Section I - Internal Control Related Matters Identified in an Audit

In planning and performing our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of the financial statements of Golden Automotive Group LLC 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) other than those controls over investments and related investment activity. Our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit was performed in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America except, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's (DOL) Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, we did not perform any auditing procedures with respect to certified investment information except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We considered internal control as a basis for designing our procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses, and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be significant deficiencies.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

Employer Match Calculation

When testing the annual employer match, it appeared that controls over review of the calculations did not catch an error that resulted in an over-contribution of employer match funds in accordance with plan provisions. We recommend legal counsel be consulted to provide interpretive guidance and advice on corrective actions, if needed. The impact of not following the Plan's employer match provisions is that the financial statements could be misstated related to contributions. Additionally, the Plan could be out of compliance with IRS and DOL rules and regulations.

Plan Definition of Compensation

When testing employee deferrals, it was noted that certain earnings codes, owner's year-end bonus and Christmas year-end match, were not set up to calculate employee deferrals within payroll. Management should review the eligible pay codes within the payroll software against the definition of compensation outlined in the plan document and determine if any changes need to be made, whether in the payroll system or an amendment to the plan document. We recommend legal counsel be consulted to provide interpretive guidance and advice on corrective actions, if needed. The impact of not following the Plan's definition of compensation is that the financial statements could be misstated related to contributions. Additionally, the Plan could be out of compliance with IRS and DOL rules and regulations.

Section I - Internal Control Related Matters Identified in an Audit (Continued)

Auto-enrollment

When testing auto-enrollment, it was noted that new employees are automatically enrolled on the first day of the month after the employee has obtained 30 days of service. However, the plan document does not require 30 days of service for eligibility. The IRS states that an employer must deduct automatic enrollment contributions from an employee's wages by the earlier of 30 days or the pay date for the second pay period after giving the employee notice. Management should review whether the current automatic enrollment methodology agrees with the plan document and IRS regulations and determine if any changes need to be made to the current auto enrollment procedures.

The following deficiencies in internal control were also identified during our audit:

Formal Review of SOC-1 Reports

It is noted that plan management reviews the annual SOC-1 reports for the applicable service providers; however, there is no formal process in place to document this evidence of review. Management should be aware of the controls that are in place and those that are not working effectively in order to detect or prevent material misstatements. Service provider internal controls are integral to the control structure surrounding the administration of the Plan. We recommend that all SOC-1 reports related to the Plan be reviewed at least annually to ensure that controls are deemed to be designed properly and operating effectively at the service organizations and to ensure that the company has the proper user entity-level controls in place based on the design of controls at the service organizations.

Addendum for Automatic Enrollment and Automatic Escalation

With a new adoption agreement set in place in May 2021, there did not appear to be an additional provisions addendum signed into place that outlines the provisions for automatic enrollment and automatic escalation, as required by the adoption agreement. Management should work with the TPA to ensure that an addendum is signed into place, if necessary, and consider consulting with ERISA counsel to determine the extent of the issue and any necessary corrections.

Section II - Required Communications with Those Charged with Governance

Our Responsibility Under U.S. Generally Accepted Auditing Standards

As stated in our engagement letter dated July 30, 2024, we conducted our audit in accordance with professional standards except that, as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA and as instructed by you, we did not perform any auditing procedures with respect to certified investment information except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The amounts and disclosures in the accompanying financial statements, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, were audited by us in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with GAAP. The form and content of the supplemental schedule, other than the information in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, were subjected to tests of your accounting records and other procedures as we considered necessary to enable us to express an opinion as to whether they are presented in conformity with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or management of your responsibilities. As part of our audit, we considered the applicable internal controls of the Plan. Such considerations were solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurance concerning such internal control.

We are responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to your responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures specifically to identify such matters.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We performed the audit according to the planned scope and timing previously communicated to you.

Significant Audit Findings

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. In accordance with the terms of our engagement letter, we will advise management about the appropriateness of accounting policies and their application. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted, and the application of existing policies was not changed during 2023.

We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

We noted no significant transactions that have been recognized in the financial statements in a different period than when the transaction occurred.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimate affecting the financial statements was the Plan's valuation of investments.

Management has informed us that, in determining the appropriateness of the estimate of investment values, they have recorded the fair values based on market values provided by the investment custodian, plus any applicable valuation adjustments. We performed no specific procedures related to the valuation of the investments due to the scope and nature of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit.

The disclosures in the financial statements are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in performing and completing our audit.

Disagreements with Management

For the purpose of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report.

We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. Management has determined that their effects are immaterial, both individually and in the aggregate, to the financial statements taken as a whole. However, uncorrected misstatements or matters underlying those uncorrected misstatements could potentially cause future period financial statements to be materially misstated.

Significant Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards and plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement, with management each year prior to our retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship, and our responses were not a condition of our retention.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated September 9, 2024.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a second opinion on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Form 5500 - Annual Return/Report of Employee Benefit Plan

Our responsibility for Form 5500 does not extend beyond the financial statements, and we do not express an opinion or any form of assurance on Form 5500. However, we read the Plan's Form 5500 filing, and nothing came to our attention that caused us to believe that such information, or its manner of presentation, is materially inconsistent with the information or manner of its presentation appearing in the financial statements.
