INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Participants and Administrator of the
Nomura Securities International, Inc. Retirement Investment Plan

Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit

We have performed audits of the financial statements of the Nomura Securities International, Inc. Retirement Investment Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) (ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit). The financial statements comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management, having determined it is permissible in the circumstances, has elected to have the audits of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audits need not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, provided that the statements or information regarding assets so held are prepared and certified to by the bank or similar institution or insurance carrier in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA (qualified institution).

Management has obtained certifications from a qualified institution, Principal Trust Company, as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and for the years then ended, stating that the certified investment information, as described in Note 3 to the financial statements, is complete and accurate.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audits and on the procedures performed as described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section:

- The amounts and disclosures in the accompanying financial statements, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
- The information in the accompanying financial statements related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Management's election of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit does not affect management's responsibility for the financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all Plan amendments, administering the Plan, and determining that the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Except as described in the Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit section of our report, our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and, therefore, is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users made on the basis of these financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Our audits did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Other Matter—Supplemental Schedule Required by ERISA

The supplemental schedule of assets (held at end of year) as of December 31, 2023 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplementary information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information included in the supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, has been subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS. For information included in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, we compared such information to the related certified investment information.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedule, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedule, other than the information agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

In our opinion:

- The form and content of the supplemental schedule, other than the information in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, are presented, in all material respects, in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.
- The information in the supplemental schedule related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Participants and Administrator of the
Nomura Securities International, Inc. Retirement Investment Plan

Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit

We have performed audits of the financial statements of the Nomura Securities International, Inc. Retirement Investment Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) (ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit). The financial statements comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management, having determined it is permissible in the circumstances, has elected to have the audits of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audits need not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, provided that the statements or information regarding assets so held are prepared and certified to by the bank or similar institution or insurance carrier in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA (qualified institution).

Management has obtained certifications from a qualified institution, Principal Trust Company, as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and for the years then ended, stating that the certified investment information, as described in Note 3 to the financial statements, is complete and accurate.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audits and on the procedures performed as described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section:

- The amounts and disclosures in the accompanying financial statements, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
- The information in the accompanying financial statements related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Management's election of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit does not affect management's responsibility for the financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all Plan amendments, administering the Plan, and determining that the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Except as described in the Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit section of our report, our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and, therefore, is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users made on the basis of these financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Our audits did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Other Matter—Supplemental Schedule Required by ERISA

The supplemental schedule of assets (held at end of year) as of December 31, 2023 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplementary information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information included in the supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, has been subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS. For information included in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, we compared such information to the related certified investment information.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedule, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedule, other than the information agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

In our opinion:

- The form and content of the supplemental schedule, other than the information in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, are presented, in all material respects, in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.
- The information in the supplemental schedule related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Retirement Investment Plan

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2023 and 2022

1. Description of Plan

The following description of the Nomura Securities International, Inc. Retirement Investment Plan (the “Plan”) provides only general information about the Plan’s provisions. Participants should refer to the Plan agreement for a more complete description of the Plan’s provisions.

Companies participating in the Plan include Nomura Securities International, Inc., Nomura Global Financial Products, Inc., Nomura Holding America Inc. (“NHA”), Nomura Corporate Research and Asset Management Inc., Nomura America Services LLC, Nomura Asset Management USA, Inc., Nomura Credit and Capital, Inc., Nomura Fiduciary Research & Co., Nomura Capital Management, LLC. and NWL Company, LLC (collectively, the “participating companies”).

General

The Plan is a voluntary, defined contribution plan that is administered by the Plan committee and NHA’s Director of Human Resources or his or her delegate (the “Plan administrator”). The Plan is subject to the provisions of Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”), as amended.

Nomura Securities International, Inc. (the “Plan Sponsor”, the “Company” or “NSI”) is a wholly owned subsidiary of NHA, which is wholly owned by Nomura Holdings, Inc., a Japanese corporation.

Eligibility

Full- and part-time employees, both permanent and temporary, are eligible to join the Plan. Permanent employees are eligible to join on the first day of the month coinciding or following their date of hire, and temporary employees are eligible to join on the first day of the month coinciding or following their three-month anniversary.

Employee Contributions

Each participant may elect to contribute to the Plan on a pre-tax, Roth after-tax and non-Roth after-tax basis. Each participant may contribute a percentage of their annual basic compensation (on which the employer match applies to pre-tax, and Roth after-tax contributions for employees with six or more months of service) to any or all of the investment funds as designated by the Plan agreement.

Nomura Securities International, Inc.
Retirement Investment Plan

The minimum contribution percentage is 2%, and the maximum contribution is subject to Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) limitations.

Employer Contributions

During 2023 and 2022, employer contributions consisted of two major components: the employer matching contribution and the discretionary contribution.

Each participating company matches an amount equal to 100% of each respective participant’s contribution, up to 6% of eligible pay, limited to $330,000, the statutory maximum (“statutory maximum”).

