October 13, 2023

To the Plan Administrator
Troemner LLC Cash or Deferred Profit Sharing Plan and Trust
201 Wolf Drive, P.O. Box 87
Thorofare, NJ 08086-0087

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Troemner LLC Cash or Deferred Profit Sharing Plan and Trust (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Reliance Trust Company that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that have not been identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses and other deficiencies that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies and reportable findings:

Review of personnel files

During our audit procedures, we noted multiple discrepancies in employees demographic data in the personnel files we were given to complete our testing which has the potential for improper plan entry.

Plan management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control over personnel files to ensure they are both complete and accurate. We recommend management completes a comprehensive review of personnel files to ensure I-9's, offer letters, and ADP dates are all in agreement and are accurate. If any errors are discovered, we recommend management work directly with participants to correct.

Review of auto-enrollment and eligibility

During our audit procedures, we noted several errors in the auto-enrollment process where participants who were previously temporary employees had incorrect date of eligibilities noted within the ADP platform. This recordkeeping error led to multiple participants entering the plan before they had completed the service requirement.

Plan management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control over participants entering the Plan in a timely manner once meeting eligibility requirements. We recommend management tracking participants eligibility dates and entry independently of the recordkeeper to ensure if errors do occur, they are identified and corrected.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of Plan management, the Plan administrator, and others within the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
