Hope Services 401(k) Plan

Communication of Significant Deficiencies and
Other Internal Control Related Matters

December 31, 2022

May 14, 2025

To the Plan Administrator of
Hope Services 401(k) Plan

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Hope Services 401(k) Plan (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of the financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Delaware Charter Guarantee and Trust Company d/b/a Principal Trust Company, the Plan's trustee (the "Trustee") that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be a material weakness or significant deficiency and, therefore, a material weakness or significant deficiency may exist that was not identified.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. We did not detect a material weakness in the Plan's internal controls.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We identified the following significant deficiencies:

PLAN ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE

During audit inquiries performed, we noted management has not established a committee to oversee the Plan. The fiduciary guidelines of ERISA require the named fiduciaries of the Plan carry out due diligence in monitoring and administering Plan operations.

We recommend management implements a Plan Administrative Committee to oversee the fiduciary responsibilities of the Plan and holds regular meetings throughout the year. Formal documentation of meetings held should be documented and retained. While it is likely the operations of the Plan are being adequately managed and executed, without documented minutes of meetings held and decisions made by a Plan Administrative Committee, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to demonstrate management's due diligence in this area.

LATE CONTRIBUTION REMITTANCES

We noted deposits of employee deferrals do not appear to be made within the Department of Labor (DOL) guidelines. These delinquent deposits, and any other delinquent deposits not identified in our audit tests, should be corrected for lost participant earnings, and a Form 5330 filed with the Internal Revenue Service for the excise tax.

Current DOL policy states deposit of employee deferrals and loan payments must be made on the earliest date they can reasonably be segregated from the employer's general assets, but in no event later than the 15th business day of the month following the month in which the participant contributions are withheld or received by the employer. However, the DOL has made it clear the 15-day period is not a safe harbor and employee deferrals should be deposited as soon as the amounts can be segregated from the Organization's general assets. Segregated from the Organization's assets has been determined by the DOL to be the number of days in which the Organization has demonstrated it can deposit the funds with the Trustee based on prior history of deposits.

PLAN DOCUMENT REVIEW

During review of the Plan's restated adoption agreement, we identified the Plan was not operating in accordance with the Plan's provisions related to calculation and remittance of Employer discretionary contributions for non-union employees. We recommend the Plan administrator thoroughly reviews all plan documents, restatements and amendments to ensure the Plan is being operated in accordance with the Plan's provisions and all provisions adopted in restatements or amendments align with management's intentions and objectives. Additionally, employer discretionary contributions should be formally approved annually by plan management and documented.

Other Findings and Observations

We also noted certain matters involving the Plan's internal control and other operational matters that are presented for your consideration. This letter does not affect our report dated May 14, 2025, on the financial statements of Hope Services 401(k) Plan. We will review the status of these comments during our next audit engagement. Our comments and recommendations, all of which have been discussed with appropriate members of management, are intended to improve the internal control or result in other operating efficiencies. We will be pleased to discuss these comments in further detail at your convenience, perform any additional study of these matters, or assist you in implementing the recommendations. Our comments are summarized as follows:

REVIEW OF SERVICE PROVIDERS

During internal control walkthroughs performed, we noted the Plan Sponsor is not performing a formally documented review of the Plan Service providers internal control reports (SOC 1 reports) annually. We recommend management implements a control to formally review and document their review of all service providers SOC 1 reports.

DEFINITION OF COMPENSATION

During internal control walkthroughs performed over the Plan's definition of compensation, we noted the Plan Sponsor does not have controls in place to perform an annual review of all payroll earnings codes established in the payroll system and new codes created during the year, to ensure they are set up in compliance with the Plan's definition of compensation. We recommend management implements a control to review the payroll system earnings codes at the beginning of each year to ensure that the proper wage base is being calculated by the payroll system, for purposes of the employee contribution calculations. This should be formally documented annually.

PLAN EXPENSE

During internal control walkthroughs performed over administrative expenses paid by the Plan, we noted the Plan Sponsor does not have controls in place to perform a review of fees charged to the Plan to ensure the fees are appropriate and reasonable. We recommend management implements a control to periodically review fees charged to the Plan to ensure that the fees charged are appropriate and reasonable based on the service agreements in place with each of their third-party service providers and all expenses are in compliance with plan provisions.

USER ACCESS

During internal control walkthroughs performed over user access to certain information technology systems utilized by the Plan, we noted a formally documented review of user access rights as well as terminated users were not documented to ensure all users are authorized and to ensure that all terminated users are removed from all systems on a timely basis. We recommend management implements a control to perform a regular review of the user access list for their key third party service providers. This should be formally documented including the date the review was performed and who performed the review.

This information is intended solely for the information and use of the plan administrator and management of the Plan and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
