Section I - Internal Control Related Matters Identified in an Audit

In planning and performing our limited scope audit of the financial statements of CFC, Inc. Employees' Profit Sharing and 401(k) Plan & Trust as of and for the year ended December 31, 2019, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) other than those controls over investments and related investment activity. Our limited scope audit was performed in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America except, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, we did not perform any auditing procedures with respect to certified information, except for comparing such information to the related information included in the financial statements. We considered internal control as a basis for designing our procedures to enable us to express an opinion as to whether the form and content of the information included in the financial statements, other than that derived from the certified information, are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses, and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

Safe Harbor Contributions

The IRS maximum compensation limit for 2019 is $280,000. We noted that management was using the outdated 2018 maximum compensation limit of $275,000 when calculating the safe harbor contribution. As a result, employer safe harbor contributions were understated by $582.

Additionally, we noted that the maximum safe harbor match for the year was set at $5,600, which was calculated as 2 percent of a maximum annual salary of $280,000. Per discussion with management, this rule did not carry over when the Company switched payroll providers during November 2019. Therefore, five employees were able to contribute over the max match amount. As a result, employer safe harbor contributions were overstated by $1,666.

As a result of the issues above, employer safe harbor contributions have been miscalculated, resulting in a net overstatement of $1,084. We understand this error will be corrected at the time of payment of the 2019 employer safe harbor contribution in September 2020. We recommend that effective calculation procedures and review controls be established to ensure that the employer safe harbor contribution is determined properly, includes all eligible participants and that up-to-date limits are utilized in the calculation.

Participant Contribution Rates

We noted that, for two participants, the deferral percentage per paycheck was not consistent with the deferral percentage per the completed election form. Per our discussion with management, improper contribution rates were entered into the system as a result of both participants having the same last name. The improper rates resulted in one participant undercontributing by $448 and one participant overcontributing by $959.

We recommend that effective calculation procedures and review controls be established to ensure that the correct employee contribution rates are applied.

Change in Payroll Provider

In November 2019, the Company switched payroll providers from ADP to Paycom. During our testing, we noted that the prior payroll provider did not automatically account for catch-up contributions and, thus, would shut off contributions when a participant reached $19,000 in employee deferrals. At this time, management would manually reinstate contributions at a rate that would allow the participant to reach the employee deferral maximum of $25,000. As a result of this manual process, we noted that one participant improperly had their contributions halted, resulting in a missed contribution on one payroll register. At year end, this participant contributed $531 less than the maximum amount of $25,000.

Additionally, we noted that, when the participant's employee deferrals were manually reactivated, employer contributions remained off. However, when the payroll switch to Paycom occurred, the participant started receiving employer contributions again. Per review of the participant's contribution history, we noted that employer contributions were received for two paychecks in which the participant did not contribute himself. Per discussion with management, Paycom does not have the logic to turn on and off the 2 percent match automatically. Therefore, the 2 percent match was manually applied in Paycom and was not turned off for the paychecks in which no employee contribution was made. These errors resulted in the employer contributing $92 in excess of the calculated amount.

We recommend that effective review of payroll controls be established to ensure all employee and employer contributions are properly calculated and that all IRS limits are automatically applied.

Section II - Required Communications with Those Charged with Governance

Our Responsibility Under U.S. Generally Accepted Auditing Standards

As stated in our engagement letter dated June 23, 2020, we conducted our audit in accordance with professional standards except that, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA and as instructed by you, we did not perform any auditing procedures with respect to certified information, except for comparing such information to the related information included in the financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we did not express an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The form and content of the information included in the financial statements, other than that derived from the certified information, were audited by us in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and were subjected to tests of your accounting records and other procedures as we considered necessary to enable us to express an opinion as to whether they are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or management of your responsibilities. As part of our audit, we considered the applicable internal controls of the Plan. Such considerations were solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurance concerning such internal control.

We are responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to your responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures specifically to identify such matters.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We performed the audit according to the planned scope and timing previously communicated to you in our meeting about planning matters on June 23, 2020.

Significant Audit Findings

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. In accordance with the terms of our engagement letter, we will advise management about the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted, and the application of existing policies was not changed during 2019.

We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

We noted no significant transactions that have been recognized in the financial statements in a different period than when the transaction occurred.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimate affecting the financial statements was the Plan's valuation of investments.

Management has informed us that, in determining the appropriateness of the estimate of investment values, they have recorded the fair values based on market values provided by the investment custodian, plus any applicable valuation adjustments. We performed no specific procedures related to the valuation of the investments due to the limited scope nature of the engagement.

The disclosures in the financial statements are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Disagreements with Management

For the purpose of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report.

We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. We did not detect any misstatements as a result of audit procedures.

Significant Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards and plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement, with management each year prior to our retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship, and our responses were not a condition of our retention.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated September 9, 2020.

Other Information Provided for Your Consideration

Timely Deposit of Employee Deferrals

A Department of Labor (DOL) regulation requires that benefit plans remit employee contributions to the plan as soon as they can be reasonably segregated from the employer's general assets. In no case can this amount of time exceed 15 business days after the end of the month in which the amounts were withheld. The 15-business-day rule, however, is not a safe harbor. The general rule has been interpreted as being as little as zero days for entities with more than 100 employees. The DOL also looks at the consistency of timing and holds employers to the least number of days for deposits when determining if contributions are timely.
