INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Administrative Committee of the Oregon Mutual Insurance Company 401(k) Retirement Plan:

Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audits

We have performed audits of the accompanying financial statements of Oregon Mutual Insurance Company 401(k) Retirement Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C). The financial statements comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management, having determined it is permissible in the circumstances, has elected to have the audits of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audits need not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, provided that the statements or information regarding assets so held are prepared and certified to by the bank or similar institution or insurance carrier in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA (qualified institution).

Management has obtained certifications from a qualified institution as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, and for the years then ended, stating that the certified investment information, as described in Note 4 to the financial statements, is complete and accurate.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audits and on the procedures performed as described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements section-

- The amounts and disclosures in the financial statements referred to above, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
- The information in the financial statements referred to above related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Management's election of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit does not affect management's responsibility for the financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all plan amendments; administering the Plan; and determining that the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements

Except as described in the Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audits section of our report, our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Our audits did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Supplemental Schedule Required by ERISA

The supplemental schedule of assets (held at end of year) is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplemental information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information included in the supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, has been subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. For information included in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, we compared such information to the related certified investment information.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedule, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedule, other than the information agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, including their form and content, is presented in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

In our opinion-

- The form and content of the supplemental schedule, other than the information in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, are presented, in all material respects, in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.
- The information in the supplemental schedule related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Administrative Committee of the Oregon Mutual Insurance Company 401(k) Retirement Plan:

Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audits

We have performed audits of the accompanying financial statements of Oregon Mutual Insurance Company 401(k) Retirement Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C). The financial statements comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management, having determined it is permissible in the circumstances, has elected to have the audits of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audits need not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, provided that the statements or information regarding assets so held are prepared and certified to by the bank or similar institution or insurance carrier in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA (qualified institution).

Management has obtained certifications from a qualified institution as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, and for the years then ended, stating that the certified investment information, as described in Note 4 to the financial statements, is complete and accurate.

In our opinion, based on our audits and on the procedures performed as described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements section-

- The amounts and disclosures in the financial statements referred to above, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
- The information in the financial statements referred to above related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Management's election of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit does not affect management's responsibility for the financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all plan amendments; administering the Plan; and determining that the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audits of the Financial Statements

Except as described in the Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audits section of our report, our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Our audits did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Supplemental Schedule Required by ERISA

The supplemental schedule of assets (held at end of year) is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplemental information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information included in the supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, has been subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. For information included in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, we compared such information to the related certified investment information.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedule, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedule, other than the information agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, including their form and content, is presented in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

In our opinion-

- The form and content of the supplemental schedule, other than the information in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, are presented, in all material respects, in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.
- The information in the supplemental schedule related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

OREGON MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY 401(k) RETIREMENT PLAN

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan

The following description of the Oregon Mutual Insurance Company 401(k) Retirement Plan (the Plan) provides only general information. Participants should refer to the plan document for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General. Established by Oregon Mutual Insurance Company (the Company) on January 1, 1987, the Plan is a tax qualified defined contribution plan formed for the benefit of all eligible employees of the Company. The Plan includes a salary deferral arrangement commonly called a 401(k) plan. Under such provisions, employees are able to make elective deferral contributions to the Plan. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). Generally, all employees of the Company are immediately eligible to participate in the Plan, except employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement, leased employees, fill-in employees hired for 90 days or less, supplemental, on-call employees with no regularly scheduled hours, or temporary employees not expected to work indefinitely.

Contributions. Eligible employees may make elective 401(k) deferral contributions in either a Traditional (pre-tax) or Roth (after-tax) form to the Plan. Total participant contributions are limited by various Internal Revenue Code (IRC) provisions. The maximum participant elective deferral contribution is 50% of the participant's annual compensation, subject to annual individual elective deferral limitations as prescribed by the IRC. Participants over 50 years of age may make additional annual "catch-up" contributions as allowed by the IRC. The Plan also provides that refunds may be made to certain participants in order to comply with various statutory limits.

Traditional elective deferral contributions represent amounts by which an eligible employee has elected a reduction in taxable compensation in consideration of the Company contributing such amounts to the Plan. Such amounts are excluded from the participant's taxable income until received as a distribution from the Plan.

Participants making Roth elective deferral contributions will pay taxes on amounts treated as Roth elective deferral contributions when made. Roth elective deferral contributions and earnings on those contributions can be withdrawn tax-free as long as the participant has maintained the Roth account for at least five years and is at least age 59½ at the time of withdrawal. Roth elective deferral contributions are designated irrevocably by the participant at the time of the cash or elective deferral election. Roth 401(k) participant contributions are treated by the plan sponsor as includible in the participant's income at the time the participant would have received that amount in cash if the participant had not made the election.

After initial participation, a participant may commence, recommence, or change the amount of the elective deferral contributions at any time, effective on the first day of the month following an election. A participant can also elect to cease the elective deferral contributions at any time.

