Report of Independent Auditors

To the Administrator of Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. Retiree Health Reimbursement Plan

Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit

We have performed an audit of the accompanying financial statements of Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. Retiree Health Reimbursement Plan (f/k/a The Dexter Corporation Postretirement Health Benefit Program) (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) (ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit). The financial statements comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2024, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

Management, having determined it is permissible in the circumstances, has elected to have the audit of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit need not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the plan (investment information) by a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency, provided that the statements or information regarding assets so held are prepared and certified to by the bank or similar institution or insurance carrier in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA (qualified institution).

Management has obtained certifications from a qualified institution as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 and for the year ended December 31, 2024 stating that the certified investment information, as described in Note 4 to the financial statements, is complete and accurate.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audit and on the procedures performed as described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report

- the amounts and disclosures in the accompanying financial statements, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
- the information in the accompanying financial statements related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Management's election of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit does not affect management's responsibility for the financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all plan amendments, administering the plan, and determining that the plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Except as described in the Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit section of our report, our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with US GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Our audit did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Other Matter – Supplemental Schedules Required by ERISA

The supplemental Schedule H, Line 4(i) - Schedule of Assets (Held at End of Year) as of December 31, 2024 and Schedule H, Line 4(j) – Schedule of Reportable Transactions for the year ended December 31, 2024 ("supplemental schedules"), are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements but are supplementary information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information included in the supplemental schedules, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with US GAAS. For information included in the supplemental schedules that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, we compared such information to the related certified investment information.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedules, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedules, other than the information agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, including their form and content, are presented in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. In our opinion

- the form and content of the supplemental schedules, other than the information in the supplemental schedules that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, are presented, in all material respects, in conformity with the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.
- the information in the supplemental schedules related to assets held by and certified to by a qualified institution agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by an institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

1. Description of Plan

The following description of the Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. Retiree Health Reimbursement Plan (the “Plan”) is provided for general information purposes only. Participants should refer to the amended and restated Plan document and summary plan description for a more complete description of the Plan’s provisions.

General

The Plan, formerly known as The Dexter Corporation Postretirement Health Benefit Program, was established on March 31, 1993 as a contributory plan to provide certain benefits related to life insurance and medical care and treatment for eligible retired employees of Dexter Corporation’s corporate office. In 2000, the Dexter Corporation merged with and into Life Technologies Corporation. In 2014, Life Technologies Corporation was acquired by Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. (the “Company” or current “Plan Sponsor”). Employees who were at least age 50 with at least 5 years of service on September 14, 2000, were eligible for the retiree medical program. Effective September 14, 2000, the Plan was amended to freeze participation of new entrants.

The Plan was renamed from The Dexter Corporation Postretirement Health Benefit Program to the Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. Retiree Health Reimbursement Plan effective January 1, 2022.

The Plan provides postretirement medical, dental and prescription drug health benefits to eligible retired employees of the Company, their beneficiaries, and covered dependents through a Retiree Health Reimbursement Arrangement (“HRA”) subsidy.

An eligible retiree is:

- a former employee of the Company who attained age 65 as of retirement or while covered under a retiree medical plan of the Company;
- a former employee of the corporate office and certain divested businesses of the Dexter Corporation who had retired and elected to participate in the Plan as of September 14, 2000; or
- a former employee of the corporate office of the Dexter Corporation who had met the Plan’s eligibility requirements (at least age 50 with at least 5 years of service with the Dexter Corporation) as of September 14, 2000.

The assets of the Plan are held in a qualified voluntary employee’s beneficiary association (“VEBA”) trust under Section 501(c)(9) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”).

Benefits

The Plan provides reimbursement via an HRA account for eligible medical, prescription drug, and dental benefits for participants who secure insurance coverage in an individual health plan through a private exchange. The Plan reimburses eligible expenses paid by participants, such as premiums for coverage, that do not exceed the participant’s HRA account balance. Expenses that exceed a participant’s HRA account balance will not be reimbursed. Eligible participants who do not use their entire annual HRA subsidy for reimbursement of eligible health care expenses during the calendar year will have any unused remaining balance carried forward in their HRA account to the next year. Payment of Plan benefits is administered by Willis Towers Watson, an unaffiliated third-party administrator (“TPA”). The recordkeeping functions related to the accumulation of participant HRA account balances are administered by the TPA. The Plan remits amounts due to the TPA from the general assets of the Company; qualifying eligible expenses may be reimbursed by the VEBA at the Company’s discretion. The Company is not required to fund the Plan annually and will make funding determinations to the VEBA on a year-by-year basis; amounts contributed to the Plan need not be placed in the VEBA. The Company has the ability to modify the amount of subsidy credit from time to time at its discretion without amending the Plan.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting and Use of Estimates

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, benefit obligations, and changes therein, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2024 and 2023

Payment of Benefits

Claims paid by the Company or the Plan's VEBA trust are recorded as such in the accompanying Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits. Claim payments are recorded when paid.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

Investments are measured at fair value. The Plan's interests in mutual funds are valued at net asset value at year-end. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2024 and 2023. See Note 5 for discussion of fair value measurements.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Net appreciation/(depreciation) includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

Administrative Expenses

The Plan pays administrative expenses such as recordkeeper, trustee, and actuarial fees, as well as audit, legal, consulting, and other costs associated with administrative functions of the Plan, which are reported on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Available for Benefits. Other expenses associated with administrative functions of the Plan that are paid for by the Company on behalf of the Plan are excluded from these financial statements.

Income Taxes

The Plan uses the asset and liability method to account for income taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and the income tax bases of assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates and laws that will be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS").

