To the Plan Administrator
Com-Pac International
Retirement Savings Plan
Carbondale, Illinois

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Com-Pac International Retirement Savings Plan (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2021, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's (DOL) Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Reliance Trust Company that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

Timeliness of Contribution Remittances

There is a deficiency in controls over remittance of employee deferrals. The DOL's rule of remitting employee contributions is "as soon as administratively feasible". Representatives from the DOL indicate timing of contribution remittance is an area of scrutiny in the event of audit of the Plan by the DOL and that any deviation from a set pattern could be deemed late. We noted ten instances in which employee contributions were not remitted to the custodian within the pattern of the remaining pay periods. These payments were remitted within seven to twelve days of the pay date.

Contributions

During the testing of 25 employees, we noted the following:

- One employee's remittances per the census did not agree to what the Trust reported in receipts*
- One employee did not have a bonus deferred on.*

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of Plan management, Plan Administrator, and others within the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
