Report of Independent Auditors

The Retirement Plan Investment Board of FedEx Corporation
Federal Express Corporation Pilots' Retirement Savings Plan

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Federal Express Corporation Pilots' Retirement Savings Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2023, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits of the Plan at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2023, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all plan amendments, administering the Plan, and determining that the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Supplemental Schedule Required by ERISA

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion of the financial statements as a whole. The supplemental schedule of assets (held at end of year) as of December 31, 2023, (referred to as the “supplemental schedule”), is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplementary information required by the Department of Labor’s Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedule, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedule, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with the Department of Labor’s Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

In our opinion, the information in the supplemental schedule is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole, and the form and content are presented in conformity with the Department of Labor’s Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

Federal Express Corporation Pilots' Retirement Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2023

1. Description of Plan

The following description of the Federal Express Corporation Pilots' Retirement Savings Plan (the Plan) is provided for general information purposes only. More complete information regarding the Plan's provisions may be found in the plan document.

General

The Plan was adopted June 1, 2002, and is a defined contribution plan established by Federal Express Corporation for the benefit of collectively bargained crew members of Federal Express Corporation (the Company), as defined in the plan document. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended.

Eligibility

For purposes of making pretax, after-tax, and rollover contributions, and if eligible, catch-up contributions, collectively bargained crew members employed by the Company are eligible to participate on the first day of the month coincident with or next following one month of service. Participants are eligible to receive allocations of company matching contributions, company sick bank contributions (unused accumulated sick leave), and Employer Non-Elective contributions on the first day of the month coincident with or next following one month of service. Eligible employees may also make Roth and Roth catch-up (if eligible) contributions.

Plan Administration

Overall responsibility for administering the Plan resides with the Retirement Plan Investment Board (Investment Board), which was appointed by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of FedEx Corporation (FedEx). The Investment Board has delegated responsibility for day-to-day administrative activities and vendor management to the Retirement Services Department of FedEx Services, Inc.

Under a trust agreement effective January 1, 2019, Fidelity Management Trust Company (the Trustee) was appointed trustee for the Plan. The trust agreement authorizes the Trustee to invest and reinvest all or part of the Plan's assets in accordance with the participants' investment directions in any designated investment fund selected by the Investment Board or under the brokerage option, which was effective March 1, 2016. The Trustee has been granted authority to make payments from the Plan's assets as directed by the Investment Board.

Contributions

Eligible employees can generally contribute up to 50% of eligible compensation on a pretax and Roth basis (combined). In addition, participants are permitted to make after-tax contributions of up to 20% of eligible compensation, subject to certain limits under the Internal Revenue Code (Code). The Company provides a matching contribution equal to 50% of each participant's combined pretax and/or Roth after-tax contribution, up to a maximum match of $500 per participant per plan year. Participants may also contribute rollover contributions representing distributions from other qualified plans. Participants who are age 50 or older (or who attain age 50 before the end of the plan year) are eligible to make catch-up contributions and Roth catch-up contributions, up to 30% of eligible compensation, subject to certain limitations.

Effective January 1, 2017, the Pilots' Money Purchase Pension Plan (PMPPP) merged into this Plan, at which time the Company commenced contributions at 8% of eligible employee earnings to a new Employer Non-Elective Contribution source subaccount. As a result of this plan merger, the Money Purchase Pension Plan contribution source from the previous PMPPP was frozen to new contributions for participants effective December 31, 2016, with the exception of applicable prior year military leave source contributions. Effective January 1, 2020, the Employer Non-Elective Contribution rate increased to 9% of eligible employee earnings.

Participants direct the investment of their contributions and company contributions. The Plan currently offers several mutual or money market funds and collective trusts, as well as a brokerage option, as investment options for participants, and no contributions can be directed into the FedEx stock fund. Participants who do not select an investment option(s) are automatically invested in a Qualified Default Investment Arrangement (QDIA), which is a date-specific Vanguard Target Retirement Trust based on the participant's age and an assumed retirement age of 65.

The Company contributes to the Plan the aggregate value of unused accumulated sick leave pay in excess of the disability sick account ceiling for individuals who are crew members pursuant to the terms of the collective bargaining agreement. Such amounts are paid to the trust during the first bid period after the Plan's year-end for which the contribution is made. Sick bank contributions totaling approximately $7.7 million were made for the year ended December 31, 2023.

The Plan is an automatic enrollment plan. The automatic enrollment provisions allow the Company to treat each employee as having elected to participate in the Plan in an amount equal to a qualified percentage of compensation. Absent any adjustment by the employee, the deferral percentage will be 3% during the first year of automatic enrollment and will increase automatically by 3% after the first year, 3% in the following year, and 1% in the third until it reaches 10% of eligible earnings or the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) annual limit.

Contributions from plan participants and the matching contributions from the Company are recorded in the year in which the employee contributions are withheld from compensation.

Benefits

Benefits are generally paid upon termination of service due to death, disability, termination of employment, or retirement. Participants can elect to receive the value of their accounts in the form of a lump sum, a partial or periodic distribution, a direct rollover, an annuity, or installments to be paid over no longer than the life expectancy of the participant or the life expectancy of the participant and his or her beneficiary. A participant may request that all or any portion of his or her distribution be paid directly to an eligible retirement plan. The Plan provides for in-service withdrawals in accordance with the terms of the plan document.