Risks and Uncertainties

Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the financial statements.

The actuarial present value of benefit obligations is reported based on certain assumptions pertaining to interest rates, and employee demographics, all of which are subject to change. Due to uncertainties inherent in the estimations and assumptions process, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in these estimates and assumptions in the near term could be material to the financial statements.

Subsequent Events

The Plan has evaluated events and transactions occurring through August 22, 2025, the date the financial statements were available to be issued, for recognition or disclosure in the financial statements and notes.

3. Postretirement Benefit Obligation

The postretirement benefit obligation represents the actuarial present value of the cost of estimated future benefits that are attributed by the terms of the Plan to employee service rendered to December 31, 2024. Postretirement benefits include future benefits expected to be paid to or for currently retired employees and their beneficiaries and dependents.

The actuarial present value of the expected postretirement benefit obligation is determined by an actuary and is the amount that results from applying actuarial assumptions to current and historical data to estimate future claim, and to adjust such estimates for the time value of money (through discounts for interest) and the probability of payment (by means of death) between the valuation date and the expected date of payment.

The significant actuarial assumptions used in the valuations as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 are as follows:

	2024	2023
Discount Rate	5.16%	4.63%
Mortality	Pri-2012 tables for employees and annuitants projected generationally using Scale MP-2021 with endemic adjustment for COVID-19	Pri-2012 tables for employees and annuitants projected generationally using Scale MP-2021 with endemic adjustment for COVID-19

Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. Retiree Health Reimbursement Plan
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2024 and 2023

These assumptions are based on the presumption that the Plan will continue. If the Plan were to terminate, then different actuarial assumptions and other factors might be applicable in determining the actuarial present value of the postretirement benefit obligation.

The following presents the Plan's benefit obligation at December 31:

	2024	2023
Retirees and dependents currently receiving benefits	$ 1,830,780	$ 2,166,384

The changes in the Plan's postretirement benefit obligation for the year ended December 31, 2024, are as follows:

Actuarial present value of postretirement benefit obligation as of December 31, 2023	$ 2,166,384
Increase/(decrease) during the year:
Changes in actuarial assumptions <sup>1</sup>	(41,390)
Benefits accumulated and plan experience	(43,247)
Benefit payments	(343,323)
Interest costs	92,356
Net decrease during the year	(335,604)
Actuarial present value of postretirement benefit obligation as of December 31, 2024	$ 1,830,780

<sup>1</sup> Represents the change in discount rate from 4.63% to 5.16%.

4. Information Certified by the Trustee

Certain information related to investments disclosed in the accompanying financial statements and supplemental schedules, including investments at fair value, dividends receivable, interest receivable, and payable for securities purchased at December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the net appreciation/(depreciation) in the fair value of investments, dividends and interest income for the year ended December 31, 2024, was obtained by management and agreed to or derived from information provided by The Bank of New York Mellon, the trustee of the Plan. The plan administrator has obtained certifications from the trustee that such information is complete and accurate.

5. Fair Value Measurements

The fair value accounting guidance requires that assets and liabilities carried at fair value be classified and disclosed in one of the following three categories:

Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Observable market based inputs or unobservable inputs that are corroborated by market data such as quoted prices, interest rates and yield curves;

Level 3: Inputs are unobservable data points that are not corroborated by market data.

The asset's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, all of the Plan's investments were mutual funds classified as level 1 in the fair value hierarchy.

6. Tax Status

The IRS has determined and informed the Company by letter, dated April 30, 2015, that the Plan's VEBA trust funding certain benefits of the plan is designed in accordance with applicable sections of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"). The Plan has been amended since the date of the determination letter. However, the plan administrator and Plan's ERISA counsel believe that the Plan is designed and is currently being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC.

As a result of the Plan's funding policy, from time to time the trust may be subject to income taxes on its unrelated business taxable income ("UBIT"). The definition of UBIT for VEBAs differs from that for other tax exempt organizations. VEBAs must pay taxes on the lesser of (1) its investment income, or (2) the amount by which the Company contribution exceeds the statutory account limit. The Federal UBIT tax rate was 37% in 2024 and 2023.

Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. Retiree Health Reimbursement Plan
December 31, 2024 and 2023

In addition, the Plan and the trust are required to operate in conformity with the IRC to maintain the tax-exempt status of the trust. The plan administrator believes that the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC and, therefore, believes that the related trust is tax-exempt, other than UBIT.

Income tax expense/(benefit) consists of the following:

		2024
Current income tax expense	$	189,718
Deferred income tax liability		125,626
Income tax expense	$	315,344

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to the deferred tax liabilities at December 31, 2024 and 2023 are presented below:

Deferred tax liability		2024		2023
Investments, principally due to net unrealized gains in market values of securities	$	560,686	$	435,060

The plan administrator has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan, and has concluded that as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require recognition of a liability or disclosure in the financial statements. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress. The plan administrator believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to 2019.

7. Plan Termination

The Company has the right under the Plan to modify the benefits provided to retirees, to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions set forth in ERISA. If the Company terminates or partially terminates the Plan, the trust will pay benefits that participants are entitled to receive under the terms of the Plan. The Plan may be amended in the future to provide other benefits from the excess, if any, of the assets over the benefits participants are entitled to receive under the terms of the Plan.

8. Parties-in-Interest and Related Party Transactions

Certain investments of the Plan are managed by Dreyfus, an affiliate of The Bank of New York Mellon, the trustee of the plan. Aon Investments USA Inc., an affiliate of Aon (the actuary of the plan), provides investment advisory services to the Plan. Therefore, these transactions also qualify as party-in-interest transactions under ERISA.
