October 11, 2022

To Nicole DaSilva and management of the Brahmin Leather Works, LLC 401(k) Savings Plan:

We have audited the financial statements of Brahmin Leather Works, LLC 401(k) Savings Plan ("the Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) ("ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit") for the year ended December 31, 2021, and we will issue our report thereon dated October 11, 2022. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan ("investment information") by Fidelity Management Trust Company, the trustee, which is a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements and ERISA-required supplemental schedule, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of GAAP. Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with GAAP. Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our letter to you dated January 24, 2022. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Significant Audit Matters

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note B to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted, and the application of existing policies was not changed during the year. We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. There were no sensitive accounting estimates used in the Plan's financial statements.

The financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Form 5500 Procedures

We are required to obtain and read a substantially complete draft of the Form 5500 prior to dating our auditor's report. The purpose of this procedure is to identify any material inconsistencies between the draft Form 5500 and the Plan's financial statements. We identified no material inconsistencies in performing and completing our audit.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are clearly trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. The following schedule summarizes uncorrected misstatements of the financial statements. Management has determined that their effects are immaterial, both individually and in the aggregate, to the financial statements taken as a whole. The uncorrected misstatements or the matters underlying them could potentially cause future period financial statements to be materially misstated, even though, in our judgment, such uncorrected misstatements are immaterial to the financial statements under audit.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, a disagreement with management is a disagreement on a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated October 11, 2022.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

Other Matters

Our responsibility for the ERISA-required supplemental schedule accompanying the financial statements is to perform adequate procedures to evaluate whether the form and content of the ERISA-required supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, is presented in compliance with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, and whether the information in the supplemental schedule related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Reportable Findings and Internal Control Matters

We are required to communicate to you, in writing and in a timely manner, all reportable findings, significant deficiencies, and material weaknesses that have been identified in the Plan's internal control. The definitions of a reportable finding, deficiency, significant deficiency, and material weakness are as follows:

Reportable Finding

For purposes of this letter, a reportable finding is a matter that includes one or more of the following: (1) an identified instance of noncompliance or suspected noncompliance with laws and regulations, (2) a finding arising from the audit that in our professional judgment is significant and relevant to you regarding your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process, and (3) an indication of internal control deficiencies identified during the audit that have not been previously communicated to you by other parties and that in our professional judgment are sufficiently important to merit your attention.

Deficiency

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

Significant Deficiency

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Material Weakness

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A reportable finding may also be considered a deficiency, significant deficiency, or a material weakness.

In accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Plan's internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. In accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5, our audit did not extend to the certified investment information and as such internal control relating to the certified investment information was not considered.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses, significant deficiencies, or reportable findings and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

We identified, as a result of our audit, the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control which were also considered to be reportable findings. We did not consider these to be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies:

Automatic Enrollment:

During our testing we noted that one instance in which a participant had not been timely automatically enrolled into the plan, resulting in missed deferral and match opportunity. We recommend management review procedures surrounding automatic enrollment to ensure all participants are enrolled timely. We further recommend management remit 25% of the participants missed deferral opportunity plus lost earnings and 100% of missed matching contribution and notify the participant of the correction in writing within 45 days.

The above error is considered an operational failure which requires correction under the IRS Employee Plans Compliance Resolution System ("EPCRS"), which is outlined in Revenue Procedure 2021-30 ("Rev. Proc. 2021-30"). We recommend the Company correct the failure through the Self-Correction Program ("SCP") available under EPCRS. In accordance with the requirements of Rev. Proc. 2021-30, the correction method above will put the affected participant in the position they would have been in had the failure not occurred. In order to correct the failure using SCP the company must have established practices and procedures reasonably designed to prevent such failures. As a best practice we recommend that the company document this correction and the related controls in place when the failure occurred. Providing such documentation will reduce or eliminate potential sanctions in the event that the IRS selects the plan for examination and identifies the failure.

This information is intended solely for the use of Nicole DaSilva and management of the Plan and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Very truly yours,

We are required to communicate to you, in writing and in a timely manner, all reportable findings, significant deficiencies, and material weaknesses that have been identified in the Plan's internal control. The definitions of a reportable finding, deficiency, significant deficiency, and material weakness are as follows:

Reportable Finding

For purposes of this letter, a reportable finding is a matter that includes one or more of the following: (1) an identified instance of noncompliance or suspected noncompliance with laws and regulations, (2) a finding arising from the audit that in our professional judgment is significant and relevant to you regarding your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process, and (3) an indication of internal control deficiencies identified during the audit that have not been previously communicated to you by other parties and that in our professional judgment are sufficiently important to merit your attention.

Deficiency

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

Significant Deficiency

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Material Weakness

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A reportable finding may also be considered a deficiency, significant deficiency, or a material weakness.

In accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Plan's internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. In accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5, our audit did not extend to the certified investment information and as such internal control relating to the certified investment information was not considered.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses, significant deficiencies, or reportable findings and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

We identified, as a result of our audit, the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control which were also considered to be reportable findings. We did not consider these to be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies:

Automatic Enrollment:

During our testing we noted that one instance in which a participant had not been timely automatically enrolled into the plan, resulting in missed deferral and match opportunity. We recommend management review procedures surrounding automatic enrollment to ensure all participants are enrolled timely. We further recommend management remit 25% of the participants missed deferral opportunity plus lost earnings and 100% of missed matching contribution and notify the participant of the correction in writing within 45 days.

The above error is considered an operational failure which requires correction under the IRS Employee Plans Compliance Resolution System ("EPCRS"), which is outlined in Revenue Procedure 2021-30 ("Rev. Proc. 2021-30"). We recommend the Company correct the failure through the Self-Correction Program ("SCP") available under EPCRS. In accordance with the requirements of Rev. Proc. 2021-30, the correction method above will put the affected participant in the position they would have been in had the failure not occurred. In order to correct the failure using SCP the company must have established practices and procedures reasonably designed to prevent such failures. As a best practice we recommend that the company document this correction and the related controls in place when the failure occurred. Providing such documentation will reduce or eliminate potential sanctions in the event that the IRS selects the plan for examination and identifies the failure.