The Plan was amended effective December 28, 2021, to reflect certain changes described in the Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement Act of 2019 (the SECURE Act), which includes an increase in the age at which a participant must commence required minimum distributions effective January 1, 2020.

The Plan will be amended to reflect certain changes described in the SECURE 2.0 Act, which includes an increase in the age at which a participant must commence required minimum distributions for those attaining age 72 after December 31, 2022. Written amendments to the Plan to reflect these operational changes will be adopted at a later date in accordance with applicable law and IRS guidance.

Participant Accounts

Individual accounts are maintained for each of the Plan's participants to reflect the Company's contributions, participant contributions, and the participant's share of the Plan's gains and losses. Participants are fully vested in their accounts in the Plan.

Loans to Participants

Participants may borrow amounts from their accounts ranging from a minimum of $1,000 to a maximum of the lesser of $50,000 or 50% of the participant's vested account balance. The terms of loans to participants range from one to five years or, in connection with the purchase of a primary residence, up to ten years. The loans are secured by the balance in the participant's account and bear interest at a rate commensurate with prevailing rates. A participant may have one outstanding loan at a time. A participant is not eligible for another loan until a period of one year has elapsed from the date on which his or her previous loan, if any, has been fully repaid. Repayments are made through payroll deductions. Principal and interest are amortized and allocated on each payment.

CARES Act

To address the economic fallout of the 2020 coronavirus pandemic, the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, also known as the CARES Act, was signed into law on March 27, 2020. The CARES Act permitted qualified plans to offer certain participants certain temporary relief opportunities, including suspension of loan repayments, an increase in the plan loan limit to $100,000, special coronavirus related distributions (CRD) of up to $100,000, and a waiver of 2020 required minimum distributions. These provisions were operationally incorporated into the Plan in April 2020, and the Plan was amended effective December 28, 2021, to reflect these provisions in accordance with applicable law and IRS guidance. For the 2020 plan year, the Plan was amended to reduce the wait period between loans from one year to 30 days.

Administrative Expenses

Certain administrative functions are performed by employees of the Company. No such employee receives compensation from the Plan. The Company pays all administrative expenses of the Plan, except for the administrative costs of certain mutual funds and brokerage transactions, managed accounts, qualified domestic relations order determinations, and loan origination fees, which are charged directly to the participants. Mutual fund expenses may include, but are not limited to, investment management, record-keeping, and administration as well as ancillary expenses incurred in conjunction with operating the defined contribution Plan.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Plan's management to make estimates that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes and supplemental schedule. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Notes Receivable From Participants

Notes receivable from participants represent participant loans that are recorded at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Interest income on notes receivable from participants is recorded when it is earned. Loan origination fees are included in gross loan withdrawals and are not reported as expenses/fees. No allowance for credit losses has been recorded as of December 31, 2023 or 2022. Plan loans to participants must be repaid in accordance with the terms of the loan, the Plan's loan provisions, and IRS rules. The IRS requires that loans be kept current, and failure to make scheduled loan repayments puts a participant's loan in default, which will be reported to the IRS as a taxable distribution if it is not brought current in a timely manner.

Payment of Benefits

Benefits are recorded when paid.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

Investments are reported at fair value. See Note 4 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded as earned on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation (depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Plan Termination

The Company intends to continue the Plan indefinitely. However, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan as permitted under the collective bargaining agreement or with prior written approval of the Company and the Air Line Pilots Association International and subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of plan termination, participants will remain 100% vested and all plan assets will be distributed to the participants or their beneficiaries.

3. Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan invests in various investment securities. The fair values of investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported on the statements of net assets available for benefits.

4. Fair Value Measurements

Fair value is defined as the exit price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e., an exit price). The fair value hierarchy prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3).

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below:

Level 1 – Inputs are unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the reporting entity has the ability to access at the measurement date.

Level 2 – Inputs are quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 – Valuations are derived from unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

4. Fair Value Measurements (continued)

Investments are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for investments measured at fair value.

Shares of mutual funds are valued at quoted market prices as determined in an active market, which represent the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Plan at year-end.

Money market funds and collective trusts and the fixed-income collective funds are valued at the NAV of shares held as determined by the issuer. The NAV is considered published but trades in nonpublic markets.

The FedEx Corporation Common Stock Fund is valued at the daily unit closing price, which comprises the daily quoted market price plus any uninvested cash position.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The Plan offers a brokerage window option that provides participants access to individual stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs) and limited options trading through the brokerage provider, Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC. Participants may invest up to 100% of their vested account balance in the self-directed brokerage account.

5. Income Tax Status

The Plan has received a determination letter from the IRS dated August 27, 2014, stating that the Plan is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code), and, therefore, the related trust is exempt from taxation. Subsequent to this determination by the IRS, the Plan was amended and restated. Once qualified, the Plan is required to operate in conformity with the Code to maintain its qualified status. The plan administrator believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and, therefore, believes the Plan, as amended and restated, is qualified and the related trust is tax-exempt.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan and has concluded that there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken. The Plan has recognized no interest or penalties related to uncertain tax positions. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions. The Plan is currently under audit for tax year 2019.

6. Party-in-Interest Transactions

Party-in-interest transactions include the FedEx Corporation Common Stock Fund held by the Plan and dividends paid on FedEx common stock.

7. Reconciliation of Financial Statements to Form 5500
