Internal Control and Other Related Matters (Management Letter Items)

In planning and performing our audit of the Benefit Plan in accordance with U. S. generally accepted auditing standards, we considered the Organization's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses. A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow Management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal controls, that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A control deficiency is a deficiency in internal control which exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow Management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A control deficiency does not rise to the level of being considered either a material weakness or a significant deficiency. We noted the following control deficiencies during the audit process which we believe should be brought to your attention.

Segregation of Duties: Small organizations generally have difficulty in achieving maximum segregation of duties, within both the Organization and Benefit Plan, without hiring additional staff, and this option generally cannot be cost justified. Management and the Board (those charged with governance) should be aware that operating with a smaller accounting staff dictates that some duties are not able to be segregated as would occur in an office with a large accounting department.

Pay Rate Approval Forms: We identified several instances in which formal documentation was not maintained in the employee's personnel file relating to approved payrates. We recommend that proper approval for employee payrates be obtained, signed and placed in the respective employee personnel file.

A reportable finding is a matter that includes one or more of the following: (1) noncompliance or suspected noncompliance with laws and regulations, (2) a finding that in our professional judgment is significant and relevant to you regarding your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process, and (3) an indication of internal control deficiencies identified during the audit that have not been previously communicated to management by other parties and that we determined are sufficiently important to merit management's attention. We identified the following reportable findings:

Internal Control and Other Related Matters - continued
(Management Letter Items)

Timely Remittances: Department of Labor (DOL) regulations require employee contributions and participant loan repayments withheld from the employees' wages by the employer be remitted to the Plan at the earliest date that the assets can be reasonably segregated from the employer assets. Failure to timely remit employee contributions and loan repayments violates the fiduciary responsibilities imposed by ERISA. During our audit we noted several instances of employee contributions that were not remitted timely. The DOL does not have a bright line number of days; however, they have consistently taken the position the employee contribution and loan repayments should be remitted similar to the time that the employer remits the payroll taxes each month, generally from two to five business days after withholding. We suggest remittances of deferrals be made the same day the Company's payroll taxes are remitted.

Deferral Implementation and Loan Repayments - ADP: During our testing procedures, we noted that deferral changes made through the ADP Retirement Services portal were not implemented for payroll during the 2023 Plan year. This affected the following participants: participants who should have been automatically enrolled into the Plan once they had met eligibility requirements, participants who should have had an annual auto escalation increase of their deferral rate, and participants who chose to make their deferral changes through ADP Retirement Services rather through ExponentHR. This issue was noted to be systemic and has impacted the majority of participants in the Plan. We also noted that loan repayments for a few new loans did not appear to have loan repayment deductions. We recommend that management download the payroll feedback and loan repayment report from the Retirement Services portal at the time of each payroll cycle to ensure that the rate and amount being used for each pay period is accurately updated. We also recommend that the Plan Sponsor work with the third-party administrator to correct the missed deferral opportunities for these employees.

Missing Employee Demographic Documentation: We noted several participants who did not have an I-9 and/or other original source documentation for date of birth, date of hire, or date of termination. We recommend that the Plan Sponsor review personnel files for employees to ensure complete demographic data is maintained, including termination support.

Final Paychecks: During our testing procedures, we noted two instances in which 401(k) payroll deductions were not made against eligible compensation on the participant's final paycheck. We recommend management ensure that 401(k) deferral codes are still in effect at the time a participant is being terminated to ensure proper 401(k) deductions are made against eligible compensation.

Rehires: During our testing procedures, we noted several instances in which an employee who had met eligibility requirements in a previous tenure was not automatically enrolled upon hire during the 2023 plan year. As the employee had previously met the required eligibility rules, the Plan should have automatically enrolled the participant upon rehire. The engagement team noted that this resulted in missed employee deferrals. We recommend the Plan review all hires to determine whether they had previous tenures with any of the entities involved in the Plan, and that the Plan Sponsor work with the third-party administrator to correct the missed deferral opportunity for these employees.

