Notes to Financial Statements Years Ended June 30, 2014 and 2013

Note 1 – Description of Plan

The following description of the Employees' Pension Plan of Glasstech, Inc. (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan.

General

The Plan is a defined contribution plan established to provide income upon retirement to all eligible employees of Glasstech, Inc. (the Company and Plan Administrator). It is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (ERISA).

Participant Accounts

Participant accounts are adjusted daily for a pro rata share of income and expenses of each fund, determined by the percentage that the participant's account balance bears to the total of all participants' account balances at that date prior to such adjustment. Company contributions plus actual earnings (losses) thereon vest 20% after one year of credited service (as defined in the Plan), 40% after two years, 60% after three years, 80% after four years, and 100% after five years of credited service. All company contributions and earnings thereon are participant-directed. Company contributions are reduced by participant forfeitures. The forfeiture account balance was $556 at June 30, 2014 ($8,728 at June 30, 2013). Forfeitures totaling $11,100 were used during the June 30, 2014 plan year to fund the June 30, 2013 contribution receivable.

Contributions

The Plan provides for an annual company contribution of 5% of each participant's qualified compensation within certain limitations. The Plan met the minimum funding requirements of ERISA and Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Section 412 during 2014 and 2013.

Payment of Benefits

The Plan provides generally that upon retirement, death, disability, or termination, in the case of vested benefits, the standard form of payment will be in a form of a qualified joint and survivor annuity. Other forms of payment may be elected, including a single lump sum or a single life qualified annuity. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the vested value of the participant's account.

Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan, subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan's termination, the participants' accounts become fully vested.

Note 1 – Description of Plan (continued)

Administrative Expenses

Substantially all expenses for plan administration are paid by the Company.

Reclassification

Certain amounts have been reclassified in the 2013 financial statements to conform to the 2014 presentation.

Note 2 – Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements of the Plan have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Benefit payments to participants are recorded upon distribution.

Investment contracts held by a defined contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the plan. The Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits presents the fair value of the investment contract as well as the adjustment of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits is prepared on a contract value basis. This applies even when the investment contracts are not held directly by the plan but are underlying assets in a stable value fund investment held by the plan.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

Investments held by the Plan are stated at fair value. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. There have been no changes in the valuation methods used. The Plan's investments are held by Fidelity Management Trust Company (the Trustee).

Mutual funds represent investments with various investment managers. The fair values of these investments are determined by reference to the fund's underlying assets, which are principally marketable equity and fixed income securities. Shares held in mutual funds are valued at the net asset value.

EMPLOYEES' PENSION PLAN OF GLASSTECH, INC

Stable value funds (SVFs) represent investments with various investment managers. Units held in SVFs are fair valued at the unit value as reported by the investment managers. SVFs are not available in an exchange and active market; however, the fair value is determined based on the underlying investments as traded in an exchange and active market. The Plan holds shares of the Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M as of June 30, 2014 and 2013.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement.

Purchases and sales of the investments within the Plan are reflected on a trade-date basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 3 – Investments

All investment information disclosed in the accompanying financial statements and schedule, including investments held at June 30, 2014 and 2013, net appreciation (depreciation) in fair value of investments in mutual funds, net investment gain from stable value fund, and dividends and interest for the years then ended, were obtained or derived from information supplied to the Plan Administrator and certified as complete and accurate by the Trustee.

The investment in the Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M is valued at fair value on the Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits and is valued at contract value on the Schedule of Assets (Held at End of Year) per the Form 5500, as shown below:

	June 30,
	2014	2013
Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M, at Fair Value	$ 4,169,780	$ 4,312,565

Note 3 – Investments (continued)

Investments that represent 5% or more of the fair value of the Plan's net assets available for benefits are as follows:

	June 30,
	2014	2013
Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M	$ 4,169,780	$ 4,312,565
T. Rowe Price Growth Stock Fund Advisor Class	2,228,257	1,926,212

Thornburg International Value Fund Class R5	735,395	-
Columbia Acorn USA A	-	729,712
Thornburg International Value Fund Class R4	-	666,609

