INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Trustees
NYSА-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of NYSА-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account, an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2024, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits of NYSА-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2024, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of NYSА-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about NYSА-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all plan amendments; administering the plan; and determining that the plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of NYSA-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about NYSA-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2024

Note 1 – DESCRIPTION OF THE PLAN AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) General

NYSA-PPGU Supplemental Payment Account (“Payment Account”) was established by the New York Shipping Association, Inc. (d/b/a Shipping Association of New York and New Jersey) (“NYSA”) to fulfill a multiemployer contractual commitment of its employer members under the Collective Bargaining Agreement between NYSA and the Port Police & Guards Union (“PPGU”) effective through December 31, 2025.

b) Contributions and Benefits

The employer members of NYSA (terminal operators and providers of security services) are assessed on a basis that will produce an annual fixed sum in an amount required by the Agreement. This amount, less administrative expenses, is then distributed during December of each year to eligible security officers (“participants”), subject to any applicable withholding taxes and union dues. The amount each participant receives is determined in accordance with an hours-worked formula agreed upon by NYSA and PPGU.

Annual contributions of $300,000 from NYSA (on behalf of its employer members) were funded in accordance with the Agreement.

c) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

d) Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires the Payment Account’s management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates.

NYSA-PPGU SUPPLEMENTAL PAYMENT ACCOUNT
DECEMBER 31, 2024

Note 2 – TAX STATUS

The Payment Account had no unrecognized tax benefits as of and for the year ended December 31, 2024 and has no open years subject to examination prior to the year ended December 31, 2023. The Payment Account has no income tax related penalties or interest for the period reported in the financial statements.

Note 3 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Payment Account evaluated its December 31, 2024 financial statements for subsequent events through July 29, 2025, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. The Payment Account is not aware of any subsequent events which would require recognition or disclosure in the accompanying financial statements.