(Management Letter Items)

Stale Checks: During our testing procedures, we noted a significant balance in stale checks from distributions that were sent out but were not cashed out. Reasons such as wrong addresses can be a factor on why these distribution payments were never cashed. We recommend Plan management consult with its service provider to develop a procedural control to periodically (at least annually) review the accounts of terminated employees and process mandatory distributions pursuant to Plan provisions. If mandatory distributions cannot be made due to missing participants, plan fiduciary must be able to demonstrate compliance with DOL's missing participants guidance (<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/employers-and-advisers/plan-administration-and-compliance/retirement/missing-participants-guidance>) regarding efforts made in locating missing participants or the selection of a distribution option for the benefit of missing participants.

Our Responsibility Under U. S. Generally Accepted Auditing Standards

Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information to you in our engagement letter. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to your audit.

Our responsibility, as prescribed by professional standards, is to plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable assurance, rather than absolute assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

We audited your financial statements of an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(c) [ERISA Section 103 (a)(3)(c) audit]. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(c), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by the trustee/custodian, which is a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic Examination by a state or federal agency, that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements and supplemental schedules, and reading the disclosures presentation and disclosure requirements of GAAP. Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(c) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with GAAP.

Our responsibility for the ERISA-required supplemental schedules accompanying the financial statements is to perform adequate procedures to evaluate whether the form and content of the ERISA-required supplemental schedules, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, is presented in compliance with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, and whether the information in the supplemental schedules related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

The audit of the financial statements does not relieve management or those charged with governance of their responsibilities.

Form 5500 Procedures

We are required to obtain and read a substantially complete draft of Form 5500 prior to dating our auditor's report. The purpose of this procedure is to identify any material inconsistencies between the draft Form 5500 and the Plan's financial statements. We identified no material inconsistencies in performing and completing our audit.

Planned Scope and Timing

We conducted our audit consistent with the planned scope and timing we previously communicated with you.

Significant Risks

Audit risks that required special consideration include improper revenue recognition, definition of plan compensation, incorrect payroll deductions, and management override of controls.

Accounting Principles

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting principles as described in the audited financial statements and made all required disclosures in a clear and complete manner within the financial statements, as required following U. S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). The accounting principles under which the Organization prepares its financial statements are reasonable, conservative and consistent, thereby enabling such statements to be of the highest quality.

We noted no transactions which we are required to communicate to the Board and Management. And we did not note any transactions for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

Significant Accounting Policies and Accounting Estimates

Accounting estimates, based upon Management's judgments, are an integral part of the financial statements. Those judgments are normally based on knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ markedly from Management's current judgments. Such estimates may include allowances for bad debt, depreciation and fair value measurements, among others. We evaluate the key factors and assumptions used to develop the accounting estimates in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole. A description of the key factors and assumptions used are included in the notes to the financial statements.

Significant Unusual Transactions

During our audit, we did not identify any significant unusual transaction that we have not discussed with you.

Significant Difficulties Encountered During the Audit

There were no difficulties encountered during audit. Management and employees have been most helpful and cooperative. We were given full access to accounting records, supporting documents and other information that we requested

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with Management as a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter which could be significant to the financial statements or the audit report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Matters Resulting in Consultation outside the Engagement Team

There were no consultations with other professionals outside the engagement team and other members of our Firm.

Circumstances that Affect the Form and Content of the Auditor's Report

For the purpose of this letter, professional standards require that we communicate any circumstances that affect the form and content of the auditor's report. The report issued on the financial statements was unmodified.

Other Significant Auditing Findings or Issues

We discussed a variety of matters with Management, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards. These discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention as your independent auditors.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements (Audit Adjustments)

For purposes of this communication, professional standards also require us to accumulate all known and likely adjustments identified during the audit, other than those that we believe are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of Management. Adjustments, if any, recommended by us during the course of our audit were made by Management and are considered normal in the audit process. A detail of adjustments, if any, have previously been provided.

