To the Retirement Plan Committee and Management
Hattie Larlham 403(b) Retirement Savings Plan

We have audited the financial statements of Hattie Larlham 403(b) Retirement Savings Plan (the "Plan") as of and for the year ended December 31, 2020 and have issued our report thereon dated July 27, 2021. Professional standards require that we provide you with the following information related to our audit.

Our Responsibility Under U.S. Generally Accepted Auditing Standards

As stated in our engagement letter dated May 5, 2021, we conducted our audit in accordance with professional standards except that, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA and as instructed by you, we did not perform any auditing procedures with respect to certified information except for comparing such information to the related information included in the financial statements. Because of the significance of the information that we did not audit, we did not express an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The form and content of the information included in the financial statements, other than that derived from the certified information, were audited by us in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and were subjected to tests of your accounting records and other procedures as we considered necessary to enable us to express an opinion as to whether they are presented in compliance with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or management of your responsibilities. As part of our audit, we considered the applicable internal controls of the Plan. Such considerations were solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurance concerning such internal control.

We are responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to your responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures specifically to identify such matters.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We performed the audit according to the planned scope and timing previously communicated to you in our meeting about planning matters on April 4, 2021 and follow-up letter dated June 16, 2021.

Significant Audit Findings

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. In accordance with the terms of our engagement letter, we will advise management about the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. No significant new accounting policies were adopted, and the application of existing policies was not changed during 2020.

We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

We noted no significant transactions that have been recognized in the financial statements in a different period than when the transaction occurred.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimate affecting the financial statements was the Plan's valuation of investments.

Management has informed us that, in determining the appropriateness of the estimate of investment values, they have recorded the fair values based on market values provided by the investment custodian, plus any applicable valuation adjustments. We performed no specific procedures related to the valuation of the investments due to the limited scope nature of the engagement.

The disclosures in the financial statements are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Disagreements with Management

For the purpose of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report.

We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management.

We did not detect any misstatements as a result of audit procedures.

Significant Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards and plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement, with management each year prior to our retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship, and our responses were not a condition of our retention.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated July 27, 2021.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a second opinion on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Information in Documents Containing Audited Financial Statements

Our responsibility for other information in documents containing the Plan's financial statements and report does not extend beyond the financial statements. We do not have an obligation to determine whether or not such other information is properly stated. However, we read the Plan's Form 5500 filing, and nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that such information, or its manner of presentation, is materially inconsistent with the information or manner of its presentation appearing in the financial statements.

Other Information Provided for Your Consideration

Timely Use of Forfeitures

Plan forfeitures represent the part of an employee's qualified retirement account balance that is lost when the employee terminates from employment prior to becoming fully vested. Based on IRS guidance, forfeitures may be used to (1) provide additional contributions to participants, (2) pay for reasonable plan expenses, or (3) reduce employer contributions. The plan document should clearly define how plan forfeitures will be used. Treasury regulations state that forfeitures must be used as soon as possible; the IRS has interpreted "as soon as possible" to require the plan sponsor to use forfeitures in the same plan year in which they were incurred.

Recently, the DOL has taken the position that, when a plan document permits forfeitures to be used to pay plan expenses and the plan sponsor does not timely use forfeitures, if the plan pays expenses out of other plan assets (i.e., expenses were allocated to participants), the plan sponsor may be considered to have breached its fiduciary duties.

Although it is not always feasible to use forfeitures in the year in which they occur, the general recommendation is that plan sponsors should adopt procedures to deplete the forfeiture account at least once a year. Improper handling of plan forfeitures, if uncorrected, may cause a plan to lose its qualified status and may be considered a breach of fiduciary duties.

Timely Deposit of Employee Deferrals

A Department of Labor (DOL) regulation requires that benefit plans remit employee contributions to the plan as soon as they can be reasonably segregated from the employer's general assets. In no case can this amount of time exceed 15 business days after the end of the month in which the amounts were withheld. The 15-business-day rule, however, is not a safe harbor. The general rule has been interpreted as being as little as zero days for entities with more than 100 employees. The DOL also looks at the consistency of timing and holds employers to the least number of days for deposits when determining if contributions are timely.

The DOL has indicated that employee deferrals should be segregated from company assets directly after each pay period. Complying with this regulation may increase plan administration expenses if the custodian/record-keeper charges for each allocation of contributions. A less costly option is for the company to make the deposit into the plan's money market account immediately after each pay period, with allocations to the participant accounts monthly. We recommend discussing alternatives with the Plan's custodian/record-keeper that allow for compliance with DOL requirements while controlling costs.