Each participating company may make discretionary contributions in an amount up to 6% of eligible pay, up to the statutory maximum. The contribution is made to all employees with at least one year of service at the end of the Plan year and is pro-rated for those employees who were rehired, transferred or terminated during the year for reasons of normal or early retirement, death, disability, or an employer-initiated transfer to a nonparticipating entity. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, employer discretionary contributions receivable totaled $15,987,508 and $13,234,136 respectively.

Employees are eligible for employer matching contributions after six months of service and discretionary contributions after one year of service.

Employee rollover contributions from other qualified retirement plans are permitted. Such contributions are subject to the conditions and procedures set forth in the Plan document.

Participant Accounts

Each participant’s account is credited with the participant’s contributions and each respective participating company’s matching contributions, and allocations of the Plan’s earnings. The Plan’s earnings are allocated based on the participant’s share of net earnings or losses of their respective elected investment options. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant’s vested account.

Nomura Securities International, Inc.
Retirement Investment Plan

Vesting

Participants are fully vested at all times in contributions made on their own behalf. Employer contributions vest as follows:

Full Years of Service Completed	Vested Percentage
Less than 2	0
2	50
3	75
4	100

Participant Loans

Participants may apply for a secured loan provided that the request does not exceed the lesser of 50% of the participant's vested account value, or $50,000. The minimum loan amount is $1,000, and only one loan may be outstanding at any time. Loan terms are limited to five years for general loans and 10 years for loans relating to the purchase of the participant's primary residence. The loans are secured by the balance in the participant's account and bear interest at a fixed rate over the life of each loan at 1% over the prime rate on the first business day of the month during which the loan is approved. Principal and interest are paid ratably through payroll deductions. Principal and interest paid by the participant is credited to the participant's account. Delinquent participant loans are reclassified as distributions based upon the terms in the Plan document.

The loan is delinquent if payment is not made by the end of the quarter following the quarter in which the payment is missed.

Payment of Benefits

Upon termination of service because of death, disability, or retirement, the participant is entitled to the full amount of his or her account as valued on the applicable valuation date. In the event of a participant's death, distribution of his or her account will be made as soon as administratively practicable upon receipt of the appropriate documentation from the designated beneficiary. Participants terminating service for any other reasons will receive a distribution equal to the vested portion of the participant's account.

Distributions will be made upon written request and are typically made in a single, lump-sum payment. However, distributions for reasons other than death may be made under a specified withdrawal method, as specified by the Plan.

Nomura Securities International, Inc.
Retirement Investment Plan

Participants may elect to defer distributions until a later date. In accordance with the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement Act of 2019 (the “SECURE Act”), participants that reach the age of 70½ in 2019 must take their first required minimum distribution “(RMD)” by April 1, 2020. Participants that reach age 70½ in 2020 or later must take their first RMD by April 1st of the year after they reach 72 (73 if the account owner reaches 72 in 2023 regardless of active employment). Participants also have an option to take hardship withdrawals, subject to Plan provisions.

Forfeitures

Upon termination of employment, participants forfeit their non-vested balances (“Forfeitures”). Forfeitures are proportionately reallocated to participants remaining in the Plan at December 31, based upon their applicable pay and limited to the statutory maximum (“Reallocations”). Forfeitures are also used to pay administrative expenses. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, Forfeitures reallocated to participants remaining in the Plan were $1,177,593 and $1,537,508, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, Forfeitures used to pay employer contributions and administrative expenses were $257,221 and 241,393, respectively.

Transfers In and Out of the Plan

Instinet Incorporated (“Instinet”) was purchased by Nomura Holdings, Inc. in 2007 and became part of the controlled group for the NSI Retirement Investment Plan. Beginning in 2014, the NSI Retirement Investment Plan and the Instinet plan each allowed employees who had transferred from an NHI subsidiary to Instinet or vice versa, to complete a one-time asset transfer of their 401(k) balance. The asset transfers out, therefore, represents the funds that were transferred from the NSI Retirement Investment Plan to the Instinet plan and the asset transfers in represents the funds that were transferred from the Instinet plan to the NSI Retirement Investment Plan. There are no asset transfers in reported for 2023 and asset transfers in of $383,496 was reported in 2022. There are no asset transfers out reported for 2023 and asset transfers out of $587 was reported in 2022 .

Plan Termination

Although the participating companies have not expressed any such intent, they have the right under the Plan to discontinue their contributions at any time and terminate the Plan for any reason at any time subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of the Plan’s termination, all participants will become 100% vested in the employer’s contributions.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (“U.S. GAAP”), specifically, Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 962, Plan Accounting – Defined Contribution Pension Plans.

Use of Estimates

The financial statements are presented in conformity with U.S. GAAP, which requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements, accompanying notes and supplemental schedule. Management believes that the estimates utilized in preparing its financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

The Plan accounts for its investments at fair value under ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures.

ASC 820 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, establishes a fair value hierarchy based on the quality of inputs used to measure fair value and determines disclosures associated with the use of fair value requirements (see Note 4).

