Report of Independent Auditors

To the Management of Western Asset Management Company, LLC

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Western Asset Global Multi-Sector, L.L.C. (the “Fund”), which comprise the statement of net assets (in liquidation), including the schedule of investments (in liquidation), as of December 31, 2024, the related statement of changes in net assets (in liquidation) for the period from October 7, 2024 to December 31, 2024, and the statements of operations (going concern basis) and of changes in net assets (going concern basis) for the period from January 1, 2024 to October 6, 2024, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the “financial statements”).

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets (in liquidation) of the Fund as of December 31, 2024, the changes in its net assets (in liquidation) for the period from October 7, 2024 to December 31, 2024, and the results of its operations (going concern basis) and changes in its net assets (going concern basis) for the period from January 1, 2024 to October 6, 2024, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America applied on the bases described in Note 1 and 2.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Fund and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis of Accounting

As discussed in Note 1 and 2 to the financial statements, the Investment Manager of the Fund approved a plan of liquidation on October 7, 2024, and the Fund determined liquidation is imminent. As a result, the Fund changed its basis of accounting on October 7, 2024 from the going concern basis to a liquidation basis. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors’ Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statement

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors’ report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with US GAAS, we:

1. Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
2. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
3. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
4. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Western Asset Global Multi-Sector, L.L.C.
(A Delaware Limited Liability Company)
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2024
(Expressed in U.S. Dollars)

1. Organization and Investment Objective

Western Asset Global Multi-Sector, L.L.C. (the “Fund”) was formed on August 1, 2007 as a Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act. Western Asset Management Company, LLC (“WAM”), a California corporation, is the Fund’s Investment Manager (the “Investment Manager”). Western Asset Management Company Limited (“WAMCL”), Western Asset Management Company Pte. Ltd. (“Western Asset Singapore”), Western Asset Management Company Ltd. (“Western Asset Tokyo”), Western Asset Management Company Distribuidora de Títulos e Valores Mobiliários Limitada (“Western Asset Brazil”), and Western Asset Management Company Pty. Ltd. (“Western Asset Melbourne”) are the sub-investment managers to the Fund. The Bank of New York Mellon, a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation, is the custodian, transfer agent and administrator to the Fund.

The investment objective of the Fund is to maximize long-term total return, consistent with prudent investment management. Under normal market conditions, the Fund expects to invest at least 30% of its total net assets, either directly or indirectly through investments in other commingled investment vehicles, in debt and fixed income securities rated at the time of purchase at least Baa3 or BBB- by a nationally recognized rating agency such as Moody’s, S&P or Fitch, or that are of a comparable quality as determined by the Investment Manager. As a comparative benchmark, the Fund uses a blended index that is 50% Barclays Capital Global Aggregate Index (Unhedged), 25% J.P. Morgan Emerging Markets Bond Index Plus and 25% Barclays Capital U.S. Corporate High Yield 2% Issuer Capped Index (collectively, the “Blended Index”). The Fund expects that its Dollar-weighted average duration, including futures positions, will range between zero and plus two years of the duration of the Blended Index. Additionally, the Fund expects to maintain a Dollar-weighted average credit quality of portfolio holdings of at least BB- or its equivalent.

The Investment Manager decided to liquidate the Fund due to decreased net asset levels which did not allow the Investment Manager to manage the assets effectively. The liquidation of the Fund was considered imminent as of October 7, 2024 upon the plan of liquidation being approved by the Investment Manager. Additionally, the likelihood of the execution of the plan being blocked or the Fund returning from liquidation was remote and the liquidation was not imposed by other forces. The Fund began liquidation proceedings on October 7, 2024 and ceased investment operations on December 31, 2024. Beginning on December 31, 2024, the Fund expects to complete the liquidation within 180 days.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) for the period January 1, 2024 through October 6, 2024 (Going Concern Basis). In connection with the Fund’s liquidation, the Fund has adopted the liquidation basis of accounting in conformity with U.S. GAAP effective October 7, 2024.

