Plan Administrator, Plan Management, Board of Directors, and Trustees
Training and Treatment Innovations 403(b) Plan

We have audited the financial statements of Training and Treatment Innovations 403(b) Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) [ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit] for the year ended December 31, 2022, and we have issued our report thereon dated December 11, 2023. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Principal Trust Company, Prudential Insurance Company of America and Prudential Bank & Trust, FSB (the trustees), which are banks or similar institutions or insurance carriers that are regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certifications, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements and ERISA-required supplementary schedules, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of GAAP. Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with GAAP.

We are required to communicate certain matters to you in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America that are related to internal control and the audit. Those communications are as follows:

I Auditor's Communication of Significant Matters with Those Charged with Governance

II Communication of Internal Control Matters Identified During the Audit

In addition, we have identified additional matters that are not required to be communicated but we believe are valuable for management.

III Matters for Management's Consideration

We will review the status of these comments during our next audit engagement. We have already discussed many of these comments and suggestions with various Plan personnel, and we will be pleased to discuss them in further detail at your convenience, to perform any additional study of these matters, or to assist you in implementing the recommendations.

This information is intended solely for the use of the Plan Administrator, Plan Management, Trustees, and others within the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Auburn Hills, Michigan

Appendix I

Auditor's Communication of Significant Matters with Those Charged with Governance

Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our letter to you dated April 18, 2023. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Significant Audit Matters

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the Plan are described in Note 2 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted, and the application of existing policies was not changed during year. We noted no transactions entered into by the Plan during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. There were no significant estimates in the financial statements.

Certain financial statement disclosures are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosure affecting the financial statements was:

- The disclosure addressing non-exempt prohibited transactions as it relates to untimely remittances of participant withholdings in Note 10 to the financial statements.
- The disclosure addressing Filing of Form 5500 in Note 11 to the financial statements.

The financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent, and clear.

A significant risk is an identified and assessed risk of material misstatement that, in the auditor's professional judgment, requires special audit consideration. Within our audit, we focused on the following areas.

- Management override of control
- Improper revenue recognition
- Change in Plan recordkeeper

Accounting Standards and Regulatory Updates

SECURE Act 2.0

In late December 2022, Congress passed the Consolidated Appropriations Bill (2023) that included provisions of a retirement bill now known as SECURE Act 2.0. The focus of the bill is retirement-based accounts such as IRAs, Roth IRAs and employer sponsored retirement plans including 401(k)s, 403(b)s, SEP and SIMPLE IRAs.

While further guidance from the IRS on the actual implementation of the provisions is still pending, below is a chronological summary of some of the key provisions and when they are set to become effective.

- Starting in 2023:
 - Required beginning date for requirement minimum distributions (RMDs) has been raised to age 73 for those born between 1951 and 1959, or to age 75 for those born beginning in 1960.
- Starting in 2024:
 - New exceptions to the 10% distribution penalty for distributions under 59 ½, including for domestic abuse victims and emergency withdrawals.
 - Employer-sponsored Emergency Savings Accounts available.
 - Student loan repayments treated as elective deferrals when determining employer match.

- The mandatory cash out amount increases to $7,000. This amount was previously $5,000 and applies to participants who leave employment and do not specify how to disburse their funds.
- Starting in 2025:
 - Increase in employer plan catch-up contributions for individuals age 60-63.
 - Long-term part-time employee length of service reduced from 3 years to 2 years.
- Starting in 2026:
 - Roth catch-up contributions required for prior-year wages greater than $145,000 (indexed).

It should be emphasized that while these provisions will become effective in each of the respective following years, there is still some clarification and guidance that needs to be provided by the IRS in how the provisions will be treated.

Form 5500 Procedures

We are required to obtain and read a substantially complete draft of Form 5500 prior to dating our auditor's report. The purpose of this procedure is to identify any material inconsistencies between the draft Form 5500 and the Plan's financial statements. We identified no material inconsistencies in performing and completing our audit.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

We encountered significant difficulties in completing this year's plan audit, related to change in recordkeeper, the change in accounting and payroll systems by the Plan Sponsor, and responsiveness of the Plan's various service providers.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are clearly trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. There were no misstatements detected as a result of audit procedures that were more than trivial.

There were no known uncorrected misstatements that were more than trivial.