The Plan provides for matching contributions at the rate of 50% of each dollar of elective deferrals made by the plan participant. The match applies to elective deferrals that do not exceed 8% of eligible compensation. An eligible participant does not need to be employed on the last day of the plan year to receive a matching contribution allocation. Matching contributions are allocated on a payroll-by-payroll basis with a discretionary annual true-up at year-end. For the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, matching contributions of $589,713 and $559,734 were allocated, respectively. Additionally, the Company may elect to make an additional discretionary year-end matching contribution. A participant must be a qualified employee on the last day of the plan year to receive a year-end matching contribution. For the years ending December 31, 2022 and 2021, no discretionary year-end matching contribution was made.

Additionally, the Company will make a basic employer contribution equal to 3% of eligible compensation and a direct contribution to the participant accounts in a percentage amount determined annually by the board of directors. A qualified employee does not need to make elective deferral contributions in order to receive a basic contribution or a direct contribution allocation. For the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, basic employer contributions of $542,714 and $513,664 were allocated, respectively. During 2022 and 2021, the Company made a direct contribution of 1.25% of eligible compensation in addition to the basic contribution of 3% of eligible compensation. For the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, direct contributions of $226,132 and $214,028 were allocated, respectively.

Participant Accounts. Individual accounts are maintained for each plan participant to reflect the participant's elective deferral and rollover contributions, and the employer matching, basic, and direct contributions. These individual accounts are self-directed by the participants, allowing the participants to choose the investment combination they wish from numerous available funds. Income and loss are allocated to the participants' accounts based on the investment performance of the investments the participants have chosen. The benefit to which a participant or beneficiary is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant's vested account.

Investment Options. The plan administrator has selected a variety of registered investment companies and a common collective trust fund from which the participants may choose. Plan participants invest the amounts in their accounts in these various investment funds. Each participant instructs the trustee as to how the assets are to be invested. The Plan maintains no investments which are not directed by the plan participants.

Participant Notes Receivable. Participants may borrow from their account a minimum of $1,000 up to a maximum equal to the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of their vested account balance (reduced by certain participant notes outstanding at the time the new note is taken or anytime within the 12 months prior to the date of the new note). Participant notes receivable transactions are treated as a transfer between the investment fund and the participant loan fund. Note terms are up to five years or such longer period as the plan administrator deems appropriate in the case of notes used for the purchase of a primary residence. The notes are secured by the vested balance in the participant's account and bear interest at a rate commensurate with local prevailing rates as determined by the plan administrator. Interest rates range from 3.25% to 6.25%. Principal and interest is paid ratably through payroll deductions.

Vesting. Participants are always fully vested in their elective deferral, rollover, and basic contribution accounts. Participants hired before January 1, 2014 are immediately 100% vested in employer contribution accounts. For participants first hired on or after January 1, 2014, matching and direct contribution accounts become 20% vested after two years of service, increasing to 40% after three years, 80% after four years, and becoming 100% vested after five years of service. A participant earns a year of service for vesting purposes during any plan year in which the participant is credited with 1,000 hours of service. If termination is due to death, disability, or retirement beyond age 65 the participant is considered to be 100% vested, even if the participant has not been credited with five years of vesting service.

Forfeitures. When certain terminations of a participant in the Plan occur, the non-vested portion of the participants' account represents a forfeiture. However, if the participant is re-employed and fulfills certain requirements, as defined in the Plan, the participant's account may be reinstated. The plan document provides that forfeitures may be used to reduce employer contributions or to pay plan expenses. For the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, forfeitures of $84,997 and $78,847, respectively, were used to reduce employer contributions or pay plan expenses. There were no unallocated forfeitures in the Plan at December 31, 2022 and 2021.

Payment of Benefits. On termination of service, a participant or beneficiary may elect to receive an amount equal to the value of the participant's vested interest in his or her account in a lump-sum amount. The Plan also allows for limited in-service distributions if a participant suffers a hardship, as defined in the plan document.

Administrative Expenses. The plan sponsor absorbs all significant costs of administering the Plan, except for investment management fees charged by investment fund managers and recordkeeping and contract administration fees charged by Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company.

See independent auditors' report.

Notes to Financial Statements

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Reporting. The accompanying financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). These principles require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts in the statements of changes in net assets available for benefits during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation. The Plan's investments are valued at fair value. GAAP defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. GAAP also establishes a framework for measuring fair value. GAAP allows for a practical expedient whereby the net asset value (NAV) of investment units owned by the Plan, which meet certain conditions, is used as a substitute for fair value.

The fair value framework requires the categorization of assets and liabilities into three levels based upon the ability to observe the inputs used to value the assets and liabilities. The fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. Level 1 provides the most reliable and observable measure of fair value, whereas Level 3 generally requires significant judgment. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are defined as follows:

- Level 1 - Unadjusted, quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.
- Level 2 - Observable inputs, other than those included in Level 1. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets.
- Level 3 - Unobservable inputs reflecting assumptions about the inputs used in pricing the asset or liability.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. The cost of investments sold for the purpose of computing gains and losses is based on average cost. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net earnings from the common collective trust fund are reflected as interest income on the statements of changes in net assets available for benefits. The Plan presents in the statements of changes in net assets available for benefits, the net appreciation or depreciation in the fair value of investments, which consists of the realized gains or losses, and the unrealized appreciation or depreciation of those investments.

