REQUIRED COMMUNICATIONS

The following required communications summarize our responsibilities regarding the financial statement audit as well as observations from our audit that are significant and relevant to your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process.

Our Responsibilities

We described our responsibilities under auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America to you in our engagement letter dated March 10, 2025. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve management or you of your responsibilities, which are also described in that letter.

As management determined it is permissible in the circumstances and elected to have the audit of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), the audit did not extend to any certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of the applicable financial reporting framework.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We have issued a separate communication dated March 10, 2025, regarding the planned scope and timing of our audit and identified significant risks.

Accounting Policies and Practices

Preferability of Accounting Policies and Practices
Under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, in certain circumstances, management may select among alternative accounting practices.

Adoption of, or Change in, Accounting Policies
Management has the ultimate responsibility for the appropriateness of the accounting policies used by the Plan. The Plan did not adopt any significant new accounting policies, nor have there been any changes in existing significant accounting policies during the current period.

Significant Accounting Policies
We did not identify any significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

Significant Unusual Transactions
We did not identify any significant unusual transactions.

Audit Adjustments and Uncorrected Misstatements

There were no audit adjustments made to the original trial balance presented to us to begin our audit.

We are not aware of any uncorrected misstatements other than misstatements that are clearly trivial.

Form 5500 Filing

GAAS requires that we obtain and read a draft of the Plan's Form 5500 that is substantially complete prior to the dating of our auditor's report in order to identify material inconsistencies, if any, with the Plan's audited financial statements. We read the Plan's draft Form 5500 filing for consistency with information in the financial statements. We did not identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements.

ERISA-Required Supplemental Schedule

We subjected the information included in the ERISA-required supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS. The objective of these audit procedures was to determine whether the ERISA-required supplemental schedule, other than the certified investment information, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements as a whole, whether the form and content of the ERISA-required supplemental schedule are presented in conformity with the Department of Labor's (DOL) Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure Under ERISA, and whether the certified investment information in the supplemental schedules agrees to, or is derived from, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C). We will include an other-matter paragraph in our auditor's report for the ERISA-required supplemental schedule(s). We did not identify inconsistencies with the audited financial statements or with the certified investment information.

Observations About the Audit Process

Disagreements With Management
We encountered no disagreements with management over the application of significant accounting principles, the basis for management's judgments on any significant matters, the scope of the audit, or significant disclosures to be included in the financial statements.

Consultations With Other Accountants
We are not aware of any consultations management had with other accountants about accounting or auditing matters.

Significant Issues Discussed With Management
No significant issues arising from the audit were discussed or were the subject of correspondence with management.

Significant Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit
We did not encounter any significant difficulties in dealing with management during the audit.

Significant Matters That Required Consultation
We did not encounter any difficult or contentious matters that required consultation outside the engagement team and that are, in our professional judgement.

Reportable Findings

In planning and performing the audit, we considered plan provisions relevant to designing audit procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the Plan's financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the Plan's compliance with those provisions. Our audit was not designed to identify all instances that the Plan is not operating in accordance with the Plan's provisions or other specified criteria that might be considered reportable findings.

A reportable finding is one or more of the following:

- A matter that is identified as an instance of noncompliance or suspected noncompliance with laws or regulations
- A finding arising from the audit that is significant and relevant to those charged with governance regarding their responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process
- A deficiency in internal control identified during the audit that has not been communicated to management by other parties that is of sufficient importance to merit management's attention

We are required to communicate reportable findings from the audit procedures performed relating to the plan provisions to you, in writing. We have included reportable findings that resulted in internal control deficiencies in Exhibit A.

Shared Responsibilities: AICPA Independence

The AICPA regularly emphasizes that auditor independence is a joint responsibility and is managed most effectively when management, audit committees (or their equivalents), and audit firms work together in considering compliance with American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) independence rules. For Rea & Associates, Inc. to fulfill its professional responsibility to maintain and monitor independence, management, the Plan Committee, and Rea & Associates, Inc. each play an important role.

