NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies

Invesco Institutional Trust - Global Asset Allocation Strategy Fund (the "Fund"), a New Hampshire business trust, was formed under a Declaration of Trust on September 1, 2013. State Street Bank and Trust Company of New Hampshire ("State Street Bank-NH") serves as the trustee ("Trustee"), State Street Bank and Trust Company ("State Street Bank") serves as the custodian bank ("Custodian") and Invesco Advisers, Inc. serves as the investment manager (the "Investment Manager") of the Fund. The Investment Manager also serves as the investment adviser (the "Adviser"). The Investment Manager is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Invesco Ltd.

The Fund's investment objective is to seek to achieve a total return by investing in an underlying fund that pursues a total return with low to moderate correlation to traditional financial markets indices, and an underlying fund that seeks to achieve a positive absolute return over a complete economic and market cycle.

Issuances and redemptions of Units of the Fund are made on each business day ("Valuation Date"). As permitted under the Fund's Declaration of Trust, Units are issued and redeemed based upon Net Asset Value ("NAV") per Unit, determined in accordance with the terms of the Declaration of Trust, as of the Fund's Valuation Date on which such orders to subscribe or redeem Units are received.

The Fund has determined that it meets the definition of an investment company for financial reporting purposes and has prepared the financial statements in conformity with accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946, Financial Services – Investment Companies.

On August 1, 2023, the Fund's single Unitholder initiated a withdrawal request, prompting a full redemption from the Fund with an effective trade date of August 7, 2023. The transaction settled per the terms of the Fund's Declaration of Trust and the Fund began the process of liquidation. The effects of liquidation have been considered; however, because the Statement of Assets and Liabilities is currently presented at fair value and the costs to settle all remaining assets and liabilities are considered immaterial or have been accrued for in the financial statements, no adjustments to the financial statements have been made. The results of operations of the Fund are presented in these financial statements for the period January 1, 2023 through July 31, 2023 (the "pre-liquidation period"). The changes in net assets of the Fund are presented in these financial statements for the pre-liquidation period, and for the period August 1, 2023 through August 31, 2023 (the "liquidation period"). No other expenses are anticipated to be incurred as a result of the liquidation and all remaining assets are reflected at their net realizable values.

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

A. Security Valuations - Securities in the underlying funds, including restricted securities, are valued in accordance with the valuation policy of such fund. The policies of the Fund and the underlying funds affiliated with the Fund as a result of having the same investment adviser are set forth below.

Fixed income securities (including convertible debt securities) generally are valued on the basis of prices provided by independent pricing services. Prices provided by the pricing service may be determined without exclusive reliance on quoted prices, and may reflect appropriate factors such as institution-size trading in similar groups of securities, developments related to specific securities, dividend rate (for unlisted equities), yield (for debt obligations), quality, type of issue, coupon rate (for debt obligations), maturity (for debt obligations), individual trading characteristics and other market data. Pricing services generally value debt obligations assuming orderly transactions of institutional round lot size, but a fund may hold or transact in the same securities in smaller, odd lot sizes. Odd lots often trade at lower prices than institutional round lots, and their value may be adjusted accordingly. Debt obligations are subject to interest rate and credit risks. In addition, all debt obligations involve some risk of default with respect to interest and/or principal payments.

A security listed or traded on an exchange is generally valued at its trade price or official closing price that day as of the close of the exchange where the security is principally traded, or lacking any trades or official closing price on a particular day, the security may be valued at the closing bid price on that day. Securities traded in the over-the-counter market are valued based on prices furnished by independent pricing services or market makers. When such securities are valued using prices provided by an independent pricing service they may be considered fair valued. Futures contracts are valued at the daily settlement price set by an exchange on which they are principally traded. U.S. exchange-traded options are valued at the mean between the last bid and asked prices from the exchange on which they are principally traded. Non-U.S. exchange-traded options are valued at the final settlement price set by the exchange on which they trade. Options not listed on an exchange and swaps generally are valued using pricing provided from independent pricing services.

Securities of investment companies that are not exchange-traded (e.g., open-end mutual funds) are valued using such company's end-of-business-day net asset value per share.

Deposits, other obligations of U.S. and non-U.S. banks and financial institutions, are valued at their daily account value.

Swap agreements are fair valued using an evaluated quote, if available, provided by an independent pricing service. Evaluated quotes provided by the pricing service are valued based on a model which may include end-of-day net present values, spreads, ratings, industry, company performance and returns of referenced assets.

