RE: 5500 late filing for year 2024 for Plan #282523

Dear Sir/Madam

Please consider this a reasonable cause letter. Hayes Testing Laboratory, Inc. closed their business in 2020 due to family issues. The owner Daniel Hayes, Sr. passed away in 2021.

Since the closing of HTL, I have been responsible for taking care of Hayes Testing Laboratory, Inc.'s financial issues such as the 5500, etc. His wife Shelba Hayes is 86 years old and is unable to take care of any part of business concerns for the now defunct company. She does receive all mail correspondence concerning the business.

As secretary/treasurer of the company I have continued to diligently take care of anything that arises for Mrs. Hayes even after 5 years of the business being closed. I recently lost my husband and have tried to continue to manage their affairs.

It was determined that there was an account with a $579.62 balance that had been set aside by ADP for administrative fees that triggered the filing of the 5500 for 2024. I was unaware of a balance until December 2024 at which time I was able to get the balance to zero out the account for the "final" filing of the 5500.

Mrs. Hayes received a letter from the IRS stating the 5500 had not been filed. Unfortunately ADP had transferred responsibility of reporting to a new company FIS Global. I was not aware of this change and was waiting for ADP to notify me that the 5500 was created and ready for me to file. In this day and age I find myself cautious of odd or unusual emails. I do not recall receiving anything stating the 5500 was ready.

Unfortunately because I was not notified that the 5500 was ready and that ADP had filed an extension for this "Final" 5500, Hayes Testing has incurred a late notice with penalties, interest, etc. and I would please ask if you could waive the late filing fee as it was unfortunate that we could not file on time. I am now writing 10 days later in the hope that you will consider this explanation reasonable cause to waive any and all fees for this final 5500.

Your consideration in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

Kathy A. Lane