Our Responsibilities

- AICPA rules require independence both of mind and in appearance when providing audit and other attestation services. Rea & Associates, Inc. is to ensure that the AICPA's General Requirements for performing non-attest services are adhered to and included in all letters of engagement.
- Maintain a system of quality management over compliance with independence rules and firm policies.

Your Responsibilities

- Timely inform Rea & Associates, Inc., before the effective date of transactions or other business changes, of the following:
  - New affiliates, directors or officers.
  - New beneficial owners of the Plan Sponsor's stock which have significant influence.
  - Change in corporate structure impacting affiliates such as add-on acquisitions or exits.
- Provide necessary affiliate information such as new or updated investment structure charts, as well as financial information required to perform materiality calculations needed for making affiliate determinations.
- Understand and conclude on the permissibility, prior to the Plan and its affiliates, including the Plan Sponsor, and the officers, directors or persons in a decision-making capacity, engaging in business relationships with Rea & Associates, Inc.
- Not entering into relationships resulting in close family members of Rea & Associates, Inc. covered persons temporarily or permanently acting as an officer, director or person in an accounting or financial reporting oversight role at the Plan or Plan Sponsor.

Internal Control Matters

We have separately communicated control deficiencies that are reportable findings in internal control over financial reporting identified during our audit of the financial statements, and this communication is attached as Exhibit A.

Significant Written Communications Between Management and Our Firm

Copies of significant written communications between our firm and the management of the Plan, including the representation letter provided to us by management, are attached as Exhibit B.

EXHIBIT A

Internal Control Matters

September 3, 2025

Plan Administrator and Plan Committee
Miller Weldmaster 401(k) Plan
Navarre, Ohio

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Miller Weldmaster 401(k) Plan (the Plan) as of December 31, 2024, and for the year then ended, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered relevant plan provisions and the Plan's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the Plan's compliance with those provisions or on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the Plan's compliance with plan provisions or on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

Our consideration of relevant plan provisions and internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all instances that the Plan is not operating in accordance with the Plan's provisions or deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Therefore, instances that the Plan is not operating in accordance with plan provisions or deficiencies in internal control, including material weaknesses or significant deficiencies, may exist that were not identified.

Instances where the Plan is not operating in accordance with plan provisions may be indicative of a deficiency in internal control. A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A deficiency in design exists when (a) a control necessary to meet the control objective is missing, or (b) an existing control is not properly designed so that, even if the control operates as designed, the control objective would not be met. A deficiency in operation exists when a properly designed control does not operate as designed or when the person performing the control does not possess the necessary authority or competence to perform the control effectively.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Following are descriptions of other identified deficiencies in internal control that we determined did not constitute significant deficiencies or material weaknesses:

Employee Demographic Data
During our audit, we noted there are insufficient controls in place to ensure that employee data matches between the recordkeeping system and payroll system. We noted certain employee data did not match between service providers, specifically date of hire, and therefore, alternative procedures were used to ensure the discrepancies did not affect Plan operations. In these instances we noted that these participants were not included on the Plan Census, despite being employed and having Plan balances at year end. It is important that employee data in the recordkeeping system be accurate since this is the data used for Plan operations and to ensure the plan's compliance with laws and regulations.

We recommend Plan management put policies and procedures into place to ensure employee data captured in the recordkeeping system is reviewed for accuracy and relevance for proper Plan operations.

Forfeiture Balances
During our audit, we found that forfeited account balances were not used in the year the forfeitures are generated pursuant to Plan provisions. The Internal Revenue Code (IRC) requires that these forfeited accounts be used pursuant to Plan provisions. We noted forfeitures used during the audit year are less than the forfeitures generated during the audit year, and that there is a balance of forfeitures at audit year end.

We recommend the Plan use or reallocate these forfeited accounts as soon as possible and plan management put in place a procedural control to monitor that all forfeitures created are used pursuant to Plan provisions. We also recommend Plan management consider consultation with ERISA counsel to determine if an official correction is necessary to ensure the Plan remains in compliance with ERISA and IRC regulations.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of the Plan Administrator, management, Plan Committee, and others within the Plan, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