(Expressed in U.S. Dollars)

Under the liquidation basis of accounting, assets and liabilities are measured at their estimated settlement amounts. The adoption of the liquidation basis of accounting did not have a material effect on the measurements of the assets and liabilities in liquidation. Assets were measured at amounts which represent the expected amounts to be received upon disposition. Liabilities were measured at the amounts expected to be paid in carrying out the plan of liquidation, which were estimated based on historical expenses incurred. As of December 31, 2024, the net settlement value of the Fund's assets was equal to their fair value. The Fund intends to distribute any residual cash to the shareholders, upon settlement of the remaining receivables and payables.

The Fund is an investment company which follows accounting and reporting guidance in the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification 946, Financial Services – Investment Companies.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements, in conformity with U.S. GAAP, requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Security Transactions and Investment Income

Security transactions are accounted for as of trade date. The cost of securities delivered and the net gain or loss on securities sold are determined using the first-in, first-out method. Interest income earned on securities is recorded net of applicable withholding taxes on the accrual basis. Interest income includes accretion of discounts and amortization of premiums which are recorded using the effective yield method. To the extent any issuer defaults or a credit event occurs that impacts the issuer, the Fund may halt any additional interest income accruals and consider the realizability of interest accrued up to the date of default or credit event.

Functional and Presentation Currency

Items included in the Fund's financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates. Issuances, redemptions, and valuations of the shares are effected and denominated in the U.S. Dollars ("USD").

Foreign Currency Translation/Transactions

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD amounts based upon prevailing exchange rates on the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD amounts based upon prevailing exchange rates on the respective dates of such transactions.

(Expressed in U.S. Dollars)

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from fluctuations in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included within the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments on the Statement of Operations (Going Concern Basis).

Net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, including exchange gains and losses on the settlement of forward foreign currency contracts, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the USD equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities and derivative contracts, on the date of valuation, resulting from changes in exchange rates.

Certain foreign security and currency transactions may involve considerations and risks not typically associated with those of USD denominated transactions as a result of, among other factors, the possibility of lower levels of governmental supervision and regulation of foreign securities markets and the possibility of political or economic instability.

Income Taxes

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Fund is treated as a partnership. The shareholders are required to report their respective portion of the Fund's taxable income or loss on their own income tax returns and are liable for any related taxes thereon. Accordingly, no provision for federal or state taxes is made in the Fund's financial statements.

The Fund's federal and state income tax returns for the tax years for which the applicable statute of limitations have not expired are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service or state departments of revenue. There are currently no examinations being conducted of the Fund by the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority.

The Fund is subject to the authoritative guidance with respect to accounting for and disclosure of uncertainty in tax positions, which requires the Fund to determine whether a tax position is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. Management has analyzed the Fund's tax positions for all open tax years and has concluded that as of December 31, 2024, there are no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement recognition or disclosure. The Fund's policy is to recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain tax positions as a component of income tax expense.

The Fund recognizes interest and penalties related to the underpayment of income taxes in operating expenses within the Statement of Operations (Going Concern Basis). During the year ended December 31, 2024, no such interest and penalties were incurred.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Issuances and Redemptions of Shares of Participation

The net asset value of the Fund is determined on the relevant “Dealing Day”. A Dealing Day is every business day on which federal, state or local banks are open for business in New York and the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading. Issuances and redemptions of Fund shares are made on such days, based upon the closing net asset value.

The Investment Manager may temporarily suspend the determination of the net asset value of the Fund, and the issuance and redemption of the Fund’s shares, and may postpone the date of payment of redemption proceeds if, among other reasons, during any period when it is not reasonably practicable for the Investment Manager to fairly determine the value of the Fund’s net assets. There were no such occurrences during the year ended December 31, 2024.

Distributions to Shareholders

Net investment income distributions and net realized or unrealized gains distributions will not be declared by the Fund on a regular basis, but may, however, be authorized and paid at such times as may be determined by the Investment Manager. There were no such distributions during the year ended December 31, 2024.

3. Valuation

The Fund has adopted procedures for determining the fair value of its investments each Dealing Day. Under these procedures, the Fund has delegated its authority to a pricing committee governed by the Investment Manager to determine the value of the Fund’s investments each Dealing Day. The notes below describe in greater detail the methodologies used to value the Fund’s investments.

The Fund uses both the income and market approaches to establish the fair value of its investments. Use of particular techniques and inputs may vary over time based on availability and relevance as market and economic conditions evolve.

