Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan

Palo Alto Research Center (the Company) established the Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan (the Plan), effective May 1, 2002, to provide participants with a method to fund their retirement on a tax-deferred basis. The following description of the Plan, as amended and restated effective October 1, 2015, provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General:

The Plan is a defined contribution plan under Section 401(k) and related provisions of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code). The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

The Company is the Plan sponsor and Plan administrator. Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B. (Prudential) is the Plan trustee and Prudential Retirement Services is the Plan record keeper. Prudential holds, invests and reinvests trust assets in the interest and at the direction of the participants and their beneficiaries.

Eligible Participants:

Employees, as defined by the Plan, may contribute to the Plan immediately upon hire by the Company.

Contributions:

Participants may contribute up to 50% of their pre-tax annual eligible compensation (as defined by the Plan). Participants that have reached the age of 50 may also elect to make additional catch-up contributions under the Code. In addition, the Plan allows participants to make after-tax contributions to the Plan. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined contribution or defined benefit plans (rollovers).

The Plan has an automatic enrollment feature under which all new eligible employees are automatically enrolled in the Plan and have 3% of their compensation deferred and contributed to the Plan, unless they request a different amount to be contributed or formally decline participation. Participants may adjust their deferral rate and/or discontinue their contributions at any time.

The Company may make discretionary matching and profit-sharing contributions to the Plan. The Company made matching contributions of $773,518 to the Plan in 2017.

Contributions are subject to certain limitations under the Code.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan (continued)

Participant Accounts:

Participant accounts are credited with participant contributions, Company contributions, rollovers and an allocation of the Plan's net earnings or losses. Allocations are based on participant earnings or account balances, in accordance with Plan provisions. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's account.

Participants may choose to invest their account balances in a variety of investment options offered by the Plan that are designed to provide a full range of investment options, or in a participant-managed individual brokerage account with Prudential. An individual brokerage account allows a participant to invest in and manage a broader range of investments, including equity securities traded on the major U.S. stock exchanges, fixed-income securities, guaranteed income funds and mutual funds. Participants are charged an annual fee plus commissions on these brokerage accounts. A participant may change his or her choice of investments at any time.

Vesting:

Participants are fully (100%) vested in their account balances, including any discretionary matching and profit-sharing contributions made by the Company.

Notes Receivable from Participants:

Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent participant notes are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the Plan agreement.

Participants may borrow up to one-half of their account balance, not to exceed $50,000, for a period not to exceed five years, except for amounts used to purchase a primary residence for which note terms for longer periods are permitted. Participant notes are evidenced by a written note, bear a reasonable rate of interest under the note policy and are collateralized by the participant's account balance. Interest rates on notes outstanding as of December 31, 2017 range from 4.25% to 6.00%. Repayment of principal and interest is generally made through payroll deductions.

Payment of Benefits:

On termination of employment, a participant may elect to receive a distribution of his or her account balance in a lump sum cash payment and in-kind securities from an individual brokerage account, or in installment payments. The Plan administrator may elect to distribute a participant's account balance if the balance is $5,000 or less without the participant's consent. All distributions are subject to the applicable provisions of the Plan agreement. Benefits are recorded when paid.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan (continued)

Plan Expenses:

Administrative expenses paid directly by the Plan consist of contract management and administrator expenses and audit fees. Several of the investment fund options are subject to investment fees based on a percentage of invested assets, as disclosed in the fund's prospectus. All such fees are included in administrative expenses in the accompanying financial statements. All other expenses to administer the Plan are paid by the Company and are not reflected in the Plan's financial statements.

Risks and Uncertainties:

Participants may invest their account balances in a variety of investment options offered by the Plan. Investments are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market fluctuations and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment options offered by the Plan, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risk in the near term could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Plan Termination:

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right to discontinue its contributions and to terminate the Plan at any time, subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of a Plan termination, distributions will be made to participants as described in the Plan agreement.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting:

The Plan's financial statements are prepared on the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the Plan administrator to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Investments:

Investments are accounted for as follows:

Mutual Funds: Mutual funds are valued at the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Plan at year end, as quoted in active markets. It is not probable that the mutual funds will be sold at amounts that differ materially from the NAV of shares held.

Participant-Managed Accounts: Investments held in these accounts are valued at quoted market prices from the applicable stock exchanges.