Foreign securities' (including foreign exchange contracts) prices are converted into U.S. dollar amounts using the applicable exchange rates as of the close of the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"). If market quotations are available and reliable for foreign exchange-traded equity securities, the securities will be valued at the market quotations. The Adviser may use various pricing services to obtain market quotations as well as fair value prices. Because trading hours for certain foreign securities end before the close of the NYSE, closing market quotations may become not representative of market value in the Adviser's judgment ("unreliable"). If, between the time trading ends on a particular security and the close of the customary trading session on the NYSE, a significant event occurs that makes the closing price of the security unreliable, the Adviser may fair value the security. If the event is likely to have affected the closing price of the security, the security will be valued at fair value in good faith in accordance with Board-approved policies and related Adviser procedures ("Valuation Procedures"). Adjustments to closing prices to reflect fair value may also be based on a screening process of an independent pricing service to indicate the degree of certainty, based on historical data, that the closing price in the principal market where a foreign security trades is not the current value as of the close of the NYSE. Foreign securities' prices meeting the degree of certainty that the price is not reflective of current value will be priced at the indication of fair value from the independent pricing service. Multiple factors may be considered by the independent pricing service in determining adjustments to reflect fair value and may include information relating to sector indices, American Depositary Receipts and domestic and foreign index futures. Foreign securities may have additional risks including exchange rate changes, potential for sharply devalued currencies and high inflation, political and economic upheaval, the relative lack of issuer information, relatively low market liquidity and the potential lack of strict financial and accounting controls and standards.

Unlisted securities will be valued using prices provided by independent pricing services or by another method that the Adviser, in its judgment, believes better reflects the security's fair value in accordance with the Valuation Procedures.

Securities for which market prices are not provided by any of the above methods may be valued based upon quotes furnished by independent sources. The last bid price may be used to value equity securities. The mean between the last bid and asked prices may be used to value debt obligations, including corporate loans.

Securities for which market quotations are not readily available are fair valued by the Adviser in accordance with the Valuation Procedures. If a fair value price provided by a pricing service is unreliable, the Adviser will fair value the security using the Valuation Procedures. Issuer specific events, market trends, bid/asked quotes of brokers and information providers and other market data may be reviewed in the course of making a good faith determination of a security's fair value.

The Fund may invest in securities that are subject to interest rate risk, meaning the risk that the prices will generally fall as interest rates rise and, conversely, the prices will generally rise as interest rates fall. Specific securities differ in their sensitivity to changes in interest rates depending on their individual characteristics. Changes in interest rates may result in increased market volatility, which may affect the value and/or liquidity of certain Fund investments.

Valuations change in response to many factors including the historical and prospective earnings of the issuer, the value of the issuer's assets, general market conditions which are not specifically related to the particular issuer, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for revenues or corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates, regional or global instability, natural or environmental disasters, widespread disease or other public health issues, war, acts of terrorism, significant governmental actions or adverse investor sentiment generally and market liquidity. Because of the inherent uncertainties of valuation, the values reflected in the financial statements may materially differ from the value received upon actual sale of those investments.

The price the Fund could receive upon the sale of any investment may differ from the Adviser's valuation of the investment, particularly for securities that are valued using a fair valuation technique. When fair valuation techniques are applied, the Adviser uses available information, including both observable and unobservable inputs and assumptions, to determine a methodology that will result in a valuation that the Adviser believes approximates market value. Fund securities that are fair valued may be subject to greater fluctuation in their value from one day to the next than would be the case if market quotations were used. Because of the inherent uncertainties of valuation, and the degree of subjectivity in such decisions, the Fund could realize a greater or lesser than expected gain or loss upon the sale of the investment.

B. Securities Transactions and Investment Income - Securities transactions are accounted for on a trade date basis. Realized gains or losses on sales are computed on the basis of specific identification of the securities sold. Distributions from ordinary income from affiliated funds, if any, are recorded as dividend income on ex-dividend date. Distributions from gains from affiliated funds, if any, are recorded as realized gains on the ex-dividend date. Interest income (net of withholding tax, if any) is recorded on the accrual basis from settlement date. Bond premiums and discounts are amortized and/or accreted over the life of the respective securities. Dividend income (net of withholding tax, if any) is recorded on the ex-dividend date.

The Fund may periodically participate in litigation related to Fund investments. As such, the Fund may receive proceeds from litigation settlements. Any proceeds received are included in the Statement of Operations as realized gain (loss) for investments no longer held and as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) for investments still held.

Brokerage commissions and mark ups are considered transaction costs and are recorded as an increase to the cost basis of securities purchased and/or a reduction of proceeds on a sale of securities. Such transaction costs are included in the determination of net realized gain (loss) and unrealized appreciation (depreciation) from investment securities reported in the Statement of Operations and the Statement of Changes in Net Assets and the net realized and unrealized gain (loss) on securities in the Financial Highlights. Transaction costs are included in the calculation of the Fund's NAV and, accordingly, they reduce the Fund's total returns. These transaction costs are not considered operating expenses and are not reflected in net investment income reported in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets, or the net investment income per Unit and ratios of expenses and net investment income reported in the Financial Highlights, nor are they limited by any expense limitation arrangements between the Fund and the Adviser.