The Investment Manager considers pricing techniques it deems relevant and appropriate when making fair value determinations. When determining the reliability of third-party pricing information for investments owned by the Fund, the Investment Manager, among other things, conducts due diligence reviews of pricing vendors, monitors the daily change in prices, and reviews transactions among market participants. In addition, prices which change from the prior day by greater than a pre-established threshold will be verified against additional pricing sources, when available, or by evaluation of verifiable changes to the model inputs that impacted the resulting fair value.

Exchange traded options, warrants, and publicly traded U.S. and non-U.S. equity securities are generally valued at the official closing price of, or the last reported sale price on, the exchange or market on which such securities are traded, as of the close of business on the day the securities are being valued or, lacking any sales, at the last available bid price. Futures contracts are valued at the last settlement price at the end of each day on the board of trade or exchange upon which they are traded.

3. Valuation (Continued)

Fixed-income securities, including short-term securities purchased with more than 60 days left to maturity, are generally valued at prices obtained from one or more pricing vendors. Vendors value such securities based on one or more inputs described in the following table. The table provides examples of inputs that are commonly relevant for valuing particular classes of fixed-income securities, in which the Fund is authorized to invest. However, these classifications are not exclusive, and any of the inputs may be used to value any other class of fixed-income security.

Fixed-income class and Derivatives	Examples of inputs
All	All benchmark yields, transactions, bids, offers, quotations from dealers and electronic trading systems, spreads and other relationships observed in the markets among comparable securities; and proprietary pricing models such as yield measures calculated using factors such as cash flows, financial or collateral performance and other reference data (collectively referred to as “standard inputs”).

Where the Investment Manager deems it appropriate to do so (such as when vendor prices are unavailable or not deemed to be representative), fixed income securities will be valued in good faith at the mean quoted bid and asked prices that are reasonably and timely available or at prices for securities of comparable maturity, quality and type.

Short-term securities purchased within 60 days to maturity are valued at amortized cost, which approximates fair value.

Securities and investments for which representative market quotations are not readily available or are considered unreliable are fair valued in good faith by the Investment Manager. Various inputs may be reviewed in order to make a good faith determination of a security's fair value. These inputs include, but are not limited to, the type and cost of the security; contractual or legal restrictions on resale of the security; relevant financial or business developments of the issuer; actively traded similar or related securities; conversion or exchange rights on the security; related corporate actions; significant events occurring after the close of trading in the security; and changes in overall market conditions. Fair valuations and valuations of investments that are not actively trading involve judgment and may differ materially from valuations that would have been used had greater market activity occurred.

If third-party evaluated vendor pricing is neither available nor deemed to be indicative of fair value, the Investment Manager may elect to obtain indicative market quotations ("broker quotes") directly from a broker-dealer. Indicative market quotations are typically received from established market participants. The Investment Manager has requested transparency to view the underlying inputs which support these market quotations. When transparency to the underlying inputs is received from the broker then the security may be considered Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy if the inputs are observable. If the inputs are not transparent or are found to be unobservable, then the securities are categorized as Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

If broker quotations are not received as of the valuation date, the most recent available broker quotation(s) may be used. However, adjustments are made to the most recent broker quotation(s) based on interpolated changes in the yields of associated benchmark securities from the date upon which the broker quotation was received to the valuation date. Typically, benchmark securities are comprised of certain treasury securities with standard maturities. Specifically, the interpolated change in the yield is calculated using an interpolation factor which measures the duration of the security being priced versus the duration of the benchmark securities with durations immediately greater than and less than the security being priced. The interpolated yield change is then applied to the duration of the security to calculate the implied change in price.

Over-the-counter financial derivative instruments, such as forward foreign currency contracts, options contracts, swaptions contracts, or swap agreements, derive their value from underlying asset prices, indices, reference rates, and other inputs or a combination of these factors. These contracts are normally valued on the basis of pricing service providers or broker dealer quotations. Depending on the product and the terms of the transaction, the value of financial derivative instruments can be estimated by a pricing service provider using a series of techniques, including simulation pricing models. The pricing models use inputs that are observed from actively quoted markets such as issuer details, indices, spreads, interest rates, yield curves, and exchange rates.