Note 4 - Fair Value Measurements

The various inputs that may be used to determine the value of the Plan's investments are summarized in three broad levels within the fair value hierarchy. The three levels are described below:

- Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;
- Level 2: Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly;
- Level 3: Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

A financial asset's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The following tables set forth by level within the fair value hierarchy the Plan's investments at fair value, as of June 30, 2014 and 2013. Assets are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Total Investments at Fair Value	$ 6,506,602	$ 4,312,565	$ 10,819,167

Note 5 – Restrictions on Net Assets

The investment in the Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M is designed to deliver safety and stability by preserving principal and accumulating earnings. This fund is primarily invested in guaranteed investment contracts and synthetic investment contracts. Participant-directed redemptions have no restrictions; however, the Plan is required to provide a one-year redemption notice to liquidate its entire share in the fund. The fair value of this fund has been estimated based on the fair value of the underlying investment contracts in the fund as reported by the issuer of the fund. The fair value differs from the contract value. As previously discussed in Note 2, contract value is the relevant measurement attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the Plan.

Note 6 – Differences between Financial Statements and Form 5500

The following is a reconciliation of net assets available for benefits per the financial statements to the Form 5500:

	June 30, 2014	2013
Net Assets Available for Benefits per the Financial Statements	$ 12,174,131	$ 11,201,235
Employer Contributions Receivable	(358,239)	(428,990)
Net Assets Available for Benefits per the Form 5500	$ 11,815,892	$ 10,772,245

The following is a reconciliation of employer contributions per the financial statements to the Form 5500 for the year ended June 30, 2014:

Contributions per the Financial Statements	$ 347,139
Less Contributions Receivable at End of Year	(358,239)
Add Contributions Receivable from Prior Year	428,990
Contributions per the Form 5500	$ 417,890

The employer contributions per the financial statements are different from employer contributions per the Form 5500 since the contributions receivable are not recorded in the Form 5500. Ending net assets available for benefits also differ for this reason.

Note 7 – Income Tax Status

The Internal Revenue Service ruled on March 31, 2008, that the Fidelity Basic Plan Document No. 15 (the prototype plan of the Trustee upon which the Plan is based) qualifies under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and the related trust is, therefore, not subject to tax under present income tax law. Subsequent to this ruling the Plan was amended. Once qualified, the Plan is required to operate in conformity with the Code to maintain its qualified status. The Plan Administrator believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and, therefore, believes that the Plan is qualified and the related trust is tax exempt.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require Plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the organization has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan Administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2011.

Note 8 – Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Note 9 – Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through February 27, 2015, the date the financial statements were available to be issued, and determined that no events have occurred that require recognition or disclosure.

Forfeitures totaling $11,100 were used during the June 30, 2014 plan year to fund the June 30, 2013 contribution receivable.

Contributions

The Plan provides for an annual company contribution of 5% of each participant's qualified compensation within certain limitations. The Plan met the minimum funding requirements of ERISA and Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Section 412 during 2014 and 2013.

Payment of Benefits

The Plan provides generally that upon retirement, death, disability, or termination, in the case of vested benefits, the standard form of payment will be in a form of a qualified joint and survivor annuity. Other forms of payment may be elected, including a single lump sum or a single life qualified annuity. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the vested value of the participant's account.

Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan, subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan's termination, the participants' accounts become fully vested.

Administrative Expenses

Substantially all expenses for plan administration are paid by the Company.

Reclassification

Certain amounts have been reclassified in the 2013 financial statements to conform to the 2014 presentation.

Note 2 – Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements of the Plan have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Benefit payments to participants are recorded upon distribution.

Investment contracts held by a defined contribution plan are required to be reported at fair value. However, contract value is the relevant measurement attribute for that portion of the net assets available for benefits of a defined contribution plan attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the plan. The Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits presents the fair value of the investment contract as well as the adjustment of the fully benefit-responsive investment contracts from fair value to contract value. The Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits is prepared on a contract value basis. This applies even when the investment contracts are not held directly by the plan but are underlying assets in a stable value fund investment held by the plan.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

Investments held by the Plan are stated at fair value. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. There have been no changes in the valuation methods used. The Plan's investments are held by Fidelity Management Trust Company (the Trustee).