Guaranteed Income Fund: The fund is a fully benefit-responsive investment contract with Prudential. Prudential maintains the contributions in a general account. The account is credited with earnings on the underlying investments and charged for participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. This investment is presented at contract value, as determined by Prudential. Contract value represents contributions made under the contract, plus earnings, less participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their account at contract value. The guaranteed investment contract issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the Plan.

There are no reserves against contract value for credit risk of the contract issuer or otherwise. The crediting interest rate is based on a formula agreed upon with the issuer, but may not be less than 1.5%. Such interest rates are reviewed on a semi-annual basis for resetting.

The Plan administrator does not believe that any events that could limit the Plan's ability to transact with Plan participants at contract value are probable of occurring. In addition, there are not any events that allow Prudential to terminate the contract and require the Plan to settle an amount other than at contract value.

Pooled Separate Account: The pooled separate account is an asset of Prudential consisting of shares in a mutual fund. The investment in the separate account is expressed in 'units'. The value of the separate account is recorded at the close of each business day at fair value based on unit value reported by Prudential. The 'unit value' is calculated by dividing the value of the entire account by the total number of units in the account. The value of the Plan's investment in the separate account on any date is determined by multiplying the number of units held by the unit value.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Fair Value Measurements:

The Plan uses a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements based on the nature of inputs used in the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. The three-level hierarchy prioritizes within the measurement of fair value, the use of market-based information over entity-specific information. Fair value focuses on an exit price and is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The inputs or methodology used for valuing financial instruments are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those instruments.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level I: Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level II: Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

Level III: Inputs to the valuation methodology, which are significant to the fair value measurement, are unobservable.

A financial instrument's categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Income Recognition:

Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought, sold or held during the year.

Subsequent Events:

Subsequent events have been evaluated through the date of the independent auditors' report, which is the date the financial statements were approved by the Plan and available to be issued.

3. Information Prepared and Certified by Prudential

Prudential, as the Plan's trustee, has certified the value of the following assets held at December 31, 2017 and 2016, and the net income for the year ended December 31, 2017, that were used in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedule.

4. Investments

5. Party-In-Interest Transactions

Transactions related to certain investments offered by Prudential, the Plan's trustee, also qualify as party-in-interest transactions. In addition, note receivable transactions with participants qualify as party-in-interest transactions. These party-in-interest transactions are exempt from prohibited transactions rules of ERISA.

6. Income Tax Status

The Plan is a prototype plan offered by Prudential, which has obtained an opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stating that the plan submitted for review qualifies under applicable provisions of the Code. The Company believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and related state statutes, and is therefore qualified, and that the trust, which forms a part of the Plan, is exempt from federal and state income taxes.

GAAP requires Plan management to evaluate income tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan and has concluded that, as of December 31, 2017, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits in progress for any tax periods. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2014.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Report on the Financial Statements

We were engaged to audit the accompanying financial statements of the Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan (the Plan), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2017 and 2016, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2017, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on conducting the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Because of the matter described in the Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion paragraph, however, we were not able to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for an audit opinion.

Basis for Disclaimer of Opinion

As permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's (DOL) Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), the Plan administrator instructed us not to perform, and we did not perform, any auditing procedures with respect to the information summarized in Note 3, which was certified by Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B. Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan

Palo Alto Research Center (the Company) established the Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan (the Plan), effective May 1, 2002, to provide participants with a method to fund their retirement on a tax-deferred basis. The following description of the Plan, as amended and restated effective October 1, 2015, provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General:

The Plan is a defined contribution plan under Section 401(k) and related provisions of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code). The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

The Company is the Plan sponsor and Plan administrator. Prudential Bank & Trust, F.S.B. (Prudential) is the Plan trustee and Prudential Retirement Services is the Plan record keeper. Prudential holds, invests and reinvests trust assets in the interest and at the direction of the participants and their beneficiaries.

Eligible Participants:

Employees, as defined by the Plan, may contribute to the Plan immediately upon hire by the Company.

Contributions:

Participants may contribute up to 50% of their pre-tax annual eligible compensation (as defined by the Plan). Participants that have reached the age of 50 may also elect to make additional catch-up contributions under the Code. In addition, the Plan allows participants to make after-tax contributions to the Plan. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined contribution or defined benefit plans (rollovers).

