January 27, 2020

Dear DOL and IRS,

I received a letter in November of this year letting me know I had a late filing of a form 5500, dating to 2017. It was a second letter according to the note but I hadn't received an earlier notice.

Upon receiving the letter I called the IRS, reached out to my accountant who I assumed filed on my behalf. He told me the payroll provider who provided the plan should have completed the form and submitted on my behalf. Then of course I called them and they told me they don't do it, I would need to do my own. Then they provided a copy of the completed form minus my signatures.

I faxed that information per instructions to the IRS and followed it up with a copy sent via mail.

This week I got a new note from the IRS saying I needed to file electronically and they couldn't take it via fax. I assume the letter telling me the same for the copy I mailed with come some time later.

I talked to someone on the phone today who walked me through the filing and I am submitting along with this letter.

I sincerely request that you consider not charging a penalty. I was not aware of this form, closed the account shortly after opening it as I had no interested employees and frankly I intentionally hired a payroll provider and accountant to ensure administrative activities were looked after on my behalf. Had I had any idea that this form had to be completed by me I would have done so. I do not have to file for any other plan years since I closed the account and I am really hoping for some mercy.

I sincerely appreciate your time and attention!

Regards,

Lisa Nielsen