C. Distributions - Net investment income and net realized gains on investments are not distributed to beneficial owners of participation units ("Unitholders") of the Fund, but are accumulated and retained in the Fund and included in the determination of the Unit value.

D. Federal Income Taxes - The Fund is classified as a partnership for federal income tax purposes and intends to maintain this classification in the future. A partnership is not subject to federal income tax. As such, the Fund will not be subject to federal income taxes on otherwise taxable income (including net realized capital gain). Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes is recorded in the financial statements.

The Fund recognizes the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only when the position is more likely than not to be sustained. Management has analyzed the Fund's uncertain tax positions and concluded that no liability for unrecognized tax benefits should be recorded related to uncertain tax positions. Management is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially in the next 12 months.

The Fund files tax returns in the U.S. Federal jurisdiction and certain other jurisdictions. Generally, the Fund is subject to examinations by such taxing authorities for up to three years after the filing of the return for the tax period.

E. Accounting Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period including estimates and assumptions related to taxation. Actual results could differ from those estimates by a significant amount. In addition, the Fund monitors for material events or transactions that may occur or become known after the period-end date and before the date the financial statements are released to print.

F. Indemnifications - Under the Fund's organization documents, each Trustee, officer, employee or other agent of the Fund shall be entitled to be indemnified from and against certain liabilities in connection with the administration of the Fund. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts, including the Fund's servicing agreements that contain a variety of indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. The risk of material loss as a result of such indemnification claims is considered remote.

NOTE 2—Adoption of the Liquidation Basis of Accounting

Upon adoption of the liquidation basis of accounting, the Fund recorded immaterial cumulative-effect adjustments to Unitholder's equity in liquidation as of the date of adoption. The fair value of investments in securities approximated the estimated net realizable value at August 1, 2023. Since the financial statements already reflected the fair value of investments in securities, no adjustments to the valuation of investments in securities were required to change from a going concern basis to a liquidation basis of accounting. Fluctuations in the fair value of the remaining investments in securities and adjustments from estimated to actual investment income and expenses and fees during the liquidation period are recorded on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets (In Liquidation) as re-measurement of assets and liabilities.

NOTE 3—Advisory Fees and Other Fess Paid to Affiliates

Under the Declaration of Trust, the Fund may pay certain expenses for services received during the period. These operating expenses include, but are not limited to, custody fees, administrative service fees and professional fees. The Investment Manager's fee is not charged to the Fund, but may be paid by the Fund's Unitholders through a redemption of Units.

The Adviser has voluntarily agreed to limit operating costs and expenses payable by the Fund, excluding brokerage and transaction expenses, to the extent necessary to limit total fund operating expenses to 0.10% of the Fund's net assets. This agreement shall be reviewed by the Adviser on an annual basis. Any amount of operating expenses in excess of this limit will be borne by the Investment Manager. Amounts exceeding the expense limitation agreement are reflected in the Statement of Operations as expenses reimbursed.

In addition to the fees and expenses which the Fund bears directly, the Fund indirectly bears a pro rata share of the fees and expenses of the underlying funds in which the Fund invests. Because the underlying funds have varied expenses and fee levels and the Fund may own different proportions at different times, the amount of fees and expenses incurred indirectly by the Fund will vary. Estimated underlying fund expenses are not expenses that are incurred directly by the Fund. They are expenses that are incurred directly by the underlying funds and are deducted from the value of the funds the Fund invests in. The effect of the estimated underlying fund expenses that the Fund bears indirectly is included in the Fund's total return.

NOTE 4—Unit Information

There was no Unit activity for the pre-liquidation period. The concentration of ownership of holders owning Units in excess of 10% of total Units outstanding of the Fund at July 31, 2023, was one Unitholder which held 100% of the Fund's Units outstanding.

The following table illustrates the Unit activity for the liquidation period. The Fund had no remaining Units outstanding at August 31, 2023.

Report of Independent Auditors

To the Investment Manager of Invesco Institutional Trust Global Asset Allocation Strategy Fund

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Invesco Institutional Trust Global Asset Allocation Strategy Fund (the "Fund"), which comprise the statement of assets and liabilities (in liquidation) as of August 31, 2023, the related statements of operations, of changes in net assets, and the financial highlights for the period January 1, 2023 through July 31, 2023 and the related statement of changes in net assets (in liquidation) for the period August 1, 2023 to August 31, 2023, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position (in liquidation) of the Fund as of August 31, 2023, the results of its operations, changes in its net assets, and the financial highlights for the period January 1, 2023 through July 31, 2023 and the changes in its net assets (in liquidation) for the period August 1, 2023 through August 31, 2023, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America applied on the bases described in Note 2.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Fund and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis of Accounting

As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Manager for the Invesco Institutional Trust Global Asset Allocation Strategy Fund approved a plan of liquidation on August 1, 2023, and the Fund determined liquidation is imminent. As a result, the Fund changed its basis of accounting on August 1, 2023 from the going concern basis to a liquidation basis. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with US GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.