Reportable Findings

For purposes of this letter, a reportable finding is a matter that includes one or more of the following: (1) noncompliance or suspected noncompliance with laws and regulations, (2) a finding that in our professional judgment is significant and relevant to you regarding your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process, and (3) an indication of internal control deficiencies identified during the audit that have not been previously communicated to management by other parties and that we determined are sufficiently important to merit management's attention. We identified the following reportable findings:

Refer to Appendix II - Communication of Internal Control Matters Identified During the Audit for the following reportable findings:

- Incomplete Census
- Contributions Made Late
- Participant Contributions
- Compliance Testing
- Focus on Plan Administration
- Filing of Form 5500

Refer to Appendix III - Matters for Management's Consideration for the following reportable findings

- Participant Deferral Election
- Administrator's Access
- Participant Enrollment

- Document Retention
- Contribution Confirmations

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, a disagreement with management is a disagreement on a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated as of the date of the audit report.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Plan's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as the Plan's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

Other Matters

Our responsibility for the ERISA-required supplementary schedules accompanying the financial statements is to perform adequate procedures to evaluate whether the form and content of the ERISA-required supplementary schedules, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, is presented in compliance with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA, and whether the information in the supplementary schedules related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Appendix II

Communication of Internal Control Matters Identified During the Audit

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Training and Treatment Innovations 403(b) Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Principal Trust Company, Prudential Insurance Company of America and Prudential Bank & Trust, FSB that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified certain deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A reportable finding is an indication of deficiencies in internal control identified during the audit that have not been communicated to management by other parties and that, in the auditor's professional judgment, are of sufficient importance to merit management's attention. We consider the following deficiencies in the Plan's internal control to be material weaknesses and reportable findings:

Incomplete Census

During plan year 2022, the plan sponsor experienced many administrative challenges such as switching retirement providers, changing accounting software and losing both their payroll specialist and senior accountant. The client's internal challenges had an impact on how the retirement plan was run and many issues surfaced, most notably an incomplete Census. During our audit procedures, we noted that the census prepared for the Plan did not agree to payroll records.

Due to the incomplete Census we were:

- Unable to recalculate elective deferrals for some participants
- Unable to recalculate employer match for some participants
- Unable to match salary or number of employees per Census to salary or number of employees per payroll
- Unable to match contribution amounts per Census to some participant statements
- Unable to reconcile the Plan's Contribution report to Census

We recommend that management works to ensure an accurate and complete census is provided in the future. The census should also be used to tie total employee contributions to individual W2's and also total contributions received per the trustee. In addition, management should ensure that the correct data is used for the required compliance testing, as results can differ if correct information is not used.

Contributions Made Late

Department of Labor regulations require employers to remit participant withholdings to the Plan as soon as they can be reasonably segregated from the employer's general assets. During 2022, we noted delinquent contributions totaling $38,607. Therefore, the plan is considered to have engaged in a prohibited use of plan assets. In order to correct the failure, the plan sponsor will be required to fund potential lost earnings to the affected participant accounts. Failure to timely correct the error could potentially result in the loss of the Plan's tax qualified status. This matter should be corrected through one of the Internal Revenue Service programs.

Participant Contributions

During our participant contribution testing last year, we noted that one employee contributed more than the maximum based on Internal Revenue Code (IRC) maximum deferral of $19,500 and who were age 50 or older and allowed to defer an additional $6,500 for calendar year 2021. We noted that the Plan did not distribute the 2021 excess contributions to the participant during the correction period which ended on March 15, 2022. As of report date, plan sponsor has still not distributed the excess contributions. We again recommend that the Plan Sponsor consult with an ERISA attorney as soon as possible to determine options for correction of this issue. Failure to timely correct the error could potentially result in the loss of the Plan's tax qualified status.

Compliance Testing

As in our prior year audit, we noted that plan management has not properly performed testing to demonstrate compliance with certain Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") requirements (e.g., 402(g) deferral limits test, 410(b) ratio test, and 415(c) maximum annual additions test) which should be satisfied in order for the plan to retain its qualified status. The potential effects of not performing these tests would include various issues that could result in loss of the plan qualified tax status. We recommend that Plan management engage a qualified third-party service provider to prepare the necessary annual compliance testing for each plan year.