Participant Notes Receivable Valuation. Participant notes receivable are carried at unpaid principal balance plus accrued interest. Interest on participant notes receivable is reported as other income on the statements of changes in net assets available for benefits.

Payment of Benefits. Benefits are recorded when paid. There were no amounts allocated to persons who had elected to withdraw from the Plan but had not yet been paid as of December 31, 2022 and 2021.

Risks and Uncertainties. The Plan may invest in various types of investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near-term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the financial statements.

Subsequent Events. The Plan evaluates subsequent events and the evidence they provide about conditions existing at the date of the statements of net assets available for benefits as well as conditions that arose after the statements of net assets available for benefits date but before the financial statements are issued. The effects of conditions that existed at the date of the statements of net assets available for benefits are recognized in the financial statements. Events and conditions arising after the statements of net assets available for benefits date but before the financial statements are issued are evaluated to determine if disclosure is required to keep the financial statements from being misleading. To the extent such events and conditions exist, disclosures are made regarding the nature of events and the estimated financial effects for those events and conditions. For purposes of preparing the accompanying financial statements and the notes to these financial statements, the Plan evaluated subsequent events through July 21, 2023, the date the financial statements were available for issue.

See independent auditors' report.

OREGON MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY 401(k) RETIREMENT PLAN

Notes to Financial Statements

3. Fair Value Measurement

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value:

- The fair value of registered investment companies is based on quoted market prices.
- Units held in common collective trusts funds (CCTs) are valued using the NAV practical expedient of the CCT as reported by the account managers. The NAV practical expedient is based on the contract value of the underlying assets owned by the CCT, minus its liabilities, and then divided by the number of units outstanding. The NAV practical expedient of a CCT is calculated based on a compilation of primarily observable market information. These investments are redeemable daily at NAV by participants and have no commitment provisions.

In accordance with GAAP, all investments valued using the NAV practical expedient have not been classified in the fair value hierarchy.

The fair value methodology used by the Plan may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair value. Furthermore, while the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The following presents a summary of the Plan's investments measured at fair value:

	Fair Value Measurement
	December 31, 2022		December 31, 2021
	Total	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Total	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)
Registered investment companies	$ 38,081,451	$ 38,081,451	$ 47,091,841	$ 47,091,841
Common collective trust fund	1,419,689	-	1,586,228	-
Total	$ 39,501,140	$ 38,081,451	$ 48,678,069	$ 47,091,841

4. Investments and Information Certified by the Trustee

The plan administrator has elected the method of compliance permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Accordingly, Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company, a qualified institution, has certified that the following investment information included in the accompanying financial statements is complete and accurate:

Total investments and notes receivable from participants as shown in the accompanying statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2022 and 2021.

Investment (loss) income and interest on participant notes receivable as shown in the accompanying statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021.

All investment-related information and participant loans in the accompanying supplemental schedule, Form 5500, Schedule H, part IV, line 4i - schedule of assets (held at end of year) as of December 31, 2022.

At the request of the plan administrator, the Plan's independent auditors did not perform auditing procedures with respect to this certified investment information, except for comparing such certified investment information to the related investment information included in the financial statements.

5. Restrictions on Asset Transfers

In accordance with the terms of the common collective trust fund, the NAV of the fund is determined daily based on net assets at contract value. Sales and redemptions of participant units are transacted at such NAV. Trusts participating in the fund are subject to restrictions on withdrawals from the fund. Withdrawals needed for benefit payments and participant-initiated investment transfers of participating employee benefit plans are generally permitted daily and executed at NAV. Withdrawals for other purposes may be executed at an amount other than NAV at the discretion of fund management. Withdrawals will always occur at NAV if the Plan gives 12 months' notice prior to withdrawal. The plan administrator does not believe that the occurrence of any such event, which would limit the Plan's ability to transact at NAV with participants, is probable.

See independent auditors' report.

OREGON MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY 401(k) RETIREMENT PLAN

Notes to Financial Statements

6. Income Tax Status

The Plan obtained its latest determination letter on February 8, 2016, in which the Internal Revenue Service stated that the Plan, as then designed, was in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. The Company believes that the Plan is currently being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC, and that, as a result, the Plan qualifies under Section 401(a) and the related trust is tax-exempt as of December 31, 2022 and 2021. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been included in the Plan's financial statements.

7. Related-Party Transactions

Certain plan investments are shares of registered investment companies and units in a common collective trust fund managed by Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company or an affiliate of Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company. Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company is the trustee as defined in the Plan therefore, these transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions. Fees that are charged by the managers of these investments are taken out of the investment returns, and thus come directly out of plan assets. Participants have access to fund prospectuses for the underlying investments which detail fees charged by the fund managers.

Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company also has an administrative service contract with the Plan. Under this agreement, Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company is responsible for, among other things, maintaining participant account records and making participant account information available to the participants by means of telephone and internet. Fees for some of the administrative expenses are billed directly to the plan sponsor and other fees are deducted from plan assets. Total fees paid directly by the Plan under this contract amounted to $30,793 and $29,332 for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

8. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan, subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of termination, participants will become 100% vested in their accounts.

See independent auditors' report.