Further, professional standards require us to also communicate the effect of uncorrected adjustments related to prior periods on the relevant classes of transactions, account balances or disclosures and the financial statements as a whole. Uncorrected adjustments or matters underlying those uncorrected adjustments could potentially cause future-period financial statements to be materially misstated, even though the uncorrected adjustments are immaterial to the financial statements currently under audit. The schedule of uncorrected adjustments, if any, identified whose effect in the current and prior periods, as determined by management, are immaterial, both individually and in the aggregate, to the financial statements as a whole.

Management Representation

Management has provided us with a representation letter which outlines their responsibilities for the financial statements and information provided to us during the audit.

Independence

We are not aware of any relationships between our firm and you that, in our professional judgment, may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence since our last communication.

Consideration of Fraud in the Financial Statements

During the course of our audit we may become aware of deficiencies while obtaining our understanding of internal control, and in assessing the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements due to error or fraud. We perform audit procedures in response to assessed risk, and communicate with Management or others (for example, internal auditors or governmental authorities). We are not aware of any errors or material misstatement which would require communication to the Board or Management. Our audit selected a sample of transactions for testing; accordingly, errors and fraudulent transactions may exist and were not detected.

Illegal Acts by Client

We are not aware of any illegal acts which would require communication to the Board.

Management Consultations with Other Accountants

Management has advised it did not consult with other accountants regarding auditing and accounting matters.

DOL Hot Buttons

We are aware of the following hot buttons of The Department of Labor (D.O.L). These areas will be reviewed should they perform either a desk review or field audit of your benefit plan:

Cybersecurity: Benefit plans can hold millions of dollars in assets and maintain personal data on participants, which can make the Plans tempting targets for cyber-criminals. The Plan sponsor needs to ensure proper mitigation of cybersecurity risks by evaluating the recordkeepers and other service providers responsible for plan-related IT systems and data. Service providers should have a formal cybersecurity program that identifies and assesses internal and external cybersecurity risks that may threaten the confidentiality, integrity, or availability of stored nonpublic information. Annually these service providers should have an independent auditor assess their internal controls over financial reporting, which includes security controls, called a Service Organization Controls (SOC) Report. Ask for a copy of the report, review it and ask questions if you have any concerns regarding the testing findings identified by the SOC auditor. Also inquire if the service provider has any insurance policies that would cover losses caused by cybersecurity and identity theft breaches.

More importantly, make sure the plan administrator and anyone with administrative rights in the IT system of the plan's service provider are following best practices in regards to cybersecurity. The plan sponsor should establish a formal IT security policy with the consideration of enforcing strong and unique passwords, utilizing multi-factor authentication, allowing only password-protected Wi-Fi networks, keeping all software, including antivirus software, up to date with the latest patches and upgrades, and procedures in reporting phishing attacks and other cybersecurity incidents.

Reliance on Third Party Administrator: The Plan sponsor relies heavily on the Third Party Administrator (TPA) to perform reconciliations and other administrative duties. However, the ultimate responsibility for administration, reconciliations and record keeping rests with the Plan sponsor, Plan administrator and any others who exercise authority or control over the Plan or its assets. The sponsor, administrator and other personnel with significant roles in the Plan are considered fiduciaries. We are aware that Management reviews the reports generated by the TPA and reconciles back to the Sponsor's books and records.

Timely Remittances: Department of Labor (DOL) regulations require employee contributions and participant loan repayments withheld from the employees' wages by the employer be remitted to the Plan at the earliest date that the assets can be reasonably segregated from the employer assets. Failure to timely remit employee contributions and loan repayments violates the fiduciary responsibilities imposed by ERISA. The DOL does not have a bright line number of days; however, they have consistently taken the position the employee contribution and loan repayments should be remitted similar to the time that the employer pays the payroll taxes each month. Accordingly, our strong recommendation is such remittances to the Plan are made on the same day the Company's payroll taxes are remitted. We consider any departures from this timing as a control deficiency.