Shares of registered investment companies (“RICs”) are valued at quoted market prices, which represent the net asset value (“NAV”) of shares held by the Plan at year end.

Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is accounted for on an accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date basis. Capital gain distributions are included in dividend income.

Net appreciation (depreciation) in fair value of investments includes the Plan’s gains and losses on the investments bought, sold, as well as held during the year.

Notes Receivable from Participants

Notes receivable from participants are valued at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Interest income on notes receivable from participants is recorded when it is earned. If a participant ceases to make loan repayments and the Plan administrator deems the participant loan to be a distribution, the participant loan balance is reduced and a benefit payment is recorded. No allowance for credit losses has been recorded as of December 31, 2023 and 2022.

Nomura Securities International, Inc.
Retirement Investment Plan

Payment of Benefits

Benefits are recorded when paid.

New Accounting Pronouncements

The Company did not adopt any new accounting pronouncements during the year ended December 31, 2023.

3. Investments

All investment information in the accompanying financial statements, including investments held in December 31, 2023 and 2022, and net appreciation (depreciation) in fair value of investments, interest and dividends for the periods then ended was obtained or derived from information provided to the Plan administrator and certified as complete and accurate by an affiliate of Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company (“VFTC”), the Trustee of the Plan.

4. Fair Value Measurements

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair value is determined in accordance with ASC 820, which defines fair value as the amount that would be exchanged to sell a financial asset or transfer a financial liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. It assumes the transaction occurs in the Plan’s principal market, or in the absence of the principal market, the most advantageous market for the relevant financial asset or liability.

Fair Value Hierarchy

All financial instruments measured at fair value, have been categorized into a three-level hierarchy (the “fair value hierarchy”) based on the transparency of valuation inputs used by the Plan to estimate fair value.

A financial instrument is classified in the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the financial instrument. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are defined as follows, with Level 1 representing the most transparent inputs and Level 3 representing the least transparent inputs:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices for identical financial instruments in active markets accessible by the Plan at the measurement date are classified as Level 1.

Nomura Securities International, Inc.
Retirement Investment Plan

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that either are observable for the asset or liability, directly or indirectly are classified as Level 2. If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual or redemption) term, a Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term (contractual life) of the asset or liability.

Level 3 – Financial assets and financial liabilities whose values are based on unobservable inputs are classified as Level 3. Unobservable inputs are based on the Plan's own assumptions about the estimates used by other market participants in valuing similar financial instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are classified as Level 3, if such unobservable inputs have more than an insignificant impact on the fair value measurement of an instrument.

Financial instruments are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the instruments. As a result, a financial instrument valued using a combination of Level 1, 2 and 3 inputs would be classified as a Level 3 financial asset or liability where the Level 3 inputs are significant to its measurement.

The following table presents information about the Plan's investments measured at fair value on a recurring basis, as of December 31, 2023, within the fair value hierarchy:

Valuation Methodology by Major Class of Financial Asset

RICs – Mutual funds that are registered with the SEC and are intended to meet the requirements of the Investment Company Act of 1940 with respect to income distribution, fee structure, and diversification of assets. As RICs, these funds are obligated to stand ready to transact in either purchases or redemptions at the NAV.

As mentioned in Note 2, shares of RICs are valued at quoted market prices, which represent the NAV of shares held by the Plan at year-end.

5. Party-in-Interest Transactions

The Plan invests in shares of RICs managed by VFTC. Transactions in such investments qualify as party-in-interest transactions, which are exempt from the prohibited transaction rules.

Certain officers and employees of the Plan's Sponsor (who may also be participants in the Plan) perform administrative services related to the Plan's operations, record keeping, and financial reporting. All fees incurred for investment management and administrative services were paid by the Plan's Sponsor.

6. Tax Status

The Plan has received a favorable determination letter from the IRS dated February 1, 2019, stating that the Plan is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code). Subsequent to this determination by the IRS, the Plan was amended. Once qualified, the Plan is required to operate in conformity with the Code to maintain its qualification. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is operating in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and, therefore, believes the Plan, as amended, is qualified and the related trust is tax exempt.

Nomura Securities International, Inc.
Retirement Investment Plan

The Plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan, and has concluded that as of December 31, 2023, there are no uncertain tax positions taken by the Plan that would require recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements.

The Plan has not recognized interest or penalties related to uncertain tax positions. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, currently no audits for any tax periods are in progress. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2020.

7. Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in several investment securities that are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term. The changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the financial statements.

8. Plan Expenses

The Plan's administrative expenses, including trustee, accounting, and legal fees are paid by the participating companies. Annual loan fees are deducted from the accounts of participants with loan balances.

9. Subsequent Events

The Plan has evaluated subsequent events through October 14, 2024, the date these financial statements were available to be issued. Except for those matters discussed below, no material subsequent events required recognition or additional disclosure in these financial statements.

On March 14, 2024, the employer discretionary receivable of $15,987,508 was contributed to the Plan.

On September 9, 2024, forfeitures of $1,177,593 were reallocated to Plan participants for the 2023 Plan year.