The Plan has an automatic enrollment feature under which all new eligible employees are automatically enrolled in the Plan and have 3% of their compensation deferred and contributed to the Plan, unless they request a different amount to be contributed or formally decline participation. Participants may adjust their deferral rate and/or discontinue their contributions at any time.

The Company may make discretionary matching and profit-sharing contributions to the Plan. The Company made matching contributions of $773,518 to the Plan in 2017.

Contributions are subject to certain limitations under the Code.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan (continued)

Participant Accounts:

Participant accounts are credited with participant contributions, Company contributions, rollovers and an allocation of the Plan's net earnings or losses. Allocations are based on participant earnings or account balances, in accordance with Plan provisions. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's account.

Participants may choose to invest their account balances in a variety of investment options offered by the Plan that are designed to provide a full range of investment options, or in a participant-managed individual brokerage account with Prudential. An individual brokerage account allows a participant to invest in and manage a broader range of investments, including equity securities traded on the major U.S. stock exchanges, fixed-income securities, guaranteed income funds and mutual funds. Participants are charged an annual fee plus commissions on these brokerage accounts. A participant may change his or her choice of investments at any time.

Vesting:

Participants are fully (100%) vested in their account balances, including any discretionary matching and profit-sharing contributions made by the Company.

Notes Receivable from Participants:

Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent participant notes are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the Plan agreement.

Participants may borrow up to one-half of their account balance, not to exceed $50,000, for a period not to exceed five years, except for amounts used to purchase a primary residence for which note terms for longer periods are permitted. Participant notes are evidenced by a written note, bear a reasonable rate of interest under the note policy and are collateralized by the participant's account balance. Interest rates on notes outstanding as of December 31, 2017 range from 4.25% to 6.00%. Repayment of principal and interest is generally made through payroll deductions.

Payment of Benefits:

On termination of employment, a participant may elect to receive a distribution of his or her account balance in a lump sum cash payment and in-kind securities from an individual brokerage account, or in installment payments. The Plan administrator may elect to distribute a participant's account balance if the balance is $5,000 or less without the participant's consent. All distributions are subject to the applicable provisions of the Plan agreement. Benefits are recorded when paid.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan (continued)

Plan Expenses:

Administrative expenses paid directly by the Plan consist of contract management and administrator expenses and audit fees. Several of the investment fund options are subject to investment fees based on a percentage of invested assets, as disclosed in the fund's prospectus. All such fees are included in administrative expenses in the accompanying financial statements. All other expenses to administer the Plan are paid by the Company and are not reflected in the Plan's financial statements.

Risks and Uncertainties:

Participants may invest their account balances in a variety of investment options offered by the Plan. Investments are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market fluctuations and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment options offered by the Plan, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risk in the near term could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Plan Termination:

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right to discontinue its contributions and to terminate the Plan at any time, subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of a Plan termination, distributions will be made to participants as described in the Plan agreement.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting:

The Plan's financial statements are prepared on the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the Plan administrator to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Investments:

Investments are accounted for as follows:

Mutual Funds: Mutual funds are valued at the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Plan at year end, as quoted in active markets. It is not probable that the mutual funds will be sold at amounts that differ materially from the NAV of shares held.

Participant-Managed Accounts: Investments held in these accounts are valued at quoted market prices from the applicable stock exchanges.

Guaranteed Income Fund: The fund is a fully benefit-responsive investment contract with Prudential. Prudential maintains the contributions in a general account. The account is credited with earnings on the underlying investments and charged for participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. This investment is presented at contract value, as determined by Prudential. Contract value represents contributions made under the contract, plus earnings, less participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their account at contract value. The guaranteed investment contract issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the Plan.

There are no reserves against contract value for credit risk of the contract issuer or otherwise. The crediting interest rate is based on a formula agreed upon with the issuer, but may not be less than 1.5%. Such interest rates are reviewed on a semi-annual basis for resetting.

The Plan administrator does not believe that any events that could limit the Plan's ability to transact with Plan participants at contract value are probable of occurring. In addition, there are not any events that allow Prudential to terminate the contract and require the Plan to settle an amount other than at contract value.

