Dear Tuncay and Melanie:

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the Ernst Metal Technologies LLC Profit Sharing & 401(k) Plan & Trust (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's system of internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Empower Trust Company that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Although not material weaknesses, we identified the following opportunities for improving the administration and operations of the Plan.

OTHER FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Census Reconciliation

During testing, we noted that employee wages per the payroll records and W-3 Form were not reconciled to the census wages. We recommend that Plan management reconcile wages per the census to the year-end payroll report and W-3. This will ensure that information used in non-discrimination testing and year-end tax reporting is complete and accurate.

Participant Contributions

During testing, we noted one instance where a participant did not have their wages properly deferred upon for one payroll period. We recommend that Plan management work with their TPA to correct the lost deferral opportunity for the employee and establish a control to ensure all wages are deferred upon correctly.

In addition, we noted one instance where a participant was improperly deemed ineligible and had all their employer matching contributions forfeited. We recommend that Plan management work with their TPA to correct the employee's account and establish a control to ensure participant forfeitures are calculated and processed correctly.

Role of the Plan Fiduciary

Due to recent failures of certain retirement plans to provide the benefits anticipated by its participants, the Department of Labor has continued to increase its focus on protecting the interests of participants in sponsored retirement plans, and a primary means is by placing a high level of responsibility on Plan fiduciaries. Fiduciaries have important responsibilities and are subject to standards of conduct because they act on behalf of participants in a retirement plan and their beneficiaries.

These responsibilities include:

- Acting solely in the interest of Plan participants and their beneficiaries and with the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to them;
- Carrying out their duties prudently;
- Following the Plan Document (unless inconsistent with ERISA);
- Diversifying Plan investments; and
- Paying only reasonable Plan expenses.

The duty to act prudently is one of a fiduciary's central responsibilities under ERISA. It requires expertise or a high degree of knowledge in a variety of areas, such as investments, diversification, a Plan Sponsor's internal processes, understanding of the Plan Document, and understanding of ERISA rules. Lacking expertise, a fiduciary will want to hire someone with that professional knowledge to carry out the function and should provide the necessary oversight to determine the results of the service received.

Prudence focuses on the process for making fiduciary decisions. Therefore, it is wise to document decisions and the basis for those decisions. For instance, in hiring any Plan service provider, a fiduciary may want to survey a number of potential providers, asking for the same information and providing the same requirements. By doing so, a fiduciary can document the process and make a meaningful comparison and selection. We recommend that Plan management consider and develop an understanding of the current environment to ensure that they are meeting the duty of their role as a plan fiduciary. This would include addressing the comments as noted throughout this letter.

If you would like to discuss certain aspects of the responsibilities of a plan fiduciary, please contact us.

Investment Policy

We noted that the Plan Sponsor does not have a formal policy defining the Plan investment goals or strategy. The policy should include fee benchmarking as criteria for evaluating fund performance, and for inclusion in Plan offerings. Investment offerings available under the Plan should be evaluated against an investment policy to ensure that they are meeting the performance guidelines and objectives that are in the best interest of Plan participants. Without a formal policy, there is increased risk that management will be found in violation of its fiduciary duty of care to the Plan. We recommend that the Plan Sponsor draft a formal policy regarding its overall strategy with regard to Plan investments and methods taken to implement the strategy including fee benchmarking.

Meetings of Trustees

We noted that there were no minutes for meetings of the Trustees for the Plan. We recommend that the Trustees meet at least annually to discuss Plan operations. In addition, these meetings should be documented in written minutes in order to provide verification of the actions and decisions made by the Trustees. Historical summarization of these decisions is critical, not only as a guide for the Plan, but also as evidence in any legal proceedings, or Internal Revenue Service or DOL examinations.

The minutes should include any significant Plan events occurring during the Plan year. The following is a list of some of the items that could be included in these minutes:

- Decisions to enter, modify, or terminate agreements with Trustees, Custodians, insurance companies, third-party administrators, etc.
- Approval of amendments to the Plan
- Decisions or intentions to terminate the Plan
- Unusual terminations of Plan participants, such as ones resulting from layoffs, or the sale of a division
- Analysis of investment options and any changes made
- Fidelity bonding for Plan fiduciaries
- Existing or pending lawsuits
- Failure to remit contributions timely
- Any matters concerning the IRS or the DOL
- Fee benchmarking

COMMUNICATIONS WITH THOSE CHARGED WITH GOVERNANCE

We have audited the financial statements of Ernst Metal Technologies LLC Profit Sharing & 401(k) Plan & Trust (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) [ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit] for the year ended December 31, 2023, and we have issued our report thereon dated September 19, 2024. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Empower Trust Company, the Trustee, which is a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements and ERISA-required supplemental schedules, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of GAAP.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with GAAP. Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our engagement letter to you dated May 31, 2024. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Significant Audit Matters

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted, and the application of existing policies was not changed during 2023. We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the Plan's financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on your knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements, and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. There are no significant estimates within the Plan's financial statements.

Certain financial statement disclosures are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosures affecting the Plan's financial statements are the disclosure describing the Plan (Note 1), the disclosure for fair value measurements (Note 4), the disclosure for related party transactions (Note 5), and the disclosure for the tax status of the Plan (Note 7).

The Plan's financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Form 5500 Procedures

We are required to obtain and read a substantially complete draft of Form 5500 prior to dating our auditors' report. The purpose of this procedure is to identify any material inconsistencies between the draft Form 5500 and the Plan's financial statements. We identified no material inconsistencies in performing and completing our audit.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with Plan management in performing and completing our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. There were no misstatements detected as a result of our audit procedures.

Reportable Findings

For purposes of this letter, a reportable finding is a matter that includes one or more of the following: (1) noncompliance or suspected noncompliance with laws and regulations, (2) a finding that in our professional judgment is significant and relevant to you regarding your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process, and (3) an indication of internal control deficiencies identified during the audit that have not been previously communicated to management by other parties and that we determined are sufficiently important to merit management's attention. The reportable findings have been addressed on pages two and three of this communication.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, a disagreement with Plan management is a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the Plan's financial statements or the auditors' report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from Plan management that are included in the management representation letter dated September 19, 2024.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, Plan management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a “second opinion” on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan’s financial statements, or a determination of the type of auditors’ opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with Plan management each year prior to retention as the Plan’s auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

We communicated the significant risks of material misstatement identified as part of our audit planning in our letter to you dated May 31, 2024. We did not identify any additional significant risks in performing and completing our audit.

Other Matters

Our responsibility for the ERISA-required supplemental schedule accompanying the financial statements is to perform adequate procedures to evaluate whether the form and content of the ERISA-required supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, is presented in compliance with the DOL’s Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, and whether the information in the supplemental schedule related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Plan Sponsor and individuals involved with the administration of the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Once again, it was a pleasure working with you. We would be glad to discuss the above recommendations or answer any questions you have both now and over the course of the Plan year. We truly appreciate your business.

Sincerely,