Centrally cleared swaps transacted on a multilateral or trade facility platform, such as a registered exchange, are valued at the daily settlement price determined by the respective exchange. For centrally cleared credit default swaps, the clearing facility requires its members to provide actionable price levels across complete term structures. These levels along with external third-party prices are used to produce daily settlement prices. Centrally cleared interest rate swaps are valued using a pricing model that references the underlying rates including the overnight index swap rate and Secured Overnight Financing Rate forward rate to produce the daily settlement price. These securities are categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The various inputs that are used in determining the fair value of the Fund's assets and liabilities are summarized into the broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 – quoted prices in active markets for identical investments.
- Level 2 – other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 – significant unobservable inputs, including the Investment Manager's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments. Level 3 fair value techniques include (i) the use of proprietary models that require the use of judgment and the application of various assumptions including, but not limited to, prepayment assumptions and default rate assumptions, and (ii) the solicitation of valuations from third-parties (typically, broker-dealers). Third-party valuation providers often utilize proprietary models that are subjective and also require the use of judgment and the application of various assumptions including, but not limited to, prepayment assumptions and default rate assumptions.

The valuation levels are not necessarily an indication of the risk or liquidity associated with investing in those securities.

6. Investment Manager Fee

The Investment Manager's fee is not charged to the Fund, but is paid directly by the shareholders in the Fund to the Investment Manager.

7. Loans, Loan Participations and Loan Assignments

The Fund may acquire loans, by acting as a member of the original lending syndicate of the loans or through an assignment from another lender, and may also purchase loan participations (i.e., participation interests in other lenders' portions of loans). The underlying portfolio may also include loans, loan participations and other types of loans, including bridge loans and debtor-in-possession facilities.

7. Loans, Loan Participations and Loan Assignments (Continued)

Investments in loans and loan participations may subject the Fund to liquidity risk. Loans and loan participations may be transferable among financial institutions, but may not have the liquidity of conventional debt securities and are often subject to restrictions on resale, such as the need for the consent of the lead or agent bank of the loan or the borrower, thereby making them potentially illiquid.

Certain of the loan participations or assignments acquired by the Fund may involve unfunded commitments of the lenders or revolving credit facilities under which a borrower may from time to time borrow and repay amounts up to the maximum amount of the facility. In such cases, the Fund would have an obligation to advance its portion of such additional borrowings upon the terms specified in the loan documentation. Such an obligation may have the effect of requiring the Fund to increase its investment in a company at a time when it might not be desirable to do so, including at a time when the company's financial condition makes it unlikely that such amounts will be repaid.

At December 31, 2024, the Fund did not have any unfunded loan commitments.

8. Collateralized Mortgage Obligations

The Fund may invest in collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMOs"), which are a type of bonds secured by an underlying pool of mortgages or mortgage pass-through certificates that are structured to direct payments on underlying collateral to different series or classes of the obligations. Such investment may include, but are not limited to the following classes of CMOs: adjustable rate bonds, floating rate bonds, planned amortization bonds or targeted amortization bonds. Moreover, the Fund may invest in stripped CMOs, which are created by separating bonds into their principal and interest components and selling each piece separately. Stripped CMOs are more volatile than other fixed income securities in their response to change in market interest rates. The value of some stripped CMOs moves in the same direction as interest rates, further increasing their volatility.

9. Asset-Backed Securities

The Fund may invest in asset-backed securities ("ABSs"), which are a type of financial security which are typically backed by a pool of loan, lease or other type of assets excluding real estate or mortgage-backed securities. This pool of assets is typically a group of illiquid assets which are unable to be sold individually. An investor will invest into a specific tranche of the loan pool with each tranche having a different risk profile. More senior tranches typically have a higher credit rating and lower coupon rates and junior tranches typically have a lower credit rating and higher coupon rate.

10. Mortgage-Backed Securities

The Fund may invest in mortgage-backed securities ("MBSs"), which are a type of financial security that are typically secured by a mortgage or a pool of mortgages. A MBS must originate from a regulated and authorized financial institution and it can either be related to residential or commercial real estate. The structure of a MBS is sometimes known as a "pass-through", where the interest and principal payments made by a borrower are passed through to the MBS investor.

