the ex-dividend date. Unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the fair value of investments held at year-end is determined using the fair value at the beginning of the year or the purchase price if the investment is acquired during the year. The realized gain or loss on the sale of investments is determined using historical cost. Upon the sale of an investment, the current unrealized appreciation or depreciation is adjusted for unrealized gains and losses recognized in prior years. Unrealized appreciation or depreciation and realized gains and losses are reported as net appreciation or depreciation in fair value of investments on the statements of changes in net assets available for benefits.

Participant withdrawals. Participant withdrawals are recorded upon distribution.

Note C - Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so the Company has the right under the Plan to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, participants' account balances would be available to the respective participants and will be distributed to them in a manner permitted by the Plan.

Note D - Tax Status

The Company adopted the plan in accordance with Internal Revenue Service regulations in January 1, 2007 and received a favorable advisory letter from the Internal Revenue Service stating that the plan is designed in accordance with applicable sections of the IRC. The Plan administrator believes that the Plan is currently designed and being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the Plan's financial statements.

The Plan recognizes in the financial statements the impact of certain tax positions taken only if it is more likely than not of being sustained upon examination by the taxing authority based on the technical merits of the position. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2010.

Note E – Fair Value Measurements

The Plan adopted guidance which defines fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The guidance establishes a hierarchy for grouping assets and liabilities, based on significance of inputs. The hierarchy of fair value measurements is describes below:

- Level 1 – quotes prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

- Level 2 – inputs other than Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of these assets or liabilities.

- Level 3 – unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

The fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of absorbable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value:

- Cash – The investment is measured at cost which approximates fair value.

- Common Stock – Valued at the closing price reported on the active market on which the individual securities are traded.

- Corporate Bonds – Valued using pricing models maximizing the use of observable inputs for similar securities. This includes basing value on yields currently available on comparable securities of issuers with similar credit ratings.

- US Government Securities – Valued using pricing models maximizing the use of observable inputs for similar securities.

- Mutual funds – Valued daily at the net asset value of shares or units held by the Plan based on the quoted market value of the underlying assets.

The methods described above may produce a fair market value calculation that may not be indicative of the not realized value or reflective of future fait values. Furthermore, while the valuation methods are considered appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.
