The plan sponsor reasonably believed that the annual Form 5500 filings for the plan years 2023 and 2024 were being handled by the company's payroll provider as part of its retirement plan administration services. Based on prior practice and communications, the plan sponsor understood that required compliance filings were included within the scope of those services.

In 2025, while completing the formal termination of the plan, the plan sponsor discovered that the Forms 5500 for the 2023 and 2024 plan years had not been filed. Upon learning of the oversight, the plan sponsor acted promptly to gather the necessary information and submit the delinquent filings.

The failure to file was unintentional and resulted from a reasonable reliance on a third-party service provider, not from willful neglect. Corrective action was taken immediately upon discovery, and all required filings are now being submitted to bring the plan into full compliance.
