To whom it may concern:

I'm submitting this reasonable cause late letter to help explain the late filing. We sold our business at the end of 2022 and began closing all our accounts out at the beginning of 2023. Paychex was helping manage our 401k retirement plan and we worked with them over the first couple of months to make sure the plan was closed out. Our franchisor allowed our emails to remain active for a few months while we finalized everything with all our vendors. We had advised Paychex that our emails would be shut down and once they confirmed everything was good, they were shut off. Unfortunately, Paychex didn't communicate that a final 5500SF would need to be filed or that they would need a new email to send it to once prepared. Supposedly, the prepared form was sent to our closed emails for us to file and we never received.

Late last week we received a letter in the mail from the IRS stating that the 5500SF for plan year ending in 12/31/23 was not filed. We were not aware of this at the time of closing the account nor did Paychex request a new email once they shut down our online portal that was used in the past for these forms. We sincerely apologize for this missed filing as this final filing was not mentioned to us prior to all the accounts closing. We've never sold a business before and were relying heavily on our partners, accountant and vendors to help make sure no steps were missed. Unfortunately, this appears to be one that was missed and a missed communication from our payroll provider. We are really hoping to avoid any late fees as part of this late filing and would like to make sure everything is properly closed out. Thank you for your time and review on this request.

Sincerely,

Christopher Miller