11. Forward Foreign Currency Contracts

The Fund may enter into a forward foreign currency contract to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risk on its non-USD denominated securities and shares or to facilitate settlement of a foreign currency denominated portfolio transaction. A forward foreign currency contract is an agreement between two parties to buy and sell a currency at a set price with delivery and settlement at a future date. The contract is marked to market daily and the change in value is recorded by the Fund as an unrealized gain or loss. When a forward foreign currency contract is closed, through either delivery of the currencies or offset by entering into another forward foreign currency contract, the Fund recognizes a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value of the contract at the time it is closed.

Forward foreign currency contracts involve elements of market risk in excess of the amounts reflected on the Statement of Net Assets (In Liquidation). The Fund bears the risk of an unfavorable change in the foreign exchange rate underlying the forward foreign currency contract. Risks may also arise upon entering into these contracts from the potential inability of the counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts.

12. Futures Contracts

The Fund may use futures contracts to manage exposure to the relevant markets. Buying futures increases a fund's exposure to the underlying instrument. Selling futures decreases a fund's exposure to the underlying instrument, or allows the fund to hedge other fund investments. Futures contracts involve, to varying degrees, credit and market risks.

Futures contracts are valued based upon their quoted daily settlement prices. Upon entering into a futures contract, the Fund is required to deposit with its futures broker, an amount of cash, U.S. Government and Agency Obligations, or select sovereign debt, in accordance with the initial margin requirements of the broker, board of trade, or exchange. U.S. Government and Agency Obligations deposited as initial margin are included within the Schedule of Investments (In Liquidation), and cash is recorded on the Statement of Net Assets (In Liquidation) in Due from Broker. Futures contracts are marked to market daily and an appropriate payable or receivable for the change in value ("variation margin") is recorded within the Statement of Operations (Going Concern Basis) and within "Due to/from Broker" on the Statement of Net Assets (In Liquidation). Gains or losses are recognized but not considered realized until the contracts expire or are closed.

The Fund enters into futures contracts only on exchanges or boards of trade where the exchange or board of trade acts as the counterparty to the transaction. Thus, credit risk on such transactions is limited to the failure of the exchange or board of trade. Losses in value may arise from changes in the value of the underlying instruments or if there is an illiquid secondary market for the contracts. In addition, there is the risk that there may not be an exact correlation between a futures contract and the underlying instrument.

13. Options

The Fund may purchase and write call and put options to increase and decrease their exposure to underlying instruments (including interest rate risk) and/or, in the case of options written, to generate gains from options premiums. A call option gives the purchaser (holder) of the option the right (but not the obligation) to buy, and obligates the seller (writer) to sell (when the option is exercised) the underlying instrument at the exercise or strike price at any time or at a specified time during the option period. A put option gives the holder the right to sell and obligates the writer to buy the underlying instrument at the exercise or strike price at any time or at a specified time during the option period. When the Fund purchases (writes) an option, an amount equal to the premium paid (received) by the Fund is reflected as an asset (liability). The amount of the asset (liability) is subsequently marked-to-market to reflect the current market value of the option purchased (written). When an instrument is purchased or sold through an exercise of an option, the related premium paid (or received) is added to (or deducted from) the basis of the instrument acquired or deducted from (or added to) the proceeds of the instrument sold. When an option expires (or the Fund enters into a closing transaction), the Fund realizes a gain or loss on the option to the extent of the premiums received or paid (or gain or loss to the extent the cost of the closing transaction exceeds the premiums received or paid). When the Fund writes a call option, such option is “covered”, meaning that the Fund holds the underlying instrument subject to being called by the option counterparty. When the Fund writes a put option, such option is covered by cash in an amount sufficient to cover the obligation.

Options on swaps (swaptions) are similar to options on securities except that instead of selling or purchasing the right to buy or sell a security, the writer or purchaser of the swap option is granting or buying the right to enter into a previously agreed upon interest rate or credit default swap agreement (interest rate risk and/or credit risk) at any time before the expiration of the option.

In purchasing and writing options, the Fund bears the risk of an unfavorable change in the value of the underlying instrument or the risk that the Fund may not be able to enter into a closing transaction due to an illiquid market. Exercise of a written option could result in the Fund purchasing or selling a security when it otherwise would not, or at a price different from the current market value.

The above ratios are calculated for the participating shares as a whole. An individual shareholder's total return and ratios may vary from these ratios based on the timing of capital share transactions.

16. Derivative Instruments

The Fund may transact in a variety of derivative instruments including futures, forwards and options for trading purposes with each instrument's primary risk exposure being foreign exchange or interest rate risk.

