October 3, 2023

To the Plan Participants and Board of Directors of Telos Corporation Shared Savings Plan:

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Telos Corporation Shared Savings Plan (the “Plan”), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Telos Corporation Shared Savings Plan’s internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan’s internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan’s internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor’s Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Delaware Guarantee and Trust Company d/b/a Principal Trust Company (Principal) that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan’s financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

A reportable finding is an indication of deficiencies in internal control identified during the audit that have not been communicated to management by other parties and that, in the auditor’s professional judgment, are of sufficient importance to merit management’s attention. We noted certain reportable findings that are presented in the attachment to this letter for your consideration.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of the Plan administrator and management of the Plan and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties. This letter does not affect our audit report dated October 3, 2023, on the financial statements of the Telos Corporation Shared Savings Plan.

We especially wish to thank Raymond Hrabec for all of his assistance during the audit. It has been a pleasure to serve Telos Corporation.

Very truly yours,

SC&H Attest Services, P.C.

Participant Deferrals

During our audit, we noted that the Company did not properly calculate the participant deferral, in accordance with their deferral election, on their final payroll once they were terminated. This caused the participant to experience a missed deferral opportunity.

We recommend the Company implement a process to ensure participant's final paychecks include their elected deferral amounts.

Prior Year

Employer Contributions

During our audit, we noted the Company does not have a review and approval process in place to ensure the employer matching contributions are calculated correctly.

We recommend the Company implement a process in which the controller or payroll manager reviews and approves the automatically calculated employer contribution before payroll is processed in order to ensure the employer contribution amount each pay period is accurate.

Management's Response: During the year ending December 31, 2022, the Company has implemented a policy in which there will be a review of the payroll provider's (ADP) SOCI reports. The Company will document the review in detail to determine if there are any deficiencies related to the controls they are relying on and update their procedures as necessary.

Current Year Status: Recommendation was implemented and not identified during the current year audit.

Review of Payroll Reports

We noted that the Plan Administrator is responsible for reviewing and approving loan deficiency reports sent from Principal within 60 days. During our audit, we noted an instance where a participant had taken out a participant loan from the Plan, but the repayment of the loan was not reflected properly in the Company's payroll system. The failure to include the repayments in accordance with the loan amortization schedule in the Company's payroll system resulted in delinquent participant loan balances. The delinquent loan was ultimately treated as a deemed distribution in accordance with the Plan document.

We recommend that the Company improve the payroll review process to periodically conduct a more detailed review that includes verifying participant loan repayments are set up in the Company's payroll system timely and accurately. We also recommend that the Plan Administrator formally document on the payroll reports, either electronically or manually, to indicate the review and approval of each payroll submission, including participant loan repayments that should be included in the applicable payroll period.

Prior Year – cont'd.

Review of Payroll Reports – cont'd.

Management's Response: During the year ending December 31, 2022, the Company has implemented a process for reviewing the loan deficiency reports to ensure any deficient loans are brought to management's attention timely and necessary action is taken in a timely manner.

Current Year Status: Recommendation was implemented and not identified during the current year audit.