Focus on Plan Administration

Your Plan has naturally evolved over the past several years. Evolution by itself is neither good nor bad, but it does change the requirements the Plan needs in many areas. Many times the evolution is so gradual that it is imperceptible by those who are experiencing it on a daily basis. Although Management met the needs and requirements of the Plan in the past, the natural evolution of the Plan may necessitate changes in Management's abilities. We believe this is the case. Management has performed to the best of their current abilities, but more focus on plan administration is necessary. There are several options available to have Management meet the needs of the Plan's evolution. The first option is to assist current Management in evaluating and meeting their educational needs to meet the changing circumstances of the Plan. In many cases this is the best option as it requires no personnel changes and promotes an overall supportive working environment. The second option is to obtain a level of Management with expertise above and beyond current Management's expertise. This may include contracting on a part-time, as needed, basis to supplement the work of current Management in areas where more expertise is needed. We recommend the Plan management and Trustees thoughtfully consider the needs of the Plan as they relate to Management's ability to properly administer the plan.

Filing of Form 5500

The Plan's 2022 Form 5500 was filed by the extended due date of October 16, 2023, however, an Accountant's Opinion, audited financial statements or accompanying footnotes was not attached.

Management should ensure that an amended filing of the 2022 Form 5500 is completed and it includes the Accountant's Opinion, audited financial statements and accompanying footnotes. In addition, procedures should be established to ensure that future filings of Form 5500 are done timely. Any potential penalties imposed by the DOL related to this delinquent submission of Form 5500 Annual Report would be paid by the plan sponsor and not out of plan assets.

Appendix III

Matters for Management's Consideration

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the Plan as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

However, during our audit we became aware of matters for management's consideration that are opportunities for correcting noncompliance, strengthening internal controls and improving operating efficiency. This letter does not affect our report dated December 11, 2023, on the financial statements of the Plan.

Participant Deferral Election

During our testing of participant data, we noted one exception for a participant tested. Evidence of authorization of the most recent contribution deferral percentages could not be located. Documentation supporting all enrollments and election changes should be maintained as evidence of the appropriate authorization. Maintaining proper documentation regarding participant data can safeguard the Plan and the Plan Sponsor. We recommend that a procedure be instituted that ensures documentation evidencing authorization of enrollment and deferral rate changes or investment election changes is maintained. Enrollments and elections changes should not be processed until proper authorization has been received.

Administrator's Access

During our audit, we obtained the user security report for the Principal retirement plan access. We noted that two Prudential (i.e. the former service provider) employees have access. We recommend that the Plan administrator terminates their access immediately. Plan management should also review the user security report at least on an annual basis to ensure those employees with access are still appropriate. Individuals not involved with the plan having access to company data can be a significant liability risk to the company.

Participant Enrollment

During our review of newly eligible participants, we noted that one participant was not enrolled in the plan because he was a temporary worker. The plan document does not have an eligibility requirement for employee deferrals; thus, the participant was not considered to be enrolled timely. We recommend that the plan sponsor implements procedures to ensure that all employees are enrolled in the plan on a timely basis.

Document Retention

For one participant selected in disbursement testing we were unable to determine if his vesting was calculated properly due to the plan sponsor shredding personnel records seven years after their termination. We recommend plan sponsor retains personnel records much longer than that. These records should be kept as long as a possibility exists that they might be relevant to determination of the benefit entitlements of a participant.

Contribution Confirmations

Management does not retain any confirmations received from Prudential or Principal Trust Company. We recommend that management retains all confirmations in order to monitor and ensure that the amount of contributions uploaded is correct each pay.

RE: Late Submission of Form 5500/Form 8955 Annual Report

I, Anna Escamilla, had been recently assigned to the responsibility of the filing of Form 5500 & Form 8955-SSA due to a recent retirement. In addition to this learning curve, I was in the hospital with my daughter for 5 days. Due to the intensity of the situation, I was not able to address TTI business needs. I returned to work on 10/16/24 for a half day to catch up on the task. I have since reached out to our CPA and our contact through Principle to rectify the situation.

Therefore, the Form 5500 & Form 8955-SSA was not filed on time on account of an administrative oversight due to unforeseen circumstances. Controls will be established to prevent late filings from happening again.

It has recently been brought to our attention that the 2022 amended 5500 form was not submitted by the employee that was previously responsible for attending to this task. Since that employee was abruptly removed from the company, it was believed that the 2023 was the only issue. Now that we have discovered the amendment was not filed for 2022, this matter will be added to our preventive controls as well so this cannot happen again.