DOL Hot Buttons

DOL Audits: The DOL is continuing to audit a large number of employee benefit plans. Although the DOL may audit any area of the Plan for compliance, their current focus appears to be centered on these areas:

- Timely remittances of deposits, as discussed above.
- Fee analysis: What fees are being paid by the Plan, in particular, the fees paid by each individual investment (i.e., by each mutual fund, etc.) held by the Plan, whether such fee is paid directly by the fund or netted against the fund earnings.
- Participant education: Are the Plan administrators and trustees providing periodic education to the participants so knowledgeable decisions may be made by the participants? Making education available to all participants on at least an annual basis is expected by the DOL.
- Annual meeting of Plan trustees and administrators: At least annually, the Plan trustees and administrators should meet to discuss various aspects of the benefit plan, including a discussion of administrative and investment fees; education for its participants; investment policy and decisions regarding changes to investments offered by the Plan; changes in laws and regulations; and the general environment surrounding the Plan sponsor and the Plan itself. This meeting should be documented in formal minutes maintained in the permanent files of the Plan.

Best Practice Recommendations for Organizations and Their Benefit Plans

As part of our services to all our audit engagements, we have provided below some best practices that are beneficial to many Organizations. Not all of these best practices may fit your Organization due to cost constraints or other limiting parameters.

We encourage Management to address each best practice and discuss openly with the Finance Committee / Board of Directors.

- All organizations need to ensure proper mitigation of cybersecurity risks by evaluating their IT systems and service providers. It is recommended to establish a formal IT security policy with the consideration of enforcing strong and unique passwords, utilizing multi-factor authentication, allowing only password-protected Wi-Fi networks, keeping all software, including antivirus software, up to date with the latest patches and upgrades, and procedures in reporting phishing attacks and other cybersecurity incidents. Service providers may have an independent auditor assess their internal controls over financial reporting, which includes security controls, called a Service Organization Controls (SOC) Report. Ask for a copy of the report, review it and ask questions if you have any concerns regarding the testing findings identified by the SOC auditor. Also inquire if the service provider has any insurance policies that would cover losses caused by cybersecurity and identity theft breaches.
- Require a background check before hiring any office and accounting candidate. Red flags include personal bankruptcy within the last 5 years; lawsuits filed to prevent foreclosure of assets (by the candidate) or suits filed to demand payment (against the candidate); felony or serious misdemeanor convictions (including items such as check fraud). Background checks are simple to obtain and the cost is fairly nominal, especially in relation to the consequences.
- On an annual basis, review the Organization's insurance policies. Specifically inquire of a crime and dishonestly policy. These policies may cover losses related to employee theft.
- When using a temporary placement agency, inquire of their process for selecting qualified candidates and if they completed a background check. Not all background checks are the same, and the conversation should include what the background check covered, as well as the findings.
- Management review of disbursements and bank reconciliations: most Organizations have policies in place requiring a management review of both disbursements and bank reconciliations. Most benefit plans remit deferrals, loan payments and employer matching contributions electronically to the custodian or trustee. Management should review the amount withheld, reconcile to the amount remitted, and initial or sign approving the remittance. Be certain the review procedures are actually being performed, and that a sign-off is not just occurring. Challenge the process! And if any remittances are subsequently returned in the mail, they should be investigated promptly.

Best Practice Recommendations for Organizations and Their Benefit Plans

- Review general ledger account coding for deferrals, loan payments, employer matching contributions and disbursements. Ask questions if the account credited or charged isn't the general ledger account where you think it belongs.
- Require vacations: And this doesn't mean just time off. It means those job functions of the person on vacation, to the extent possible, should be completed by another staff member. Questions get asked when someone subs in, and not just because new staff may not understand how to do something. As staffing allows, cross train staff to take over job functions during vacations.
- Discuss "positive pay" for disbursements with your financial institution. This tool is offered by most financial institutions, and is a good way to eliminate check fraud. We have found the service to be inexpensive, as financial institutions understand that check fraud costs money to both you, and many times, the financial institution (if they are found to have been negligent).
- Communicate directly with your engagement partner. Don't allow all conversations regarding the audit to be funneled through your accounting personnel, or through only the staff personnel of the firm. If something is on your mind, don't hesitate to contact your engagement partner. An audit isn't a cookie cutter. Your Organization is unique so you can expect to have unique circumstances and questions. And some of these questions may carry through to the audit process.