The following tables provide information about the effect of derivatives within the Fund's Statement of Operations (Going Concern Basis) for the period January 1, 2024 to October 6, 2024. The first table provides additional detail about the amounts and sources of gains or losses realized on derivatives during the period. The second table provides additional information about the change in unrealized gain (loss) resulting from the Fund's derivatives during the period. The realized and unrealized gains and losses from derivatives are presented as separate line items on the Statement of Operations (Going Concern Basis).

17. Fund Investment Risks

Lower-Rated Securities Risk

The Fund may invest in lower-rated securities, which are commonly referred to as “junk bonds” or “high yield” bonds. Lower-rated securities reflect a greater possibility that adverse changes in the financial condition of the issuer or in general economic conditions, or an unanticipated rise in interest rates, may impair the ability of the issuer to make payments of interest and principal. Additionally, lower-rated securities are generally less liquid than higher-rated securities. The inability or perceived inability of issuers to make timely payments of interest and principal and limitations in liquidity would likely make the values of securities held by the Fund more volatile and could limit the Fund’s ability to sell its securities at prices approximating the values placed on such securities.

Investment in Emerging Market Issuers

The Fund may invest in emerging market instruments which are subject to certain credit and market risks. The securities and currency markets of emerging market countries are generally smaller, less developed, less liquid and more volatile than the securities and currency markets of the United States and other developed markets. Disclosure and regulatory standards in many respects are less stringent than in other developed markets. There also may be a lower level of monitoring and regulation of securities markets in emerging market countries and the activities of investors in such markets and enforcement of existing regulations may be extremely limited. Political and economic structures in many of these countries may be in their infancy and developing rapidly, and such countries may lack the social, political and economic stability characteristics of more developed countries.

Investment in Mortgage-Backed Securities

Investments in securities collateralized by residential real estate mortgages are subject to certain credit and liquidity risks. When market conditions result in an increase in default rates of the underlying mortgages and the foreclosure values of underlying real estate properties are materially below the outstanding amount of these underlying mortgages, collection of the full amount of accrued interest and principal on these investments may be doubtful. Such market conditions may significantly impair the value of these investments resulting in a lack of correlation between their credit ratings and values.

Investment in Non-U.S. Securities

The Fund invests in securities of non-U.S. issuers which present certain special risks, including those resulting from future political, legal, and economic developments, which could include changes in currency exchange rates or exchange control regulations, expropriation of assets, confiscatory taxation, nationalization of assets, imposition of withholding or other taxes, adverse changes in investment capital or exchange control regulations, political changes, diplomatic developments, difficulty in obtaining and enforcing judgments against non-U.S. entities, the possible imposition of the applicable country’s governmental laws or restrictions, and the reduced availability of public information concerning issuers. Additionally, issuers of non-U.S. securities are not generally subject to uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards or other regulatory practices and requirements comparable to those applicable to U.S. issuers. In the event of nationalization, expropriation or other confiscation of assets, the Fund could lose its entire investment in a security.

The costs associated with investment in debt securities of non-U.S. issuers, including withholding taxes, brokerage commissions and custodial fees, may be higher than those associated with investment in debt securities of U.S. issuers. In addition, non-U.S. securities transactions may be subject to difficulties associated with the settlement of such transactions. Non-U.S. markets have different clearance and settlement procedures which in some markets have at times failed to keep pace with the volume of transactions, thereby creating substantial delays and settlement failures. Delays in settlement could result in temporary periods when assets of the Fund are uninvested and no return is earned thereon. Settlement failures could also adversely affect the Fund's performance. The inability of the Fund to make intended security purchases due to settlement problems could cause it to miss attractive investment opportunities. Inability to dispose of a portfolio security due to settlement problems could result in losses to the Fund due to subsequent declines in value of the portfolio security.

Sovereign Debt Risk

The Fund may invest in sovereign debt instruments which can involve a high degree of risk. The governmental entity that controls the repayment of sovereign debt may not be able or willing to repay the principal and/or interest when due in accordance with the terms of the debt. A governmental entity's willingness or ability to repay principal and interest when due may be affected by, among other factors, its cash flow situation, the extent of its reserves, the availability of sufficient foreign exchange on the date a payment is due, the relative size of the debt service burden to the economy as a whole, the governmental entity's policy toward the International Monetary Fund, the political constraints to which a governmental entity may be subject, and changes in governments and political systems.