Mutual funds represent investments with various investment managers. The fair values of these investments are determined by reference to the fund's underlying assets, which are principally marketable equity and fixed income securities. Shares held in mutual funds are valued at the net asset value.

Stable value funds (SVFs) represent investments with various investment managers. Units held in SVFs are fair valued at the unit value as reported by the investment managers. SVFs are not available in an exchange and active market; however, the fair value is determined based on the underlying investments as traded in an exchange and active market. The Plan holds shares of the Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M as of June 30, 2014 and 2013.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement.

Purchases and sales of the investments within the Plan are reflected on a trade-date basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 3 – Investments

All investment information disclosed in the accompanying financial statements and schedule, including investments held at June 30, 2014 and 2013, net appreciation (depreciation) in fair value of investments in mutual funds, net investment gain from stable value fund, and dividends and interest for the years then ended, were obtained or derived from information supplied to the Plan Administrator and certified as complete and accurate by the Trustee.

The investment in the Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M is valued at fair value on the Statement of Net Assets Available for Benefits and is valued at contract value on the Schedule of Assets (Held at End of Year) per the Form 5500, as shown below:

Note 4 - Fair Value Measurements

The various inputs that may be used to determine the value of the Plan's investments are summarized in three broad levels within the fair value hierarchy. The three levels are described below:

- Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;
- Level 2: Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly;
- Level 3: Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable.

A financial asset's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The following tables set forth by level within the fair value hierarchy the Plan's investments at fair value, as of June 30, 2014 and 2013. Assets are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Total Investments at Fair Value	$ 6,506,602	$ 4,312,565	$ 10,819,167

Note 5 – Restrictions on Net Assets

The investment in the Wells Fargo Stable Return Fund Class M is designed to deliver safety and stability by preserving principal and accumulating earnings. This fund is primarily invested in guaranteed investment contracts and synthetic investment contracts. Participant-directed redemptions have no restrictions; however, the Plan is required to provide a one-year redemption notice to liquidate its entire share in the fund. The fair value of this fund has been estimated based on the fair value of the underlying investment contracts in the fund as reported by the issuer of the fund. The fair value differs from the contract value. As previously discussed in Note 2, contract value is the relevant measurement attributable to fully benefit-responsive investment contracts because contract value is the amount participants would receive if they were to initiate permitted transactions under the terms of the Plan.

Note 6 – Differences between Financial Statements and Form 5500

The following is a reconciliation of net assets available for benefits per the financial statements to the Form 5500:

	June 30, 2014	2013
Net Assets Available for Benefits per the Financial Statements	$ 12,174,131	$ 11,201,235
Employer Contributions Receivable	(358,239)	(428,990)
Net Assets Available for Benefits per the Form 5500	$ 11,815,892	$ 10,772,245

The following is a reconciliation of employer contributions per the financial statements to the Form 5500 for the year ended June 30, 2014:

Contributions per the Financial Statements	$ 347,139
Less Contributions Receivable at End of Year	(358,239)
Add Contributions Receivable from Prior Year	428,990
Contributions per the Form 5500	$ 417,890

The employer contributions per the financial statements are different from employer contributions per the Form 5500 since the contributions receivable are not recorded in the Form 5500. Ending net assets available for benefits also differ for this reason.

Note 7 – Income Tax Status

The Internal Revenue Service ruled on March 31, 2008, that the Fidelity Basic Plan Document No. 15 (the prototype plan of the Trustee upon which the Plan is based) qualifies under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and the related trust is, therefore, not subject to tax under present income tax law. Subsequent to this ruling the Plan was amended. Once qualified, the Plan is required to operate in conformity with the Code to maintain its qualified status. The Plan Administrator believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and, therefore, believes that the Plan is qualified and the related trust is tax exempt.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require Plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the organization has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The Plan Administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2011.

Note 8 – Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Note 9 – Subsequent Events

Management has evaluated subsequent events through February 27, 2015, the date the financial statements were available to be issued, and determined that no events have occurred that require recognition or disclosure.