Pooled Separate Account: The pooled separate account is an asset of Prudential consisting of shares in a mutual fund. The investment in the separate account is expressed in 'units'. The value of the separate account is recorded at the close of each business day at fair value based on unit value reported by Prudential. The 'unit value' is calculated by dividing the value of the entire account by the total number of units in the account. The value of the Plan's investment in the separate account on any date is determined by multiplying the number of units held by the unit value.

Palo Alto Research Center 401(k) Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Fair Value Measurements:

The Plan uses a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements based on the nature of inputs used in the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. The three-level hierarchy prioritizes within the measurement of fair value, the use of market-based information over entity-specific information. Fair value focuses on an exit price and is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The inputs or methodology used for valuing financial instruments are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those instruments.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level I: Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level II: Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

Level III: Inputs to the valuation methodology, which are significant to the fair value measurement, are unobservable.

A financial instrument's categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Income Recognition:

Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought, sold or held during the year.

Subsequent Events:

Subsequent events have been evaluated through the date of the independent auditors' report, which is the date the financial statements were approved by the Plan and available to be issued.

Prudential, as the Plan's trustee, has certified the value of the following assets held at December 31, 2017 and 2016, and the net income for the year ended December 31, 2017, that were used in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedule.

5. Party-In-Interest Transactions

Transactions related to certain investments offered by Prudential, the Plan's trustee, also qualify as party-in-interest transactions. In addition, note receivable transactions with participants qualify as party-in-interest transactions. These party-in-interest transactions are exempt from prohibited transactions rules of ERISA.

6. Income Tax Status

The Plan is a prototype plan offered by Prudential, which has obtained an opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stating that the plan submitted for review qualifies under applicable provisions of the Code. The Company believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and related state statutes, and is therefore qualified, and that the trust, which forms a part of the Plan, is exempt from federal and state income taxes.

GAAP requires Plan management to evaluate income tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan and has concluded that, as of December 31, 2017, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits in progress for any tax periods. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2014.

Prudential holds, invests and reinvests trust assets in the interest and at the direction of the participants and their beneficiaries.

Eligible Participants:

Employees, as defined by the Plan, may contribute to the Plan immediately upon hire by the Company.

Contributions:

Participants may contribute up to 50% of their pre-tax annual eligible compensation (as defined by the Plan). Participants that have reached the age of 50 may also elect to make additional catch-up contributions under the Code. In addition, the Plan allows participants to make after-tax contributions to the Plan. Participants may also contribute amounts representing distributions from other qualified defined contribution or defined benefit plans (rollovers).

The Plan has an automatic enrollment feature under which all new eligible employees are automatically enrolled in the Plan and have 3% of their compensation deferred and contributed to the Plan, unless they request a different amount to be contributed or formally decline participation. Participants may adjust their deferral rate and/or discontinue their contributions at any time.

The Company may make discretionary matching and profit-sharing contributions to the Plan. The Company made matching contributions of $773,518 to the Plan in 2017.

Contributions are subject to certain limitations under the Code.

1. Description of the Plan (continued)

Participant Accounts:

Participant accounts are credited with participant contributions, Company contributions, rollovers and an allocation of the Plan's net earnings or losses. Allocations are based on participant earnings or account balances, in accordance with Plan provisions. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's account.

Participants may choose to invest their account balances in a variety of investment options offered by the Plan that are designed to provide a full range of investment options, or in a participant-managed individual brokerage account with Prudential. An individual brokerage account allows a participant to invest in and manage a broader range of investments, including equity securities traded on the major U.S. stock exchanges, fixed-income securities, guaranteed income funds and mutual funds. Participants are charged an annual fee plus commissions on these brokerage accounts. A participant may change his or her choice of investments at any time.

Vesting:

Participants are fully (100%) vested in their account balances, including any discretionary matching and profit-sharing contributions made by the Company.

Notes Receivable from Participants:

Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Delinquent participant notes are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms of the Plan agreement.

Participants may borrow up to one-half of their account balance, not to exceed $50,000, for a period not to exceed five years, except for amounts used to purchase a primary residence for which note terms for longer periods are permitted. Participant notes are evidenced by a written note, bear a reasonable rate of interest under the note policy and are collateralized by the participant's account balance. Interest rates on notes outstanding as of December 31, 2017 range from 4.25% to 6.00%. Repayment of principal and interest is generally made through payroll deductions.