Non-Publicly Traded and Rule 144A Securities Risk

The Fund may invest in non-publicly traded and Rule 144A securities which may involve a high degree of business and financial risk and may result in substantial losses. These securities may be less liquid than publicly traded securities, and the Fund may take longer to liquidate these positions than would be the case for publicly traded securities. Although these securities may be resold in privately negotiated transactions, the prices realized from these sales could be less than those originally paid by the Fund. Further, companies whose securities are not publicly traded may not be subject to the disclosure and other investor protection requirements that would be applicable if their securities were publicly traded. Consequently, these securities may be difficult to value.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that fixed income securities will decline in value because of changes in interest rates. As nominal interest rates rise, the value of certain fixed income securities held by the Fund is likely to decrease. A nominal interest rate can be described as the sum of a real interest rate and an expected inflation rate. Fixed income securities with longer durations tend to be more sensitive to changes in interest rates, usually making them more volatile than securities with shorter durations. Duration is used primarily as a measure of the sensitivity of a fixed income's market price to interest rate (i.e., yield) movements.

Liquidity Risk

The Fund may invest in assets and derivatives that may not be readily available to sell or dispose of, including securities whose disposition is restricted by securities laws. The effect of liquidity risk is particularly pronounced when low trading volume, lack of a market maker, large position size, or legal restrictions (including daily price fluctuation limits or "circuit breakers" or an affiliation with the issuer of a security) limit or prevent the Fund's ability to initiate a transaction, sell assets, or unwind derivative positions at desirable prices. The Fund is also exposed to liquidity risk when it has an obligation to purchase particular securities (for example, as a result of entering into reverse repurchase agreements, writing a put, or closing out a short position).

Concentration of Risk

To the extent the Fund concentrates its investments in one or more countries, the value of the Fund's assets will be especially affected by economic, political and other factors affecting such country or countries, and may fluctuate more widely than the value of a fund that invests in a greater number of countries.

Derivative Instruments Risk

The Fund may invest in various derivatives which may present additional risks and costs that are different from and, in certain cases, greater than the risks and costs presented by investing directly in securities and other more traditional investments. Following are additional risk factors concerning the use of derivatives:

- Management Risk: Derivative products are specialized instruments that require investment techniques and risk analyses different from those associated with stocks and bonds. The successful use of derivatives requires sophisticated management and an understanding not only of the underlying instrument but also of the derivative itself. In particular, the use and complexity of derivatives require the maintenance of adequate controls to monitor the transactions entered into, and the ability to assess the risk that a derivative adds to the Fund's portfolio.

- Counterparty Credit Risk: The use of derivatives subjects the Fund to the risk that the counterparty will not be able or willing to make timely settlement payments or otherwise meet its obligations, especially during unusually adverse market conditions. If the counterparty defaults, the Fund will have contractual remedies, but the Fund may be unable to enforce its contractual rights. Counterparty risk is more pronounced if a counterparty's obligations exceed the amount of collateral held by the Fund (if any), the Fund is unable to exercise its interest in collateral upon default by the counterparty, or the termination value of the instrument varies significantly from the marked-to-market value of the instrument.
- Documentation Risk: Many derivative instruments have documentation risk. Because the contract for each over-the-counter derivative transaction is individually negotiated with a specific counterparty, there exists the risk that the parties may interpret contractual terms differently. If that occurs, the cost and unpredictability of the legal proceedings required for the Fund to enforce its contractual rights may lead the Fund to decide not to pursue its claims against the counterparty. The Fund, therefore, assumes the risk that it may be unable to obtain payments the Investment Manager believes are owed to them under derivatives instruments or those payments may be delayed or made only after the Fund has incurred the costs of litigation.

18. Contingencies and Commitments

In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties, which provide general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. Based on experience, management is of the view that the risk of loss in connection with these potential indemnification obligations is remote; however, there can be no assurance that material liabilities related to such obligations will not arise in the future that could adversely impact the business of the Fund.

19. Subsequent Events

As of March 25, 2025, the date the financial statements were available to be issued, no subsequent events or transactions had occurred that would have materially impacted the financial statements as presented.
