In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of ChromaScape Inc. 401(k) Plan (the Plan) as of December 31, 2022, and for the year then ended, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered relevant plan provisions and the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the Plan's compliance with those provisions or on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the Plan's compliance with plan provisions or on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

Our consideration of relevant plan provisions and internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all instances that the Plan is not operating in accordance with the Plan's provisions or deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Therefore, instances that the Plan is not operating in accordance with plan provisions or deficiencies in internal control, including material weaknesses or significant deficiencies, may exist that were not identified.

Instances where the Plan is not operating in accordance with plan provisions may be indicative of a deficiency in internal control. A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A deficiency in design exists when (a) a control necessary to meet the control objective is missing, or (b) an existing control is not properly designed so that, even if the control operates as designed, the control objective would not be met. A deficiency in operation exists when a properly designed control does not operate as designed or when the person performing the control does not possess the necessary authority or competence to perform the control effectively.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be an overall significant deficiency around the 2022 Plan merger:

Lack of Review around Contributions for Custom Milling & Consulting, Inc. 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan

During our audit 2022 merger testing, we noted numerous cases where employee salary deferrals and loan payments were not deposited in the plan within the timeframe described by the DOL in their published regulation. The Department of Labor's regulation provides an example of a large employer with multiple payroll locations where deposits are to be made within 3 business days. In our experience with DOL examinations of other clients, the DOL typically enforce this standard and frequently requires a faster practice consistent with the rules for depositing payroll tax withholdings. The deposits outside the normal time frame apparently occurred because there was a lack of review around contribution timeliness.

THE POWER OF BEING UNDERSTOOD
AUDIT | TAX | CONSULTING

During the course of our merger testing, we noted that for Custom Milling & Consulting, Inc. 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan the safe harbor employer contributions for 30 participants were not contributed on a timely basis. This apparently occurred because there was a misunderstanding between the parent Company and the subsidiary as to which plan the employees were contributing to on the January 7, 2022 pay date. An additional contribution will be made to adjust the accounts of such persons consistent with the IRS Employee Plans Compliance Resolution System. This error occurred due to a lack of review around contributions.

Recommendation

Procedures should be put in place between your payroll provider and Empower to improve the timeliness and accuracy of deposits. Where management believes that control procedures prohibit the Plan from meeting the DOL's requirements, we encourage management to document the reason for any delay and the importance of the control procedure that caused the delay. In addition, controls should be established to recognize when a deposit has been delayed and to complete any corrective action, promptly.

Lack of Support for Custom Milling & Consulting, Inc. 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan Merger

During our audit, we noted that there was a lack of historical support for employee data for Custom Milling & Consulting, Inc. 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan. We had to perform alternative procedures by sending confirmations directly to employees to confirm specific dates and information to support our merger testing.

Recommendation

Procedures should be put in place to retain historical employee data including support of pay rate increase, approved timecards, support for date of birth, date of hire and date of termination.

Following are descriptions of other identified deficiencies in internal control that we determined did not constitute significant deficiencies or material weaknesses:

Error in Forfeiture Application

During the course of our audit we noted that forfeitures were not being applied to reduce plan expenses or employer contributions as required by the plan document and the IRS guidance covering this matter. We recommend management reviews the forfeiture account balance frequently and uses any forfeitures incurred in a year by the end of the following year for the purposes permitted in the plan document.

Recommendation

We recommend management review the forfeiture account balance frequently and use the entire balance annually for the purposes defined in the plan document.

Lack of Understanding of the Form 5500 Process

During the course of our audit, we noted that the 2022 Form 5500 was improperly filed in July 2023 without the required audited financial statements attached. There is exposure to the Company if the DOL were to select and review the Form 5500 for completeness.

Recommendation

We recommend that management wait to file the Form 5500 until the audit is complete and the audited financial statements are available as a required attachment. The Company can then perform a formal review to reconcile amounts on the Form 5500 and the audited plan financial statements.

Review to Verify Employee Data in ADP and Empower are Accurate

During the course of our audit, we identified an individual that had an incorrect date of birth in ADP and Empower compared to the I-9 form. We recommend that management review dates in the system when especially when employees are hired to verify that the system is accurate. This difference did not lead to an enrollment issue but it could have resulted in an eligibility error since the plan has a 21 year age requirement.

Recommendation

We recommend that management and employees perform periodic reviews over the data in the ADP and Empower system for accuracy purposes. The Company could also implement a dual review process when data is changed or input into the system.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of the Plan Administrator, management, the Board of Directors, and others within the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
