LETTER TO PLAN ADMINISTRATOR
ON INTERNAL CONTROL

PHD MANUFACTURING INC.
401(k) PLAN

December 31, 2023

September 12, 2024

Plan Administrator
PHD Manufacturing Inc.
401(k) Profit Sharing Plan & Trust
Columbiana, Ohio

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of PHD Manufacturing Inc. 401(k) Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered PHD Manufacturing Inc. 401(k) Plan's system of internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Counsel Trust Company dba Mid Atlantic Trust Company, the custodian of the Plan, that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified a deficiency in internal control that we consider to be a material weakness and significant deficiency.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. We consider the following deficiency in PHD Manufacturing Inc. 401(k) Plan's internal control to be a material weakness:

Investment Allocation

It was noted during investment allocation testing that the contributions of one of the participants were not allocated into investment options in accordance with the latest available allocation change form. This contradicts the requirements of the plan document and the responsibilities of the trustees to the plan participants. The correction of this issue could lead to reimbursement of the participant for any lost earnings, not to mention fines or penalties from the Department of Labor and related administrative costs to correct this. We recommend that the sponsor consult with the Plan's service provider to determine the cause of the error and to take corrective action. We further recommend that the sponsor consult with the Plan's service provider to develop and execute policies and procedures to ensure that participants' contributions are allocated into investment options in accordance with their election.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in PHD Manufacturing, Inc. 401(k) Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

Force-Out Provisions

It was noted during testing of the force-out provisions, that one employee that was terminated with a balance of less than $5,000 was not terminated from the plan. This contradicts the Plan document. Beginning in 2023, the requirements by the Department of Labor to have an audit changed in that the definition of participants now excludes employees that are eligible to participate but do not have an account balance. If the plan has 100 or more participants with account balances on the first day of the Plan year, then an audit is required. At the beginning of 2023, the PHD Manufacturing, Inc. 401(k) Plan had 110 participants. If these force-out provisions were followed, it could result in the Plan not being required to have an annual audit. We recommend that the force-out provisions being followed in accordance with the Plan documents.

Employee Deferral Calculation

Our audit testing disclosed that the calculation of employee deferrals to the pension excluded certain bonuses that were received by employees during the year. These bonuses were related to the gross up of Social Security and Medicare taxes for gift cards provided to employees. Based on our understanding, the computation of the employee deferrals should be based on total gross income that the employee received which would include base compensation as well as all bonuses. We recommend that deferral percentages should be applied to bonuses in order to fully comply with the Plan Document. These types of differences could result in underpaying employee deferral amounts and employer matching amounts that are entrusted to be remitted to the Plan. This could be deemed a serious violation of ERISA rules regarding the administration of pension plans. We strongly recommend that the Plan improve its internal controls over and processes for the calculation of the employee deferrals. We recommend that employee deferral and employer matching calculations be performed with the correct eligible wages as outlined in the Plan document. Please consult with the Plan's service provider to correct this error.

CONCLUDING REMARKS

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of Plan management, Department of Labor and others within the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

We appreciate the opportunity to serve you. We would be pleased to meet with members of your organization to discuss the comments in this letter.

Very truly yours,
