Management of Trollco, Inc.
Trollco, Inc. 401(k) Plan
Fort Collins, Colorado

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the Trollco 401(k) Plan (the Plan) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2018, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform a DOL limited-scope audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Our audit did not include all of the procedures required by auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the information summarized in Note 8 to those financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we were unable to, and did not, express an opinion on those financial statements.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses and other deficiencies that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency or combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We have not noted any deficiencies in the Plan to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

I. PURGING OF EMPLOYEE PAPERWORK

During participant data testing, we discovered that the plan did not have employee files for Jeremy Butcher and Bradley Williamson. Per discussion with the plan administrator, Janice Fitzsimmons, Trollco Inc.'s (the Company or Plan Sponsor) policy is to purge employee records three years from the date of an employee's termination regardless of the whether or not the employee is still holding an account balance in the plan.

We recommend that the Company policy be updated to keep employee file documentation for all terminated employees until the employee's full account balance has been withdrawn from the plan. We also recommend that employee files be semi-annually checked by Company HR for completeness by at least two individuals. We further recommend that the Company takes a proactive roll in requesting terminated employees to roll their asset out of the Plan.

II. EMPLOYEE TERMINATION DOCUMENTATION

The Company does not complete reports or notices of termination during the termination process. Termination paperwork is not maintained in employee files.

We recommend that termination paperwork be completed by Company managers and HR and maintained on record for each terminated employee. We also recommend the human resources specialist compares the list of terminated employees in the ADP payroll module to the ADP 401(k) module each pay period to ensure accuracy of employee status.

III. TERMINATION DATE DISCREPANCIES AND COMPLETENESS

During testing of participant data, several discrepancies were noted between termination dates listed on the employee files compared to the ADP modules. Two employees, Derek Koenig and Denise Cackowski, had discrepancies of 3 days and 5 days, respectively. Both employees had their dates corrected in the systems by the plan administrator once the discrepancy was discovered. One employee, Gage Archer, was not marked as terminated on the employee census even though he had a termination date of 11/3/2018 noted in his employee file. Per discussions with the plan administrator, it was determined that there was a delay in posting the termination date to the ADP module until 2019.

We recommend that employee records be scanned and checked for errors routinely by at least two staff members. Per discussion with the plan administrator, an internal control procedure was developed to alleviate any future discrepancies caused by untimely communication from managers regarding the termination status of employees. We recommend that the control the plan administrator developed during the audit continues to be performed every pay cycle to have managers confirm each employees' status as active. We recommend that the results of this control are compared to and updated on the ADP modules. Lastly, we recommend that any discrepancies that are discovered are corrected and sent to ADP in a timely manner.

IV. I-9 FORM VERIFICATION AND COMPLETENESS

During testing of participant data, it was noted that multiple employees either had missing or incomplete I-9 forms. Upon further investigation, we learned that the majority of managers at Trollco, Inc. do not require employees to complete the entire I-9 form during the hiring process.

We recommend that every active employee has their employee file checked and/or updated to include a fully completed I-9 form. Once completed, the form should be verified by the hiring manager and the plan administrator for accuracy. We also recommend that the Company's policy should be updated to make sure all managers in charge of hiring are requiring new and rehired employees to fully completed I-9 forms. A periodic review of employee files should be completed on a regular basis to ensure completeness for new and rehired employees.

V. DATE OF BIRTH DISCREPANCIES

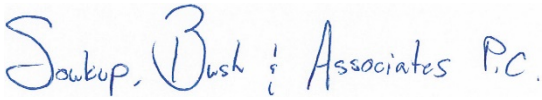

It was noted during participant data testing that there were several discrepancies between the date of birth listed on employees' I-9 forms compared to date of birth listed on the ADP modules. Due the fact that this discrepancy could interfere with an employee's plan eligibility accuracy, further testing was performed on all the employees in the listed on the 2018 census file. None of the date of birth discrepancies discovered negatively impact employees' eligibility to enroll in the 401k plan. Below is a summary of all date of birth discrepancies discovered:

1. The following employees had a missing or an incorrect date of birth listed on their I-9 forms:
    - Richard Brandt
    - Dylan Walker
    - Gage Archer
    - Nicolas Horst

2. The following employees had an incorrect date of birth listed on their ADP modules:
    - Dallas Blanco
    - Justin Dykstra
    - Grace Maxwell
    - Braden Peninger
    - Chance Wilcox

We recommend that the employee's I-9 form and/or ADP modules be updated for the correct date of birth for all of the specific employees listed above. We also recommend that employee records are scanned and checked routinely for missing and/or incorrect information for all employees. We further recommend that employee records be cross-checked with the ADP payroll module to ensure accuracy.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the board of directors of Trollco, Inc. and others within the organization, and is not intended to be, and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