Payment of Benefits:

On termination of employment, a participant may elect to receive a distribution of his or her account balance in a lump sum cash payment and in-kind securities from an individual brokerage account, or in installment payments. The Plan administrator may elect to distribute a participant's account balance if the balance is $5,000 or less without the participant's consent. All distributions are subject to the applicable provisions of the Plan agreement. Benefits are recorded when paid.

Plan Expenses:

Administrative expenses paid directly by the Plan consist of contract management and administrator expenses and audit fees. Several of the investment fund options are subject to investment fees based on a percentage of invested assets, as disclosed in the fund's prospectus. All such fees are included in administrative expenses in the accompanying financial statements. All other expenses to administer the Plan are paid by the Company and are not reflected in the Plan's financial statements.

Risks and Uncertainties:

Participants may invest their account balances in a variety of investment options offered by the Plan. Investments are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market fluctuations and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment options offered by the Plan, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in risk in the near term could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

Plan Termination:

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right to discontinue its contributions and to terminate the Plan at any time, subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of a Plan termination, distributions will be made to participants as described in the Plan agreement.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting:

The Plan's financial statements are prepared on the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the Plan administrator to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Investments:

Investments are accounted for as follows:

Mutual Funds: Mutual funds are valued at the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Plan at year end, as quoted in active markets. It is not probable that the mutual funds will be sold at amounts that differ materially from the NAV of shares held.

Participant-Managed Accounts: Investments held in these accounts are valued at quoted market prices from the applicable stock exchanges.

Guaranteed Income Fund: The fund is a fully benefit-responsive investment contract with Prudential. Prudential maintains the contributions in a general account. The account is credited with earnings on the underlying investments and charged for participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. This investment is presented at contract value, as determined by Prudential. Contract value represents contributions made under the contract, plus earnings, less participant withdrawals and administrative expenses. Participants may ordinarily direct the withdrawal or transfer of all or a portion of their account at contract value. The guaranteed investment contract issuer is contractually obligated to repay the principal and a specified interest rate that is guaranteed to the Plan.

There are no reserves against contract value for credit risk of the contract issuer or otherwise. The crediting interest rate is based on a formula agreed upon with the issuer, but may not be less than 1.5%. Such interest rates are reviewed on a semi-annual basis for resetting.

The Plan administrator does not believe that any events that could limit the Plan's ability to transact with Plan participants at contract value are probable of occurring. In addition, there are not any events that allow Prudential to terminate the contract and require the Plan to settle an amount other than at contract value.

Pooled Separate Account: The pooled separate account is an asset of Prudential consisting of shares in a mutual fund. The investment in the separate account is expressed in 'units'. The value of the separate account is recorded at the close of each business day at fair value based on unit value reported by Prudential. The 'unit value' is calculated by dividing the value of the entire account by the total number of units in the account. The value of the Plan's investment in the separate account on any date is determined by multiplying the number of units held by the unit value.

Fair Value Measurements:

The Plan uses a three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements based on the nature of inputs used in the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. The three-level hierarchy prioritizes within the measurement of fair value, the use of market-based information over entity-specific information. Fair value focuses on an exit price and is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The inputs or methodology used for valuing financial instruments are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those instruments.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level I: Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level II: Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

Level III: Inputs to the valuation methodology, which are significant to the fair value measurement, are unobservable.

A financial instrument's categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Income Recognition:

Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought, sold or held during the year.

Subsequent Events:

Subsequent events have been evaluated through the date of the independent auditors' report, which is the date the financial statements were approved by the Plan and available to be issued.

5. Party-In-Interest Transactions

Transactions related to certain investments offered by Prudential, the Plan's trustee, also qualify as party-in-interest transactions. In addition, note receivable transactions with participants qualify as party-in-interest transactions. These party-in-interest transactions are exempt from prohibited transactions rules of ERISA.

6. Income Tax Status

The Plan is a prototype plan offered by Prudential, which has obtained an opinion letter from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) stating that the plan submitted for review qualifies under applicable provisions of the Code. The Company believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and related state statutes, and is therefore qualified, and that the trust, which forms a part of the Plan, is exempt from federal and state income taxes.

GAAP requires Plan management to evaluate income tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain tax position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan and has concluded that, as of December 31, 2017, there are no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits in progress for any tax periods. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2014.
